IN MEMORY OF YEARS OF FAITHFUL SERVICE

In honor of the late Roger L. Niles, a dedicated public servant, the Board of Selectmen this year inaugurated the Roger Niles Memorial Award which is to be given each year to that town employee considered to be the "unsung hero".

The award this year was presented to Mr. Matthew Fahey, custodian of the Town Hall and Keeper of the Lock Up.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

SELECTMEN'S REPORT

Telescoping the events of a year just past into a capsule report is difficult. Hindsight may look easy but is often deceptive. Generalizations may sound good, but they too may be inaccurate.

Of one thing your Selectmen are confident, however. As the year ending December 31, 1964 has been a good year for Randolph, so too do we expect great progress in the year ahead.

The March election and town meeting resulted in two happenings of more than passing significance. For the first time since 1959 there was no change in personnel on the Board of Selectmen; a governmental team in many ways is similar to an athletic team — working together causes greater efficiency. Thus we are proud that we five, as individuals of varying backgrounds, work, not through cliques or blocs, but as a team. Added to the team, by overwhelming vote of the Town Meeting Members has been an Executive Secretary. Realizing that the success of the system might well depend on the first Executive Secretary your Selectmen conducted exhaustive interviews, conferred with 23 applicants and after much deliberation chose the best candidate — Henry Lowd. His tireless efforts have proven to us, and to all Randolph, that our choice was well made.

Your Selectmen, as "Town Fathers" are aided regularly by other members of the team — department heads and their personnel, boards, commissions, etc. As she has since 1961, Mary Nelson, continues to serve as our Secretary. No board could ask for a finer all-round worker.

We do not work in a vacuum. You the public are our masters. To enable you to learn of "town hall's" daily events, all of which profoundly affect all of us, two newspapers regularly cover meetings of the Board of Selectmen. To Albert Willis of the Brockton Enterprise and Cornelius Noonan of the Patriot Ledger goes our respect; their reports are generally exhaustive and accurate. Their occasional critiques at us prove to all that they are not controlled by the Selectmen — or by any group, and this is the watchword of responsible journalism, the foundation of an educated public opinion.

Certain trends and events of 1964 deserve special mention. We meet weekly. Our meetings are better attended than ever before. More citizens drop in to observe government in action. More groups of citizens have presented diverse problems to us than ever before. MORE PROBLEMS HAVE BEEN SOLVED THAN EVER BEFORE. Solutions often require coordinated effort by many persons. We are pleased that coordination is at an all time high. We are proud that Randolph is a town where the average citizen does not have to "go fight City Hall"!

ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY-NINTH ANNUAL REPORT

The many complimentary letters received from citizens of the town thanking us for the aid and assistance rendered by the various town departments have been most encouraging.

In closing let us reaffirm that your Selectmen are always willing to meet with anyone, any time, and almost anywhere to discuss the welfare of Randolph and all its citizens.

BOARD OF SELECTMEN

NORMAN B. SILK, Chairman

REPORT OF THE EXECUTIVE SECRETARY

To the members of the Board of Selectmen and to all other citizens of Randolph it is my pleasure to report in summary my activities as Executive Secretary since my appointment on July 1st last.

To the end that the most efficient and economical administration of local government may be obtained, I have made every effort to:

1. See that the orders and policies of the Board of Selectmen are carried out.
2. Encourage closer co-operation among and between Commissions, Boards, Heads of Departments and Employees.
3. Furnish information on matters coming before the Board of Selectmen for decision.
4. Supervise the preparation of the Town Report and such other reports as the Board of Selectmen required from time to time together with recommendations therewith.
5. Investigate and answer complaints or refer them to the proper department for attention or, upon request, made recommendations to the Board of Selectmen with respect thereto.

In addition, I have at all times acted as public relations and liason officer between the departments of the town and its citizens as well as such other functions as the Board of Selectmen have assigned from time to time.

Respectfully submitted,

HENRY L. LOWD
Executive Secretary

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

REPORT OF THE TOWN COUNSEL

Gentlemen:

The Town Report of the Legal Department is as follows:

As in the many past years, this Department has always been ready and willing to give its advice and counsel to the various Town departments at any time. Many of the opinions asked for resulted in extensive research, and on other occasions the Department was able to draw on the benefit of a previous similar experience.

The year commenced with the usual consultations concerning articles for the Annual Warrant followed by drafting and casting many of the same into final form.

The late Winter and early Spring saw the advent of a number of appeal cases which had to be tried before the Appellate Tax Board of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. An unusual case developed in the late Spring and early Summer involving the question of referendum with reference to pay raises for town employees. This case was tried in the Superior Court.

The Town was involved in sundry types of litigation varying from the District Court level to the Supreme Court throughout the year.

I would like to extend my sincere thanks to the various departments for their co-operation in providing me with the facts necessary for the preparation, trial and disposition of the Town cases.

Very truly yours,

WILLIAM J. CARR
Town Counsel

QUESTION #5

LAW PROPOSED BY INITIATIVE PETITION

"Do you approve of a law summarized below which was disapproved in the House of Representatives by a vote of 109 in the affirmative and 109 in the negative and was disapproved in the Senate by a vote of 16 in the affirmative and 20 in the negative?

SUMMARY

The proposed measure provides that henceforth appointments in the executive branch of the government shall not require the advice and consent of the Governor's Council. Exceptions to this provision include appointments to the Youth Service Board, Industrial Accident Board, Commission of the Department of Public Utilities, Parole Board and Appellate Tax Board, which appointments shall continue to require Council action. However, should the Council fail to act upon such appointments within thirty calendar days, then the person involved shall be deemed to have been lawfully appointed. Any appointment in the executive branch by an officer other than the Governor which heretofore required Council approval shall henceforth require approval by the Governor.

Removals from office shall no longer require the advice and consent of the Council, except in the case of the Youth Service Board, which removals must still receive Council approval. As in the case of appointments still requiring Council approval, such recommended removal from the Youth Service Board must be acted upon by the Council within thirty calendar days; otherwise the proposed removal shall become effective as if the approval had been given. In the case of any appointment which heretofore required Council approval the Governor may, within fifteen days of the making of the appointments, remove the person appointed without cause.

The Council shall no longer be required to approve the fixing of any compensation for services rendered in the executive department. And henceforth there need be no approval by the Council of actions or agreements by executive officers, including but not limited to borrowings and loans, investments, leases, licenses, purchases and conveyances, and contracts, and also including the promulgation of rules and regulations.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Governor shall at all times remain free to seek the advice and consent of the Council upon any matter."

RE-ALIGNMENT OF VOTING PRECINCTS

On the opposite page you will find a map of the Town showing the revised boundary lines of the voting precincts and reflecting the increase from four to six. Early in 1964, the Board of Selectmen began a study of the advisability of increasing the number of precincts from four to five. However, it became apparent during the course of the November Presidential Election that in order to provide the citizens of the Town an opportunity to vote in a polling place that was convenient to their residence with a minimum of delay and inconvenience it would be necessary to increase the number of polling places from four to six. Accordingly, by unanimous vote of the Board of Selectmen during the course of a regularly scheduled meeting and pursuant to the authority given to the Board of Selectmen under the provisions of the General Laws, this change was undertaken. All other provisions of the statutes have been compiled with for the convenience of the registered voters of the Town, the precincts as revised are shown below by streets:

TOWN REPORT - 1964

REPORT OF THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE

The Randolph School Committee herewith submits its annual report to the Citizens of Randolph:

The summary report of the Massachusetts Educational Study Commission was released in the closing days of the year 1964.

This has been long and eagerly awaited by all who are interested in "Quality Education in Massachusetts" and in adequate aid to the Cities and Towns by the Commonwealth, in order to alleviate the load presently carried by the overburdened property owner.

The report was a summary of what will emerge in late March as a seven-volume report. However, the summary is wide in scope and indicates strongly that the present 17% average reimbursement to the communities for school expenditures must be raised to at least the 40% average of the other states.

We must, of course, await the opportunity to read the complete report before we can truly judge its worth intelligently, but in general it seems to be an excellent master plan for many, many years.

This report is a "Call to Arms" to all who believe in public education and if parents, teachers, and all others who believe that quality education is essential to the continued growth of our state and nation do not let their feelings be known to the members of the legislature in a very positive way, then this study, like a hundred others, shall have been a waste of time and $250,000.

It has been proven that the entire cost of the so-called "GI Educational Bill" has been returned to the Federal Government many fold, as a result of the larger amount of taxes paid by the participating veterans because of their increased earning power—this will be true of any educational investment.

Much of what has been done to improve and implement the educational program in the Randolph Public Schools in the past decade is parallel to the study recommendations; but always, all of us, Committee members, administrators and teachers, have had to keep in mind the ability of the property owners of Randolph to pay and to budget accordingly.

Certainly, in addition to the improvements of the quality and number of the staff, materials, equipment and facilities, we could do more if the State would assume a greater share of the cost.

ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY-NINTH ANNUAL REPORT

Our standard test results and our ever-improving record of placing our graduates in all colleges and universities, as well as in business and industry, are positive proof that our comparatively low per pupil cost is not at all indicative of the true worth of our educational program.

Yet, we reiterate, we could more fully develop the full potential of each pupil if new monies were made available to us.

We should like to extend our sincere thanks and appreciation to Superintendent Warren, Assistant Superintendent Lynch, the administration staff, the teachers, clerks, cafeteria personnel and the custodial staff for their continued cooperation and assistance. We are grateful, too, to the Selectmen, the School Planning and Building Committee, the Police Department and the Highway Department and all other town personnel for their support.

To the Townspeople of Randolph, thank you, for your support in our efforts to continually grow and improve in the never-ending task of providing the best possible education for the youth of Randolph.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the members of the Randolph School Committee, and to all other Citizens of Randolph, I herewith submit my tenth annual report as Superintendent of the Randolph Public Schools:

Our constant effort throughout the past decade has certainly been rewarded by the success of our recent graduates, particularly those of the graduating class of 1964, and yet this only serves to encourage us all to an even greater effort in striving for an educational program which will enable every pupil to fully attain his greatest potential.

Our "drop-out" group though very small, concerns us greatly and those pupils are as important to us as are those who receive complete scholarships to the greatest colleges and universities. We hope strongly to complete soon a program to better meet the needs of the potential drop-outs.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

The construction of the John F. Kennedy Junior High School was begun this year, and we have every expectation of occupying the building sometime in the fall of 1965.

In order to be certain that all of the pupils of grades 7, 8, and 9, have equal educational opportunities, I have held meetings with the two secondary principals, the Director of Guidance, and the Department heads and instructed them that this is their responsibility.

Subsequently, these people, in conjunction with the teachers in their respective departments and buildings, have held many meetings in order to plan for an improved and integrated curriculum and a program of supervision which will accomplish the desired results.

The removal of grade 9 from the senior high school dropped the enrolment in that building from 1250 to 963. When the enrolment goes beyond 1100, it has been found that overcrowding and the encumbent problems development.

Our enrolment projection for the coming year indicates that there will be 1500 pupils in grades 10-12 by 1972. In order to have adequate space, a 50% addition must be made to the senior high school building. This could be accomplished in one or two stages, but the latter would be more costly. Certainly the first phase should be begun by 1966.

The complete use of modern mathematics texts in grades 1-6 came about this year when we purchased the new texts for grades 5 and 6. A new series of modern spelling texts, emphasizing the use of phonics and thus implementing our already successful phonics system, was purchased for all pupils in grades 1-6.

An evaluating committee is now examining all new materials and texts in the field of elementary English or Language Arts with a view to making a new adoption in this area in time for use in September, 1965. This will mean that new adoption of textbooks will have been made in all subject matter areas of the elementary grades.

The effort to improve is constant, and all of our staff members are to be praised for their excellent work in trying out new materials and methods. The elementary science program has been greatly strengthened through the purchase of equipment for which we have been reimbursed by the Federal government.

In the Fall of 1965, it will be necessary to provide for seven more classes in grades 1-6, and this will force us to use for classroom purposes all available rooms, including the primary all-purpose room at the Donovan School, the library at the Devine

School, and the seventh classroom at the Belcher School which is now being used in lieu of an activity room.

When the Fall of 1966 comes, we shall have no room available for expansion. The two-room Paulin  School should be closed as soon as possible, and new classrooms provided for the pupils of the special classes. Construction of a new elementary school on the South Main Street site purchased a few years ago, should be begun in 1965, in order to provide decent facilities for the special classes and the increased needs for room in the elementary grades.

The addition to the staff of a speech therapist at the elementary level has met a need, as indicated by the survey made at your requests, and we have had a number of notes and calls of appreciation from grateful parents.

Mrs. Ethel Chatfield, Principal of the Belcher School since 1928, retired at the close of the school year in June. Fittingly, the Parent-Teachers' Association of the Belcher School sponsored a retirement party which was attended by hundreds of her former pupils, parents, relatives and friends, from near and far. We all wish Mrs. Chatfield many years of happiness in her retirement, and already she has come to our aid by substituting on numerous occasions.

Mr. George Crimmins, for thirty years a teacher of Science in Stetson High School and Randolph High School, also retired in June. Mr. Crimmins served as Head of the Science Department, coach of the rifle team, and advisor to the debating club. We certainly hope that Mr. Crimmins will enjoy his retirement, and we know that he, too, will keep busy.

Mrs. Oscar Foote, with us for only a few years, also retired as Head of the English Department. We wish her health and happiness for many years to come.

Mr. Robert Lacey, Director of Music, resigned in December, in order to accept the position of Supervisor of Music in the Massachusetts Department of Education. We deeply regret his leaving Randolph for his work during his six years with us has been excellent, but we wish him well, and we are proud that he was the best of many excellent candidates.

A report of this type could not possibly comment upon all that is being done in this system which, in a decade, increased from 2840 to 5338 pupils. Despite the need for attention to planning school buildings, forecasting future growth, and staff recruitment, constant surveillance has been and is being given to increasing the quality of our instruction.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

A reading of the reports of my fellow-workers is recommended to all in order that a more complete realization of what is happening may be attained; but even these cannot delineate the work which is going on daily in our hundreds of classrooms. Interested citizens are invited to visit any or all of our schools and such visitations may be arranged by contacting the respective principals.

Quality education cannot be attained without the expenditure of money, and so, despite all of our efforts to be economical in every instant possible, our budgets, like those of all other communities, are constantly increasing.

It is absolutely essential that new monies be made available to Randolph and all of the other communities of the Commonwealth by our State government. The statement in the report of the School Committee covers this need very adequately.

Once again, I wish to express my thanks and appreciation to the members of the School Committee, who so willingly give their wholehearted efforts toward the constant betterment of our educational system. I extend my thanks also to Mr. William J. Lynch, Assistant Superintendent of Schools, to the principals, supervisors, teachers, clerks, custodial, cafeteria and maintenance personnel, and all those employed in other Town Departments for their continued cooperation in assisting us to provide the very best educational system possible, for the children of Randolph.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS L. WARREN
Superintendent of Schools

ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY-NINTH ANNUAL REPORT

REPORT OF THE HIGH SCHOOL PRINCIPAL

The past year saw the retirement of three high school teachers from service in the profession. Mr. George Crimmins was appointed in 1934 as a science teacher and eventually Head of the Science Department. Miss Patricia Galvin, appointed in 1941 to teach History and English, later became Head of the Social Studies Department. The last few years Miss Galvin served as School Librarian. Mrs. Dorothy W. Foote, already an experienced teacher, came to us in 1962 as Head of the English Department. These fine teachers left their marks on the youth of this community and we all wish them well in their new way of life. They will be missed.

The year 1964 saw Randolph High School emerge as a three-year high school. This was made necessary by an ever increasing number of students entering each year. The ninth grade is now housed in the North Junior High School which is, at present, on two shifts. We now fit comfortably in our building with 944 students, and we expect the enrolment of next year to remain about the same. However, figures over the next few years seem to indicate that it will not be long before we will be overcrowded again, even with only three grades in the school. The problems and tensions, which usually accompany overcrowdedness, do not appear to be with us this year — a fact which is of great value towards better work and results by faculty and students alike.

Last June saw the graduation of the largest class in the history of the school, to the number of 241 graduates. However, we do not believe this record will stand too long, as we expect this year's class will number in the vicinity of 310 graduates. For the first time in the history of the school an outdoor graduation was held on the football field, since the auditorium was not big enough to accommodate the large number of friends and relatives of the graduates. Since classes will not be any smaller, the outdoor graduation will apparently be the regular procedure.

In September of 1964, Randolph High School was the recipient of a citation in recognition of significant service to the community and for the furtherance of the principle that responsibility is the price of freedom. This award was made to the school as a result of the many fine things done by our students and outlined in my report of last year. The citation was awarded by the Massachusetts Secondary School Principals' Association and the Massachusetts Department of Education under a grant from the Sears-Roebuck Foundation. This latest award is one of many won by our students from the same sponsors and is quite an honor.

Dropouts continue to be a problem to all school systems, but in Randolph, according to information from our Guidance Department, less than 2% of our secondary school population dropped out of school; the greatest number of these occurs in Grade 11, and nearly as many girls as boys are included in this group. Even though Randolph's percentage is small, we are not satisfied with it and will strive to help this number diminish.

For the third straight year there has been a marked increase in the number of students going on to further study. Again, from the Guidance Department figures, we learn that in 1962, sixty-five students went on to further study; this was increased in 1963 to ninety-seven, while in 1964 the number went up to one hundred and fourteen students — or 49% of the class who are now extending their education. Altogether about 95% of our 1964 class were placed either in post-secondary schools or in full time jobs — with the help of our energetic and extremely interested Guidance Department. We consider this an outstanding record. Scholarship grants were offered our graduates from: MIT (3); Rensselaer Institute of Technology (2); Tufts (5); Northeastern (3); University of Massachusetts (3); NROTC (2 Principals and 1 Alternate); as well as grants from Harvard, Princeton, Boston University, Brown, California Institute of Technology; Carnegie Institute of Technology, Massachusetts Maritime Academy, U. S. Coast Guard Academy (Principal), U. S. Military Academy and many, many more. The total value of all scholarship grants and awards in 1962 was about $45,000; in 1963 it was about $70,000, and in 1964 the amount went over the $250,000 mark. The number of acceptances of our graduates from colleges all over the country was equally as impressive.

In competition with the top high school students in public as well as private schools all over the country, three of our 1964 graduates won honors. David A. Reed was a National Merit Scholarship winner, while Kenneth E. Ekman and Donna L. McNeil were finalists.

Our student programming this year was done by Remington-Rand and its Univac Data Processing branch. We consider the results highly successful, and we hope that not only the programs for 1965-66 will be similarly done, but that the service will be expanded to include report cards, as it is done in so many schools. Much of the success of the program data processing was due to the preliminary assembly of necessary information which had to be prepared before it could be later fed to the machines. This preliminary work was ably done by all members of the guidance staff with the help of the office staff — Mrs. William Vennik, Mrs. William Fleming and Mrs. Joseph Simmons, and we thank all concerned.

We wish to take this opportunity to say a few words of appreciation of our Director of Guidance, Mr. William J. Casey, who came to us in 1961. Here is a dedicated educator, a sincere, earnest man who is interested in just one thing — what is best for the youth of our community. He is concerned with every child — top students, average students, or just struggling students. Their problems are his, and his whole department is geared to the one track — how can we help? Randolph is indeed fortunate to have this young man in the department and we sincerely hope he can be induced to stay with us for many years.

We wish, at this time, to express our thanks and appreciation to the School Committee, the Superintendent of Schools and the Assistant Superintendent of Schools for their help and cooperation over the past year. It was this aid which greatly contributed to the success of the year 1964.

HUBERT F. GILGAN
Principal
Randolph High School

REPORT OF THE DIRECTOR OF GUIDANCE

It is herewith my pleasure to report to the Superintendent of Public Schools, to the Members of the School Committee and to the townspeople of Randolph on the activities of the Guidance Department of the Randolph Public Schools for the year 1964.

Regardless of what changes are wrought in the approaches of education, it is mandatory that guidance direct all of its efforts to catering to the individual needs of each and every student. During the year just completed, the Guidance Department probably met these needs more directly and more diversely than in any year previous. For that reason, it was an exciting and fruitful year and an experience which is certain to motivate the guidance staff to equal, if not greater, endeavor in the years to come.

It is difficult to identify the one success which was most satisfying to our efforts, for 1964 was a year which witnessed many things. Yet, there is one fact which appears most significant and that is the reduction of the drop-out rate in the Randolph Secondary Schools to 1.9%. Just a year ago, this figure was 3.2%; thus, it is obvious that firm strides are being taken to insure each child a full education in a manner befitting his peculiar abilities. It is doubtful that the drop-out problem will ever be fully solved, but it is certain that continuing efforts to combat it must form a distinct core of our educational planning.

A new and revitalized Records System was installed in the School System in September of 1964. This change was long a necessity and was the direct result of a major co-operative effort between this department and the principals and staffs of all of the schools in the community. The new system allows for a co-ordinate and simple manner of recording all of the pertinent information necessary on each child from the first day that he enters the Randolph schools until that day when he leaves or graduates from the High School.

In 1964, the programming of the students in the High School was affected by means of automation and proved to be highly successful. Mr. Thomas J. Cassese was assigned from this Office to assist Mr. Gilgan in assimilating the formulae necessary for this process and then, in assuring that the grouping processes held firm as the scheduling progressed through the complex Univac system of Remington Rand. This forward step proved invaluable to High School personnel in their work with the students and adoption of other such related processes seems both necessary and desired.

The Class of 1964 distinguished itself as unique in a number of ways. Before their date of graduation in June, 92% of a group of 241 students had been placed either vocationally or educationally. Eighty-six students had been placed in full time jobs; nine had entered the armed services; and 126 had been accepted into schools of higher education.

Thus the trend that had developed in 1963 for the first time repeated itself, in that better than 50% of the high school graduates sought further education.

The number of those entering four-year colleges also increased. In 1962, Randolph High School had but 25 students so matriculate, while in 1963, the number was 47. In 1964, however, 62 students were accepted into various colleges and universities. Such a trend is likely to continue as the years pass and the classes become larger and the goals of our youngsters are formulated and refined at an earlier age through counseling.

The amount of scholarship monies received by the Class of 1964 were almost staggering. The figure of $232,450.00 which was awarded to thirty-nine different seniors represented an increase of over 300% from the previous year. Colleges and universities recognized our young students with a total of $213,700.00 in grants, while the community-sponsored scholarships totalled $5,050.00 and outside sources granted $13,700.00.

Randolph High School had its first National Merit Scholar in David A. Reed, while the National Honor Society named Kenneth E. Ekman as one of the recipients of their distinctive scholarship plan. Also included among the grants were a principal appointment to West Point and one to the Coast Guard Academy and scholarships from such distinguished schools as Princeton, Harvard, Brown, Massachusetts Institute of Technology,

ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY-NINTH ANNUAL REPORT

University of Chicago, Regis, Wells, Middlebury and the California Institute of Technology, to name but a few.

The Follow-up Study on the Class of 1963 was based for the first time on a 100% return. Among a variety of other items, it showed the following breakdown of graduate activity: Further education: 53.01%; Employment: 39.89%; Armed Services: 4.37%; Homemakers: .55%; and Unemployed: 2.18%. This analysis included all of the 183 graduates of the Class of 1963 and a similar study on the Class of 1964 is already in progress. The continuing statistics and evaluations gained through these studies are invaluable to the administration and the faculty as well as to this department in constantly reappraising the curriculum and other student needs.

As a result of their performance on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test administered in March 1964, seven members of the Class of 1965 have been honored. James L. Franklin has been named a Semi-Finalist and six of his classmates were awarded Letters of Commendation: Louis V. Deane, Winifred P. East, Michael B. McGrath, William M. Saidel, Carl B. Slotnick, and Richard W. Small. These seven awards represent the most ever won by any single class in this particular competition.

The guidance staff maintained all of its members from the previous years and in fact, was increased by an additional member. Miss Winifred M. Brennan continues to capably handle the duties of Assistant Director of Program, while she is joined at the High School by Mr. Cassese and Miss Isabelle J. Bennett, who spent the summer months as a Syracuse University Fellow, under the auspices of the General Electric Company. Miss Anna K. Good and Mr. Adelino J. Bernardo continue to serve the children at North Junior High School and were joined in September by Mr. Timothy J. Cronin.

Mr. Cronin joined us from the Dedham Public Schools. He is a graduate of Boston College and Boston University and brings to the position both theoretical background and actual experience. His efforts thus far have been outstanding and he promises to add much to the professional calibre of the entire staff.

Statistics on the number of counselling interviews for Grades 7-12 through the year 1964, are as follows:

Students: Grades 7-12 (maximum) 2233

Interviews Conducted:

Nature: Scheduled	6869
Walk-in	4589

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

Type of Problem:

	9:	1603
	10:	1523
	12:	2688	11,458

It is significant to note that the Department continues to show a mean counseling ratio of over five interviews a year with each student; that the balance among the classes is very proximate; that the highest number of interviewing occurs in Grades 7, 11 and 12, which are the years of highest crisis; and that a high-percentage of walk-in students (41%) indicates the good faith that the students seem to hold in the guidance program itself.

One of the factors that may well have influenced the latter point was the renovation that took place in the Guidance Offices at the High School. Accomplished during the summer months, the new Offices assumed a new tone and structure that have won much favor from students and parents alike and from the many visitors we receive from industry and the colleges.

As has been the need for some time now, it is important to extend the counseling services of guidance into the elementary grades. Almost 58% of our total student population is enrolled in Grades 1-6 and as yet, we are only able to serve these children on a specific referral basis. It is necessary to adequately service these children on a full-time basis as soon as possible.

The second project of the forthcoming year must be in curriculum development. Preliminary steps of organization and planning are already in operation for this program and the form it shall assume will include representatives from all of the functions of education - instruction, administration and guidance.

It is increasingly apparent that the role of education grows broader and that the responsibilities of its workers, deepens. Such a challenge might well affect some people adversely - but, it is apparent that it is inspiring the professional personnel in the Randolph schools to greater efforts and a sincere desire to improve the schools in which they toil. May it ever be thus!

REPORT OF THE PRINCIPAL OF NORTH JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

It gives me great pleasure to submit to you my third annual report as the Principal of the North Junior High School for the 1964 school year.

Probably the most significant development which directly affected the junior high school within the structure of the Randolph school system during the past year was the change from a 6-2-4 to a 6-3-3 organization. This change is the second organizational change in the last three years as a direct result of the tremendous population growth in the Town of Randolph in recent years.

The resulting growth in the student body made it mandatory for either the junior or senior high school to resort to a double session in order to adequately house all of the secondary school students. Since it was felt that the junior high students would be less affected by the double session arrangement, the ninth grade was moved to the North Junior High School.

The term "double session" immediately brings to the minds of many a limited or curtailed program. We have found, however, that this need not be the case. The only modification which was necessary was the reduction in the length of the class periods from 45 to 40 minutes. The rest of the schedule and course offerings have remained unchanged thereby allowing the students to continue with a full program in all areas.

With the inclusion of the ninth grade, we have been able to continue with a sequential three-year program which was not possible under the previous two-year tenure of our students; thus, permitting the extension of some of the programs inaugurated in the various subject areas over the preceding years.

The modern mathematics program has been extended to include grade nine with the introduction of modern algebra for those students who successfully completed the seventh and eighth grade program. In keeping with our philosophy, to provide material which is challenging to all students regardless of their level of ability, programmed material in modern algebra is being presented to the most advanced students.

For the first time, freshmen who completed the two-year sequence in our oral-aural French program in grades seven and eight were able to elect Level II, thus theoretically allowing students to complete a four-year program before their senior year and allow them to take part in an advanced program in grade twelve.

In all subject areas, the programs have continued to grow and improve. With the purchase of new textbooks for ninth grade science, we have now completed a two year plan resulting in replacement of all our science books and the addition of other material containing the latest scientific data.

By offering a more concentrated program in English grammar and composition, we look forward to the improvement of students' oral and cursive expression.

Since the social studies curriculum is presently in a state of flux, we have continued with the existing program while investigating various other curricula developed by professional educators at the college and university level.

A school program is only as good as its curriculum and those who administer it. For decades curriculum in public schools remained more or less static, not because of a lack of foresightedness on the part of the educator, but because the curriculum met the needs of the student and the demands placed upon him by a society which was progressing at a slower rate. However, it has been recently stated that "mankind's total fund of learning over the centuries has been equaled by the discoveries of the past ten years alone."

Being cognizant of these developments, the Randolph School Committee and the Superintendent of Schools have initiated a curriculum study with the intent of revising and updating the present curriculum in grades seven through twelve.

To implement this decision, the subject area department heads have begun a comprehensive study of the present curriculum in cooperation with their own staffs, the Director of Guidance, the secondary school principals, and the Superintendent of Schools. This is designed to determine which revisions or additions are necessary to provide the students with that body of learning which will enable them to successfully compete with their peers.

With the completion of this long term project, the junior high school as well as the senior high school, will be better able to extend to the students of Randolph an excellent education so that they may continue to grow and develop into creditable assets to the community.

REPORT OF THE ELEMENTARY READING SUPERVISORS

This past year we have conducted a pilot program in reading on the first grade level. This program emphasized certain materials and procedures that should be used for the success of the program. We have found some of the materials, used as teaching aids for the mastery of mechanical skills of 'decoding' the printed symbols, most helpful as a supplement to our own program in phonics. However, we are continuing our research in the field of phonics, by conducting a similar pilot program on the first grade level, with other new materials. We will again evaluate our present program by a comparative study of the several groups. The results of the varied approaches, and the success of each should aid us in determining the need for any improvement of the phonetic program.

We have broadened our scope and usage of S.R.A. materials in both the third and first grades. The children on these grade levels are being exposed to a systematic program of basic, multilevel instruction in reading, with an individualized-developmental approach. Thus we hope to meet the needs of each individual pupil, and to help each child to reach maximum achievement according to his intelligence and abilities. The slower learner will meet basic reading skills frequently, and will have many opportunities for reinforcing these skills. The faster learner will move along to meet a higher range of skills, and gain the practice of these skills with the various materials. Specifically, we are interested in these laboratories at these levels, where the child is guided through a series of exercises to develop listening comprehension, reading comprehension, language skills, and vocabulary. The continued use of this programmed material aids the child in independent thinking and resourcefulness.

In the upper elementary grades the dual emphasis on the kinds of reading activity continues to be viewed through the individualized programmed work, and in particular, through the structured basic reading program. The materials used in the basic reading program provide opportunities for each individual to develop specific, as well as general abilities. The program especially stresses the interrelated areas of reading; developmental, recreational, functional, and enrichment. The individual pupil has an opportunity to examine, reflect, and set purposes for reading according to his informed judgments. In addition it gives the child training in material to be studied and for entertainment. This may be realized through the use of such materials as, the basal reader, textbooks in the content areas, and specific reference materials.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

We are aware of the responsibility to provide every child with the kinds of materials necessary for experience in the kinds of reading; skimming, scanning, and study-type reading. These are the kinds of reading that will adequately prepare him for life, in a realistic and effective way.

Some new materials which deal with the content field has been incorporated in the reading program. This material consists of a keytext and a storytext which is so constructed as to serve distinctive and closely related functions. One book has exercises preceding and following selections, which have been designed to build, refine, and extend basic reading skills. This text provides opportunities for the application of these skills in the reading and study of nonfictional and expository writing. The second book helps to develop skill in interpretation of fictional writing, plus an appreciation and enjoyment of fiction and poetry. These texts fulfill the demand of the pupil for materials which will provide him with experiences which he will have need of in reading in other areas of curriculum.

Well supplied libraries at the various grade levels are a major concern of the reading program. We have seen to the replacement of over eight hundred books on all grade levels, in all schools, and the addition of over twelve hundred books in a new library at the newest elementary school. The books have been selected with a view to meeting the needs and interests of all pupils. Some books have been chosen for high interest low vocabulary, with the range from primer to high school level. Others have been chosen for high interest, on level vocabulary, with the same wide range. In addition, all books selected cover a range of subject matter; science fiction, biographies, humorous stories, mysteries, annual stories and stories of a social nature.

REPORT OF THE SCHOOL NURSES

The school has a triple responsibility in the field of health — to promote the health of children, to protect them from disease and ill health, and to aid in securing the prompt correction of physical defects and illnesses.

The School Health Program, with the increased school enrollment and double sessions in the North Junior High School in mind, was planned to give the best possible health service during the past year.

It is recommended to parents that children entering the first grade should have a complete physical examination, up to date immunization, and vision and dental examinations by their family physician or pediatrician.

The school learns the physical status, limitations and health needs of the child through health examinations.

Physical examinations are done by the school physician at intervals during the school life of the child. When physical defects and departure from normal health are found, the parents are informed and advised to seek prompt medical attention.

Yearly vision and hearing screening tests are given to all pupils. Here again the parents are informed and the procedure for corrective treatment is the same.

It is noted that more children are securing dental care, which is so important for good health. A tooth brushing program was carried out in all third grades. A tooth brush and package of tooth paste was given to each child. The proper way to brush the teeth was demonstrated.

Diphtheria and Tetanus inoculations were given to children in grade one who had not had a booster in three or more years. The parents requested this inoculation and signed permission slips.

The Tuberculin test, known as the Heaf Test, was given in the eleventh grade. This test provides a safe method in screening tuberculosis. Explanatory forms were sent to the parents to be signed if this test was desired.

Care given for accidents and sudden illness is limited to first aid. Parents are notified if accident or illness warrants it. Parents provide transportation if child is taken home or to the doctor's office for further treatment. The school physician is called only in an emergency if the parent cannot be reached.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

A yearly follow-up and report of children with physical handicaps and their special needs as reported by parent or physician is made known to the school personnel. Adjustments can be made in classroom in some cases. Home instruction can be arranged for pupils unable to attend school.

All pupils are requested to participate in the Physical Education Program unless a statement is received from the family physician stating pupil is unable to carry on this program.

Weighing of all pupils is done in order to help correct weight problems and to encourage children to take better care of their young bodies.

The daily observation by the teacher for cleanliness, neatness and symptoms of illness is most valuable. They are often the first to detect signs of trouble, both physical and emotional. Early detection of such symptoms is vital in order that the child may secure early medical attention.

With the cooperation of the home and the community, our schools can meet the desirable goals of health.

REPORT OF THE DIRECTOR OF MUSIC

The Music Department is still continuing the improvement of facilities, time and teachers in order to maintain high standards both vocally and instrumentally. The inception of the Theory Course and also the Appreciation Class has improved the music curriculum in the high school. Band and chorus are still on the same schedule with the band meeting three periods a week, chorus meeting two periods a week. To acquire the desired quality of performance, after-school rehearsals are necessary to supplement in-school rehearsals.

The high school band performed many times during the school year giving concerts, half-time football shows, and marching in various parades. The band also participated in a half-time show at a Boston University football game.

The chorus presented the Broadway production of "Bye Bye Birdie" which was warmly received and also performed for the Spring Concert.

ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY-NINTH ANNUAL REPORT

The junior high musical program is functioning very smoothly. Each student attends two general music classes a week. Both instrument lessons and choral rehearsals for pupils of grades 7 & 8 are held before school because the junior high is on double sessions. Pupils of grade 9 are in the high school band and chorus.

Interest in the instrumental program at the elementary school is still high. Each school's band performed for its individual concert and the entire elementary instrumental group was divided to form two bands which marched in the Memorial Day parade.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the School Committee and the administration for their help in the past to Mr. Robert Lacey and to request their future cooperation and assistance in helping to make our music department one of the finest in the state.

REPORT OF THE DIRECTOR OF PHYSICAL EDUCATION AND ATHLETICS

Athletics is an important part of the school physical education program.

Participation in sound athletic programs, contributes to health and happiness, physical skill and emotional maturity, social competence and moral values.

Athletic participation can help teach the values of cooperation as well as the spirit of competition.

Of great importance in elementary school program of physical education are such non-competitive activities as creative play, folk dances, singing games, stunts to imitate story book characters, roller skating and jumping rope.

Boys and girls in junior high school need a program of athletics different from that provided for either elementary school children or senior high school youth. It must be suited to the needs of children who are undergoing rapid physical growth, who have special need for improving body coordination, who seek to take part in an increasing number of activities, and who have strong desire for group acceptance.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

In high school social and ethical development is one aspect of adolescent growth to which athletic participation has much to contribute. Acquaintance ripens fast on playing fields and courts. Barriers of race, religion, and social status tend to disappear when young people play together. Responsibility encourages leadership. Playing for fun with one's fellows holds high potential for well-rounded personality development and improved emotional health, as well as for building wholesome relationships. The striking need in high school is to give all students a chance to play, to give non-varsity athletics adequate time, facilities and leadership, and to create a genuine atmosphere of status for non-varsity activities.

In Randolph the school population is increasing and the end is no where in sight. We have many problems that gradually are being solved by the School Committee, the Superintendent of Schools and the Director of Physical Education and Athletics. More personnel is still needed in the Physical Education Department for the elementary grades so that it can be staffed adequately. Coaches are necessary for the two junior high schools. An intramural program should be a must for all the schools in town. As I mentioned before this takes time. However, I anticipate within a short period we will be nearing the goal so that the pupils of Randolph will have the opportunities of engaging in Physical Education programs, staffed by competent instructors, and the best of equipment.

A school's Physical Education activities should be in harmony with the rest of the total school program with respect to aims and outcomes. Physical Education activities should synchronize with the rest of the educational enterprise in matters of schedules, responsibilities of the school staff, demands on the time and energy of students, and allocation of space and facilities. In short, a school's program in physical education should in all respects be kept in sound proportion to the total school program.

ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY-NINTH ANNUAL REPORT

REPORT OF SPECIAL EDUCATION AND SPECIAL PUPIL SERVICES

The year 1964 has been a year of progress and promise for pupils who qualify under State Law for educational assistance beyond that offered by the regular classroom.

Much support has been given to the program for Emotionally Disturbed children by the psychiatrists and psychologists of the South Shore Mental Health Center. Weekly visits have been made by Dr. Leonard Hassol and his associates Dr. Ehrenworth and Mr. Burns to the Randolph Schools for conferences with administrators and teachers concerning the problems of children who are not achieving their potential in class. Miss Eloise Maloney, teacher of Randolph's class for Emotionally Disturbed Children has participated in a continuing seminar conducted by Dr. David VanBuskirk, Staff Psychiatrist of the South Shore Mental Health Association. It is anticipated that information developed by this group will be of value to teachers of emotionally disturbed children throughout the state. We note that thirty-four Randolph school children received "in-take" interviews at the South Shore Mental Health Clinic during 1964. This figure, however, does not represent the total referred since it is necessary for the parent to make the first contact with the clinic in order to obtain an appointment.

The School Committee has authorized participation by this department in the Randolph Mental Health Coordinating Committee recently organized under the auspices of the Randolph Health Department. This cooperative effort to coordinate the activities of various town agencies concerned with the problem of school children is composed of representatives of the Welfare Department, Police Department and Veterans' Agent in addition to the Health and School Departments.

Special pupil assistance and services authorized by the State Division of Special Education include the providing of tutors for children confined to their homes because of temporary incapacities such as broken limbs, post operative and other convalescences, the providing of audio equipment for communication between home and the classroom, special books and equipment for visually handicapped and those with hearing defects, transportation and special school placement for physically disabled children, special classes for intellectually handicapped and residential placement and special instruction for children with emotional difficulties.

Although services and assistance for the above categories all fall under the general heading of Special Education, it is easily seen that the categories are distinct and do not necessarily have anything in common except the existence of a handicap which affects with varying degrees of adversity the ability of the child to participate in the educative process. The children benefitting from these services range in intellectual capacity from superior to severely handicapped and in physical condition from above average to almost completely incapacitated.

During 1964, this department has made recommendations to the South Shore Guidance Center on the long-term project of vocational education and job placement for Special Class pupils. A list of ten boys and girls over the age of sixteen has been forwarded to the South Shore Occupational Training Center. Two of this group have been accepted for the program. The applications of the others are being processed. Through the efforts of the Youth Officer, School Department and State Division of Child Guardianship, three recent graduates of Special Education have been placed locally in full-time jobs.

There are in Randolph today, four Special Education Classes with a total of sixty-seven pupils registered. Two elementary age level classes are conducted at the Pauline Street School. Two classes are at the North Junior High School. Three Randolph children attend Special Classes at Milton and three Milton children are transported to the Pauline Street School.

The Chapter 750 Class for Emotionally Disturbed Children, temporarily housed in the Stetson School and the Pauline Street School has had a total of ten children during the past year. Five additional pupils have qualified for Special Education under Chapter 750 and have attended residential treatment centers and day schools in Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Ohio and in Boston and Waltham in Massachusetts. Applications are pending for placement of accepted Chapter 750 candidates in schools in New York, Pennsylvania, Connecticut and Maine.

Home teaching was performed in 1964 by ten teachers to a total of thirteen Randolph pupils. Taxi transportation was furnished to forty-three handicapped Randolph children attending classes in Boston, Braintree, Milton, Quincy and Randolph. Psychological tests were administered to forty-five children by the School Psychologist.

The annual survey of handicapped children (excluding the mentally retarded and visually handicapped) made for the State Department of Special Education by the School Nurses revealed one hundred seventy-six Randolph Public School children with physical handicaps.

Fifty percent of all funds expended in all of the aforementioned categories are reimbursed to the town by the Commonwealth.

We express our appreciation to the members of the School Committee, Superintendent and Assistant Superintendent, School

REPORT OF SCHOOL LUNCH PROGRAM - 1964

"School Lunch Serves Youth" was the theme of the 1964 School Lunch Week. Each year the President sets aside one week to recognize the value and achievements of the National School Lunch Program.

The lunch program aims to help children develop a knowledge of food, of how to eat, and of the benefits to be received from good, nutritious food.

The cafeteria can be the practical application of what was learned in the classroom. It can promote good table manners, and familiarity with various new foods.

During the school year of 1963-1964, the five Randolph school cafeterias served 372,821 Type "A" meals, or an average of 2071 meals per day. In the nine schools, 966,212-1/2 pints of milk were served.

In this past year, the lunch program paid out $48,344.80 for salaries and $120,538.85 for foodstuffs and other expenses.

The cash receipts totaled $117,308.14, and our monetary reimbursement from the State and Federal governments totaled $50,999.70.

Commodities, consisting of foodstuffs, are made available for direct distribution to non-profit lunch programs in elementary and high schools. The market value of the commodities which we received amounted to $23,537.25 for which we paid $642.95. This charge is merely a handling charge for these foodstuffs.

In September 1964, the cafeteria at the North Randolph Junior High School was closed for this school year, due to double sessions. For this reason, it was necessary to terminate three permanent workers. Next year, we expect to reopen this cafeteria and a new one located in the new John F. Kennedy Junior High School on Mill Street.

Cafeteria permanent workers are appointed under Civil Service regulations. It is necessary to pass the Civil Service tests

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

• for the various positions in order to be permanently appointed from the list. Applications should be made directly to the Division of Civil Service in the State House.

Once again, we wish to acknowledge the invaluable assistance of the Randolph Police Department in the matter of transporting our cash receipts to the bank.

I wish to express my gratitude to the School Committee, Superintendent, Assistant Superintendent, Maintenance and Custodial force, and our School Lunch workers for their cooperation during the past year.

"NO SCHOOL" ANNOUNCEMENTS

1. The general policy is not to cancel the school session except under extreme weather conditions. It is always the privilege of any parent to keep a child at home if the parent feels that it is necessary.
2. The following stations usually carry our "No School" Announcements:

Boston: W.B.Z., W.H.D.H., W.E.Z.E., W.C.O.P.
Quincy: W.J.D.A.
Brockton: W.B.E.T., W.O.K.W.

In most instances, it might be better to listen to the Brockton or Quincy stations, for it is not always possible to reach every Boston station, as they handle hundreds of calls on stormy mornings.

3. When the session is cancelled, a recorded message will be available on Wo 3-7802; however, this is but one telephone line, and it is limited greatly in the number of calls which it can handle. You should rely on the radio stations.
4. You should not call school officials, for they are busy making calls to radio stations, the bus company, principals. Rely on the radio stations for your information.
5. Do not call the Fire, Police or Street Departments, for by so doing you hamper their work.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

REPORT OF RECREATION COMMITTEE

Recreation is a necessity for all people. Recreation facilities are a must for every town and city. In Randolph many reports and surveys indicated the shortage of recreation facilities and the question arises: What to do about the problem. First of all the town or city is obligated to provide recreation facilities for the people of all ages. It should have enough play grounds, fields, courts, gymnasiums, ice skating areas, swimming facilities and projects that are functioning all year. This requires adequate planning, personnel and a budget to conduct a sound program.. People have to realize that other towns and cities will not provide recreation for outsiders.

I believe that there are too many agencies created by the town meeting handling recreation. They should be consolidated and cared for by one group.

The Recreation Committee has inserted in their budget monies for an outdoor swimming pool. This should have been a priority years ago. This definitely is a necessity and only the beginning of other projects that should be in the town of Randolph.

This past year the Basketball, Tennis and Baseball Clinics were well attended. The attendance at Fishermans Beach was staggering. The Senior Citizens appreciated the aid toward some of their transportation.

I sincerely think that with a small budget, the Recreation Committee got a lot for their money.

Idle youngsters can create huge problems and there is no better solution that recreation to have better citizens.

JOSEPH J. ZAPUSTAS

Chairman, Recreation Committee

ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY-NINTH ANNUAL REPORT
REPORT OF THE BLUE HILLS REGIONAL VOCATIONAL SCHOOL DISTRICT INTERIM COMMITTEE - 1964

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen:

Gentlemen:

We respectfully submit the first annual report of the Blue Hills Regional Vocational School Committee.

In March 1964, seven communities voted overwhelmingly to form the Blue Hills Regional Vocational School District. Members appointed to Interim District Committee from the towns within the District, are as follows:

AVON	Mr. John J. Lemay
BRAINTREE	Mr. Robert J. Barrett
CANTON	Mr. Nathaniel N. Wentworth, Jr.
HOLBROOK	Mrs. Jean Heffernan
NORWOOD	Mr. Henry W. Diggs
RANDOLPH	Mr. M. Murray Lewis
WESTWOOD	Mr. Ernest A. Oettinger

At the first meeting of the district, Mr. Nathaniel N. Wentworth, Jr. of Canton, was chosen Chairman, Mr. M. Murray Lewis of Randolph, Vice-Chairman, and Mrs. Jean Heffernan of Holbrook, Secretary. Mr. Edward V. Cogliano, Public Accountant, of Canton was appointed Treasurer, and Mr. William J. Carr, Attorney, of Randolph was appointed Counsel. Offices for the committee were secured at 533 Washington Street, in Canton.

In May, the Educational Consultants Council, Inc., were engaged to prepare educational specifications. Many meetings were held reviewing these specifications, consulting representatives of the Department of Vocational Education, our local school superintendents, and investigating existing vocational schools before these specifications were adopted by the committee.

After a comprehensive screening and many personal interviews, the committee selected the Architects Collaborative of Cambridge to design the school. Preliminary drawings are now substantially complete.

The site which has been chosen is 34 acres of land on the North side of Randolph Street, in Canton, owned by York Realty Co. Fifteen sites were investigated in respect to terrain, soil conditions, utilities, sewerage, and site development costs before full agreement was reached on this prime site.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

In June a bond issue of $200,000 was voted for site acquisition and planning costs. The total cost of the project for a 600 pupil, 120,000 sq. ft. school is estimated at $3,225,000. This includes all construction, fees, site development and equipment. Allowing for the $200,000 previously authorized, and also $200,000 reimbursement from state and federal planning costs the committee voted a $2,825,000 bond issued on September 15.

In December, with the approval of the preliminary drawings, the committee is looking forward to breaking ground this coming spring. Application for the position of Superintendent-Director are now being processed.

The entire committee owes a great debt of gratitude to Boards of Selectmen and Finance Committees in our respective communities. Working under a tight schedule and enormous pressures, the success of this project would not have been possible without their complete co-operation throughout this past year.

Respectfully submitted,

Nathaniel N. Wentworth, Jr. Chairman

M. Murray Lewis, Vice-Chairman

REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE STETSON SCHOOL FUND

As you pass the Town Hall, do you wonder what happened to the two enormous evergreens that towered in front of it? We would like you to know that the beautiful Colonial building which Amasa Stetson gave to Randolph in 1842 was practically obliterated by their overgrown condition, and they had been so weakened by hurricanes they might easily have fallen and damaged the facade of the Hall. So your Trustees saw to it that they were removed, under the capable direction of Joseph Hart, Sr., Tree Warden. Before we took this action, we offered these trees to several Town departments, but learned in so doing that the cost of moving them was very high, and that no guarantee would be made that they would "take" in their new location. Their boughs enhanced the "Snow Christmas Scene" on Memorial Drive, which we thought a worthy finale.

A new landscaping plan was drawn, and the Fall of '64 saw small, slower-growing evergreens planted, to flank the Civil War Statue and surround the grassy plot. In spring 1965, flowering shrubs will be added and bare spots seeded.

In addition to our regular maintenance program and the procurement of new equipment, the Registrars office and a room next to the GAR Hall were painted; many major repairs were made to the heating system; and new steps were installed on the interior staircase.

This report would be incomplete if we did not say that a new member was appointed by the Board of Selectmen to fill the unexpired term of our former chairman, Roger L. Niles.

When a man holds more than one position, he is often referred to as the Person "with many hats." But Roger Niles, when you came right down to it, had only one, not a hat, but a cloak, of great humility. He was a "politician," so the saying goes, but being "political" means basically, getting along with your fellow man. In this art, Rod was a master. He was popularly referred to as "Mr. Citizen," having lived here all of his life, and taken part in many civic affairs.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

Now attached to the front of the Selectmen's circle of desks, placed there by the Trustees, is a plaque which reads:

Roger L. Niles

Dedicated Public Servant

REPORT OF THE SCHOOL PLANNING AND BUILDING COMMITTEE

At a special town meeting on May 21, 1964, the town meeting members voted the sum of $1,803,000.00 for the construction of the new John F. Kennedy Junior High School. The Tocci Corporation of Newtonville, Massachusetts, the low bidder, was selected as the general contractor, their bid being $1,536,233.00. Work was started September 1, 1964.

There were eight hundred twenty-one cases of communicable diseases and other health conditions reported to the Board of Health, as follows: German measles, 399; Dog bite, 163; Mumps, 109; Chicken-Pox, 79; Measles, 44; Scarlet fever, etc., 9; Salmonellosis and Salmonella carrier, 8; Infectious hepatitis, 5; Tuberculosis all forms, 3; Influenzal meningitis, 2. Compared with the 1963 report, the data for 1964 show an overall increase in incidence of approximately 375 per cent; scarlet fever was the only disease for which fewer cases were reported. Increases in the number of cases were: German measles, 387; Mumps, 106; Dog-bite, 61; Chicken pox, 50; Measles, 39; Salmonellosis, 6; Infectious hepatitis, 4; Meningitis, 1; Total 655.

CLINICAL PROGRAMS

MENTAL HEALTH: Provisions for study and care of emotionally disturbed and mentally retarded children, as described in the 1963 Report, were implemented in January 1964; as a result, one hundred eighty-eight interviews were conducted at the South Shore Mental Health Center. In order to improve the efficiency of the services offered in this field, the Board of Health by letter dated September 16, 1964 established a Randolph Coordinating Committee for Mental Health. In addition to Board of Health officers, members of the Committee include representatives of the South Shore Mental Health Center and of the following offices in Randolph; Public Assistance; School Department; Police Department; Veterans Services; Public Health Nursing. Meetings of the Committee are scheduled once each month; the Committee met in October, November and December. A Mental Health survey in Randolph is to be initiated in January 1965.

HEARING TESTS: On eight days during October, the Hearing Testmobile was in Randolph for the purpose of offering hearing tests to the residents of the Town and surrounding communities; the service was sponsored jointly by the Board of Health and the Boston Guild for the Hard of Hearing. Ninety-three clients took advantage of the opportunity provided.

TETANUS-DIPHTHERIA IMMUNIZATION FOR ADULTS: Sponsored jointly by Randolph physicians and the Board of Health were three low-cost clinics at which inoculations of combined tetanus-diphtheria toxoids were provided; five hundred five individuals received at least one injection of the vaccine.

INFLUENZA INOCULATIONS: Influenza immunization clinics for Town employees were held on October 7 and November 4; only fifty-nine individuals appeared on the two dates.

SCHOOL IMMUNIZATION CLINICS: The Board of Health furnished supplies and other logistic support for Diphtheria-Tetanus booster inoculations in nine schools; seven hundred twelve injections were administered.

BIOLOGIC SUPPLIES: Over 3,900 vials of biologic products and other supplies were obtained from the Biologic Laboratories for issue to Town physicians.

HOSPITALIZATION SUBSIDIES

Seven tuberculosis patients were hospitalized for at least a part of the year; the Board of Health is responsible for payment of one-half of the hospital fees which, through November exclusive of one invoice not received, amounted to $8,546.70. Beginning January 1, 1965, the Town's share of the per diem hospital fees will be increased from $11.40 to $13.16.

An obligation of $84.00 was approved by the Board of Health for hospitalization of a premature baby; one-half of this is reimbursable to the Town by the State.

PUBLIC HEALTH NURSING

Three Public Health Nurses continue to carry out professional nursing services to the Town residents. The following services were rendered: Ante-partum 37, post partum 95, premature and new-born babies 154, pre-school and school children 155, adult health supervision including mental health 112, tuberculosis 329, acute communicable 103. Clinics, conferences, school coverage and transportation 730 hrs. Visits made to Old Age cases, welfare, veteran's aid, and social services and courtesy (Town employees, clergymen, etc.) 1569.

ENVIRONMENTAL SANITATION

The Regional Refuse Disposal Study Committee was dissolved on September 14, 1964 by unanimous vote of the members as a result of townspeople raising strong objections to the disposal of refuse in their own town that originated from other communities.

Enforcing the requirement that dwellings be connected with available public sewerage has been time-consuming and partially successful. It became necessary to take legal action against certain citizens for violation of applicable portions of the General Laws; court decisions in these cases were favorable to the Town.

Inspections were made of one-hundred forty-five individual sewage disposal systems; in several instances, the installations did not comply with regulations and contractors were required to make necessary corrections before approval was given. Permits were issued for one hundred thirty-six individual sewage disposal installations.

Fifty-six sanitary inspections of eating and drinking establishments were conducted; in addition, one hundred sixty-one utensil swab tests for bacterial counts were conducted. These procedures have resulted in raising, where necessary, of the sanitary conditions of eating and drinking establishments to a very satisfactory level.

New Rules and Regulations Relative to Eating and Drinking Establishments, promulgated by the Massachusetts Department of Public Health, became effective January 1, 1965; a provision of the new regulations is that no person shall operate a food service establishment unless he is the holder of a valid permit granted to him by the Board of Health.

Four hundred fifty-eight investigations were conducted as a result of complaints of alleged nuisances or other public health hazards; in cases where validity of the complaint was confirmed, either verbal or written orders for correction were issued. Fifty-one written legal abatement orders were mailed or delivered in person.

Operation of the Sanitary Landfill as well as collections of rubbish and garbage have been conducted satisfactorily.

Sanitary inspections, preliminary to licensing by the State, were conducted at two Nursing Homes and six Day Care Agencies.

ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY-NINTH ANNUAL REPORT

REPORT OF THE PLANNING BOARD

We herewith submit a report of the activities and happenings of the Planning Board for the year 1964.

1964 has been a year of progress in the future development and planning of the Town. Your Board feels that it has been watchful in their recommendations of changes in Zoning ordinances with the Town; that any subdivisions approved have had to comply most strictly to the rules and regulations as laid down by our own rules and those of the Massachusetts Subdivision Control Laws, and we further feel that this Board has at all times considered the welfare of the Town as the primary reason for any and all decisions.

The following is a breakdown of the activities of the Board during 1964:

Planning Board meetings held	40
Public hearings held:
1. On proposed subdivisions	15
2. On proposed Zoning articles	12
Number of subdivisions approved	13
Number of plans signed other than subdivision plans	82
Number of subdivision lots released for building permits	85

During the past year, the Planning Board acting in their capacity as Park Commissioners, were able to have constructed in Fanny Belcher Park a cement block building, with sanitary facilities, for the use of the children of the Town. It is our hope that the children of the Town will be able to enjoy these facilities, and that the extensive vandalism that has occurred in past years will cease to happen. It is the wish of the Board that each year some progressive site work will be completed for the enjoyment, not only of the children, but for the adults of the Town as well. We propose to erect benches, tables and barbecue areas for the use of all in the coming year. We ask the cooperation of all parents in that their children only use the Park facilities under the supervision of adults.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

SCHOOL COMMITTEE

Rendered engineering advice relative to school boundaries, and laid out several play fields at school locations.

CHAPTER 90 ROADWAY CONSTRUCTION

Coordinated engineering and construction activities during the Chapter 90 construction on Canton, Old, Chestnut and Oak Streets. Investigated and adjusted, where possible, complaints during construction. Rendered engineering advice to D.P.W. officials relative to proposed Chapter 90 construction on Reed Street and a portion of Canton Street.

CHAPTER 91 STREAM CLEARANCE

Consulted with State D.P.W. waterways engineers relative to proposed extension of Stream Clearance work on Mary Lee Brook, between South and South Main Streets. Supervised slope paving contract in vicinity of South Street. Rendered engineering assistance in connection with reconstruction on Glovers Brook at the V.F.W. Property on DiAuto Drive.

CHAPTER 782 & 822 ROADWAY CONSTRUCTION

Under the provisions of Chapters 782 & 822, this department designed, laid out and supervised the reconstruction of Highland Avenue from Memorial Drive to Woodlawn Street. The project as completed included the excavation and graveling of approximately 1600 feet of roadway to a width of from 40 to 45 feet. The complete section of roadway has been adequately drained by the installation of 24" reinforced concrete drainage pipe with suitable catch basins and manholes. The entire section was surfaced with 3" of Type I-1 bituminous concrete applied in two courses. All construction was performed by Town forces, and has resulted in an excellent section of roadway which provides not only a wider traveled way, but additional parking facilities during recreational activities at the Randolph High School.

SIDEWALK CONSTRUCTION PROGRAM

The engineering department performed preliminary surveys, prepared required plans, and specifications, conducted competitive bidding, gave line and grade, and furnished supervision and inspection of sidewalk construction and maintenance projects as follows:

Bituminous concrete sidewalk construction, including graveling, pavement widening where and as necessary, installation of bituminous curbing, and surfacing with two courses of Type I bituminous concrete, loaming and seeding of cut and/or filled shoulders, and other miscellaneous appurtenant work.

High Street, from North Junior High School to Canton Street, a distance of approximately 1150 feet.

High Street, from Canton Street to Reed Street, a distance of about 1000 feet.

Chestnut Street, from opposite Desmond Road to High Street, a distance of approximately 1000 feet.

Allen Street, from Liberty Street, 500 feet toward Reynolds Avenue.

Mill Street, from Wilmarth Road to Wyman Road, a distance of about 520 feet.

South Street, from Reisner to Tileston Road, a distance of about 310 feet.

South Street, from near Maple Road, about 230 feet southerly.

Canton Street, from Scally Circle to High Street, a distance of about 300 feet.

Canton Street, from Turner Drive to Rte 24 Expressway Bridge, a distance of approximately 265 feet.

Chestnut Street, from North Main to Old Street, a distance of about 700 feet.

Old Street, from Chestnut to Canton Street, a distance of about 850 feet.

Oak Street, both sides from North Main Street to Webster Street, a total distance of about 300 feet.

Lyons School Property, a distance of about 255 feet between Clark Street and Vesey Road.

Bituminous concrete sidewalk resurfacing with 1" of bituminous concrete, Type I, to a finished width of at least 5 feet was performed in the following locations:

Union Street, from Howard Street 190 feet northerly.

Mt. Pleasant Square, from North Main Street, 280 feet easterly.

Warren Street, from Depot Street 180 feet westerly.

Maple Street, complete easterly side from South Street to South Main Street, a distance of about 950 feet.

Mill Street, resurfaced partially completed sidewalk in vicinity of Mary Lee Brook, a distance of about 200 feet.

The sum total sidewalk construction program for 1964 has resulted in a total new sidewalk construction of 7,380 lineal feet, and maintenance on 1,800 feet of existing sidewalk areas, which is to say the least a most ambitious program. It should be pointed out that work completed in Chestnut, Old, and Oak Streets, in conjunction with Chapter 90 construction, and has resulted in considerably lower construction costs, than would have been realized if done at a future date under separate contract. Completion of the 1964 sidewalk program has produced a continuous uninterrupted sidewalk from Webster Street to the North Junior

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

High School, and has almost closed the sidewalk circuit on Mill and South Streets, serving the McNeil School.

ROADWAY LAYOUTS

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF PUBLIC WELFARE

During June, 1964, at the sixteenth Governor's Conference on State-Local Relations, Amherst, Mass. on the topic, "Massachusetts Surveys Its Poverty", Mr. Gooding and Mrs. Norr of the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston reported that President Johnson recently declared an "Unconditional War on Poverty". Despite the degree of material well-being enjoyed by most of the population, millions of Americans live in conditions of hardship. This is not only detrimental to the poor but to all of society.

"The Council of Economic Advisers define an annual income of $3,000 as the poverty boundary for the average family. This is a weekly income of less than $60.00. In 1962, 21% of all the Nation's families, including more than 30 million people, had incomes under $3,000. Over 11 million of these family members were children, one-sixth of all our youth".

Massachusetts is the ninth wealthiest state on the basis of per capita income. Yet, the number of persons in our state with incomes of less than $3,000 per year totals 560,000 or approximately ten percent of the total population.

In Randolph, during 1964, the monthly caseload of our five welfare programs (Old Age Assistance, Medical Aid for the Aged, Aid to Families with Dependent Children, Disability Assistance, and General Relief) fluctuated from 167 to 200 cases with a monthly average of 183 cases. Total expenditures for these individuals and families was $305,635. Total reimbursement from the state and federal governments was $226,521. a net cost to Randolph of $79,114. Within the total expenditure figure is the total amount of $146,448. paid for all medical expenses or 48%. The four largest medical expenses include nursing homes, hospitals (both public and private), drugs and doctors in that order. $136,838 was paid to these four medical services. As most people know, these costs keep going up and up and the fact remains, a local Welfare Board and its staff can do little or nothing to retard or prevent such increases in accordance with the state and federal welfare regulations and statutes.

During 1964, the three categories of public assistance with the largest increase in case loads and expenditures as compared to 1963 are as follows:

	MAA		DA		AFDC
	1964	1963	1964	1963	1964	1963
CASES:	63	47	13	9	35	25
CHILDREN:					111	89
EXPENSE:	$109,028	$89,825	$20,594	$12,308	$64,424	$44,969

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

On 7/20/64, Henry Lowd presented his resignation from the Board of Public Welfare to the Board of Selectmen as the latter appointed him to the newly created position of Executive Secretary.

Harold W. Macauley was appointed 9/16/64 by the Board of Selectmen to fill the vacancy on the Welfare Board until the next annual Town election.

There has been no change during the year concerning staff members of one Director, two Social Workers, one Senior and one Junior Clerk, even though the number of applicants and recipients greatly increased.

We wish to acknowledge the splendid cooperation between this department and all others of the Town of Randolph, and the officers and members of the local civic, religious and fraternal groups who helped make life more livable to many of the people we serve.

It is clear that the problem of poverty is massive, many-faceted, and increasing. There is no one single cause. There is no one single solution. Robert F. Ott, Massachusetts Commissioner of Public Welfare has put the matter pointedly when he states, "Let us recognize the practical fact that an attack on poverty will require a total mobilization of federal-state-local and public voluntary effort. Affirmative public policy must be reflected in measures which range from improvement in the operation of our economic system of production and distribution, to a realization of equality of opportunity for persons of all races and creeds".

ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY-NINTH ANNUAL REPORT
REPORT OF DEPARTMENT OF VETERANS' SERVICES

To The Honorable Board of Selectmen:

Herewith you will find a brief summary of services rendered to the veteran and his dependents under the laws administered by this office.

Our case load is increasing each year as the Town is growing, more veterans and their dependents are moving into Town. Last year this office disbursed $108,000 for veterans' benefits.

The reason for the increase: WWI widows and dependent parents are getting to the age that they require nursing home and hospital care; also medical assistance for doctor and prescriptions. We are very fortunate that we do not have many unemployed veterans on our rolls.

We look forward to 1965 for another increase in our case load and believe this office will have to have an investigator in the field in 1965 to protect our reimbursements from the Commonwealth.

We will receive 50% of monies disbursed in 1964 in July of this year from the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. We have recovered a considerable amount of money from our assignments and lien law that went into effect in 1955.

Our services to the veteran, his widow and children has increased considerable this year and will continue to do so. We process and develop all types of claims that the veteran, widow and children may be entitled to under Federal Laws.

We wish to express our sincere appreciation for the splendid cooperation given us by Mr. I. William Trostel, Director of Public Assistance and his staff, your Board, all Department Heads and veterans' organizations of the Town for making the year 1964 a most successful one.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM S. COLE

REPORT OF COUNCIL ON AGING

The Randolph Council on Aging, now in its second year of service to all of the Older Citizens of the Town, reports progress and good community co-operation in its efforts to bring about a satisfactory solution of their problems. The Council endeavors to act in both an advisory and enabling capacity, one of its chief aims being to secure beneficial legislation for the Elderly. "Whatever is of help to The Older Citizen" is our primary concern, with Community Co-operation a most important factor. A report on The Council's activities during 1964 is, as follows:

On January 31, a public distribution of Identification Cards to citizens of The Town, 65 years of age and over, who made personal application for same took place. These I. D. Cards were issued by prior arrangements with local merchants who agreed to give "Extra" services to citizens of Randolph in the above named age bracket, these citizens promising not to violate the privileges accorded. This feature of The Council's work has been commended by both business man and customer. It is hoped that a continuation of these services, in extended coverage, may be effected during the current year.

On May 14, an "Organizational Meeting" was held; work already accomplished was reviewed, and an expansion of work for the coming year was planned. Two of the original members appointed to the Council - Alan H. Taylor and Arthur W. Bowler had resigned and five others had been appointed - Irene, (Mrs. John J.) Nadeau, Mrs. Gladys V. Wheeler, Mrs. Clara M. Nickerson, Mrs. Mary C. Downes and Thomas J. Dwyer. Miss Helen M. Haney, the first Secretary, was elected Chairman; Mrs. Gladys V. Wheeler, Secretary. The Chairman appointed the following to make special studies in the fields of: Legislation, Thomas J. Dwyer; Drop-In Centers, Irene, (Mrs. John J.) Nadeau; Community Co-operation, Mrs. Mary C. Downes; Low Cost Housing, Mrs. Clara M. Nickerson, Bradley Smith, Community Co-ordinator for The Massachusetts Commission on Aging, discussed problems in the area concerning The Elderly, assistance available, and success of other communities. He complimented the local Council on its Community Co-operation work; also in its demonstrating of the worth-whileness of one of the new departments of The Town.

On June 18, an "Acquaintance Meeting" was held which was attended by The Selectmen, Representatives from The Boards of Health and Welfare, League of Women Voters, Representative Ralph W. Cartwright, Jr., a representative from one of the business houses and several other interested citizens. The Board of Education was represented by a commendatory letter. Mrs. Ruth K. Cain, Chairman of The Weymouth Council on Aging, was the Speaker. Under the broad title of "Community Co-operation for

The Elderly," Mrs. Cain's talk on projects and successes of the Weymouth Council proved very enlightening. Among these projects were: Home Making Services, Nursing Home Visits, Assistance in Obtaining Employment, (either full or part time, Drop-In Centers, and Low Cost Housing. Representative Cartwright explained some of the requirements and means available for low cost housing. It was felt by all in attendance that a much better understanding of The Council and how it could co-ordinate its efforts, with those of the other Town Departments had been accomplished by this meeting. Announcement of "Senior Citizens Day," September 20, was made by The Chairman.

On July 23, arrangements were started for an outstanding event of one day, to be held on Sunday, September 20. John K. Willard, Assistant Manager of The Amvets, Post 51, was contacted. Hearty co-operation was effected. The Elks Clubhouse was made available for a show and collation.

On July 30, a letter for the purpose of forming a "Senior Citizens Day Committee" was sent to the members of The Town Government, Officers of The Senior Citizens Group, and representatives from the various adult societies. This special meeting was held in C. A. R. Hall on August 11. Twenty-five men and women in the above-mentioned groups were in attendance and volunteered their services enthusiastically. Eight women's clubs were represented, as follows: St. Mary's Women's Club, Ladies Library Assn. Council of Baptist Women, First Congregational Church Ladies, Trinity Episcopal Ladies, St. Bernadette's Women's Club, Sisterhood of Temple Beth Am, and League of Women Voters. Harry Milliken, Manager of The Amvets, outlined plans for a Parade, to be held, gratis, including The Amvet Brigadiers, The Lancers, The Golden Rays of Stoughton, Pilgrim Crusaders, St. Christopher's Drum and Bugle Corps from Dorchester, Civil Air Patrol, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Sea Scouts, fraternal groups. Mr. Milliken was chosen as Chief Marshall. Richard E. Coburn offered to interest Dr. William Leavitt and others in providing a fleet of antique cars. Mrs. Bernard G. McGrath volunteered to assume chairmanship of The Collation Committee; Mrs. Richard E. Coburn volunteered as Chairman of the Entertainment Committee; Mrs. Stanley A. Richards likewise volunteered as Chairman of The Hospitality Committee. Executive Secretary Henry L. Lowd accepted his selection as Master of Ceremonies.

On August 25, another meeting of The "Senior Citizens Day Committee" was held, which brought the announcement from Mrs. Bernard G. McGrath that she and her committee would furnish gratis, sandwiches, coffee, tea, and a dessert at The Elks Clubhouse. Mrs. Richard E. Coburn reported that entertainment would be provided by The Bob Wiley Show Troupe, and The Barbershop Quartet (Donald Watson, Roy Cedarholm, Albert Willis and Jerry Williamson). Both groups giving their services, gratis.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

Harry Milliken and John Willard gave further details on the Parade, and cars, furnished, free, for the Seniors. Invitations were sent to all of the Clergymen of The Town, to The Town Officials, and to Representative Ralph W. Cartwright, Jr., to be special guests at The Elks Hall festivities, the latter to speak on proposed legislation regarding senior citizens.

On September 9 and 10 (Seven hours each day) Registration was made by Mrs. John J. Nadeau and Mrs. Clara M. Nickerson of all of The Elderly who wished to take part in the hospitality of "Senior Citizens Day", including riding in the Parade, the collation and entertainment at the Elks Clubhouse.

On September 15, another special meeting of "The Senior Citizens Day Committee" was held, at which Executive Secretary Henry L. Lowd presented Robert L. Berry, in charge of The Tambourines, who offered to give their feature, gratis, at The Elks Clubhouse. Mr. Lowd read a Proclamation honoring The Senior Citizens, from The Board of Selectmen, promising participation of The Town Fathers in the celebration of "Senior Citizens Day" September 20.

As a result of these meetings and the whole-hearted co-operation accorded, the Council reports that "Senior Citizens Day" was the outstanding event it had planned to project, with country-wide coverage by radio, TV and printed word. The Council is encouraged by the general opinion that it achieved high credit to The Town; that it was an event in which both the young and the older folks happily participated.

On November 13, a meeting of The Council was held. Three newly appointed members - Elizabeth A. (Mrs. Bernard G.) McGrath, Carol J. (Mrs. Richard E.) Coburn and Atty. George N. Welch were present. It was voted to undertake a "Community Inventory Survey," in compliance with the request from the Massachusetts Commission on Aging, for the purpose of providing a measure of the services now available to the Older Adult; to point up opportunities for action and to indicate certain guidelines for carrying out immediate and long range planning in a co-operative manner. This "Community Inventory Survey" is now in process of preparation.

In connection with our many other services, The Council would like to expand its Information and Counseling program. It is co-ordinated with The Massachusetts Commission on Aging and keeps in touch with all legislation of help to The Elderly, including greater opportunities for The Older Citizen to remain active. To most effectively accomplish our objectives, the Council is in need of a large number of volunteer workers on various committees, such as Visiting, Home Nursing care, Transportation and Social Centers. Those willing to serve may send their names, addresses and phone numbers to Randolph Council on Aging, 19 N. Main Street.

The Council is much encouraged by the splendid consideration it has received since it made its first "bow" to the public — June 17, 1963, and it respectfully asks for a continuance of this good will and community co-operation.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE CIVIL DEFENSE AGENCY

For the first time since Civil Defense became a part of the National Program, Randolph has an emergency operating center installation adequate to meet the needs of our Town for any emergency, national or local.

With the improvement of the Nike missile, the need for the site in Randolph became obsolete and the Federal Government turned back to the Metropolitan District Commission it's 14 acres of land containing 5 acres of fenced-in buildings, paved roads, garage and 3 missile launching pads (costing $1,000.00 each), solid concrete and steel underground Nike missile storage and loading pits.

By arrangement with M.D.C., this site was made available to Randolph for Civil Defense purposes. During the period between the departure of the Army and the Civil Defense occupation, vandalism had all but ruined the entire installation. Windows broken, woodwork destroyed, heavy wire cable stolen, washroom toilets and doors broken. In fact, another 2 weeks and it would be uninhabitable.

Under the direction of Deputy Director, Alvin Edwards, and Administrator, Herbert Blanchard and all the members of the Auxiliary Civil Defense Police, and the expenditure of $800. (some donated), and 8 to 10 thousand dollars worth of volunteer labor, necessary repairs were started. Buildings were cleaned, repaired and painted. Albert O'Brien of our C.D. Utilities Section, did a tremendous amount of electrical work. Disconnecting live wires (4300 volts), checked all lighting circuits and re-vamped the entire electrical system in consultation with Mr. Cook, representative of the Massachusetts Electric Company, and a company engineer.

The underwater section renovated and repaired their classroom building. Twice in the past year, this section has been active in underwater rescue. Once saving a life from Ponkapoag Pond and once recovering a body from a pond in the Town of Norton.

The Communication section is being re-established at the Nike site and will hold weekly drills with Sector 2-D and the net of its 21 towns, including one city.

The Medical and Health section, Radiological, Nurses Disaster Training, First Aid, Home Preparedness, Emergency Feeding, Fire, Police and Rescue, Welfare, and liaison with the American Red Cross, Civil Air Patrol, and surrounding towns is in process of becoming a reality after nearly 14 years of slow progress.

An abandoned nuke site in North Randolph has been renovated by Randolph Civil Defense and now furnishes that town with a high protected headquarters. Top, Federal, State and local CD officials who worked together on the project are, left to right, MCDA Sector 2D Director Harold MacLeod; Randolph CD Director, Brig. Gen. Ralph E. MacLeod (USA Ret.) and OCD Regional Field Officer for Massachusetts John N. Levins.

ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY-NINTH ANNUAL REPORT

During the past 3 years Randolph has acquired from surplus property, at a Federal Acquisition cost of $36,884.68, the following essential equipment and property for use of Civil Defense: One 1/2 ton truck, one 10 KW and one 30 KW generator, one personnel carrier truck (for emergency use as an ambulance) and transporting of personnel, and electrical equipment for the communication section and considerable equipment for the Auxiliary Fire and Police sections, as well as material for the Rescue, Engineering and Public Works Department of our Civil Defense. For this $36,884.68, Civil Defense paid $1.81 or less than 2% of its actual cost.

Mere dollars cannot replace the time and effort spent by the members of your Civil Defense Agency. Apathy is not the answer to the general, country wide let-down for Civil Defense. It is too much self interest and insufficient knowledge of the need for self-protection by our neighbors of their lives and property.

It has been said, Wisdom is knowing what to do, Knowledge is knowing how to do it, and Virtue is doing it.

Respectfully,

RALPH E. MacLEOD

The following is the total of probable costs of construction above land as submitted on permit applications in the year 1964.

Total	$3,429,080.00
Non-Taxable	253,000.00
Total Taxable	$3,176,080.00

I would estimate that approximately Seventy (70) Percent of the total would be completely and assessable by January 1, 1965.

REPORT OF BUSINESS AND INDUSTRIAL COMMISSION

Results and activity are the best way to report for the year 1964. We have seen major additions to our business and industrial community.

Elliott Business Machines, Inc., a division of the Dymo Industries, opened their 96,000 foot facility. The company's marking devices are sold in an international market. Their base for all operations is located at the Randolph plant. Elliott is the first plant to locate at the North Randolph Industrial Park under development by Pacella Bros. Corp. of Dedham.

The wisdom of the Town in setting aside this formerly town-owned land for Industrial Development is evidenced by the activity taking place there. Just prior to the publishing deadline, we are happy to announce that Ward Steel Company is planning a 60,000 foot plant in this location also.

Randolph Center has seen the opening of the 86,000 square foot Randolph Shopping Center located between Diauto and Memorial Drives. The Shopping Center contains W. T. Grant, Brockton Public Market, a drug store, and shortly to open a coin-operated laundry and a dry cleaner, and other facilities are available.

Banking facilities have been enlarged in town. The Quincy Trust Company has opened a branch office at Fernandes Shopping Plaza. Norfolk County Trust and Dedham Trust Company have applied for charters and just prior to publication we are informed that both banks have authority to open branches. Bay State

ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY-NINTH ANNUAL REPORT

Federal Savings and Loan Association has applied and had a public hearing in regard to its application to open a branch in Randolph. At this time there are no final results.

The High Street Industrial Park, under owner H. Frank Jablonski, has initiated construction of a machine shop.

We are happy to report that the industries which have been in Town are enjoying growth. Last year, Randolph Manufacturing Company acquired a plant in California. This year, "Randy" is expanding its home office facilities by adding approximately 40,000 feet of administrative office space to its existing plant in Randolph.

In addition to your Commission's activities on the local scene, we participated in the Industrial Exhibit at the New England States Exposition, New York World Fair. Randolph was the first town to take advantage of a two-week display at the Pavilion, July 24 to August 7. July 24, 1964 was designated Randolph Day at the New England States Exposition. Entertainment was provided by the "Tambourines" representing the spirit of Randolph's senior citizens, and by the Amvet Brigadier Drum and Bugle Corps representing the spirit of the Junior Citizens. Randolph's participation in the World Fair was made possible by the generosity of the Town's business and industrial executives. We publish the financial report herewith to publicly acknowledge their participation.

REPORT OF TREE AND MOTH DEPARTMENT

To the Board of Selectmen and Citizens of Randolph, Mass.

I herewith submit my report as Tree Warden and Moth Superintendent for the year of 1964.

Within the past year 1964 we trust you have found that we performed our duties conscientiously and to the best of our ability. The regular program of repairing storm damage, trimming and removal of dead and dangerous trees was carried on during the year. The Dutch Elm disease is increasing each year. There is no doubt but what this disease is here to stay. We are making every effort to keep it at a minimum.

The never ceasing work of eliminating bushes because of view obstruction has been carried on this year. The need of cabling and bracing, pruning and surgery on many storm damaged trees. Fifty-two dead trees were removed during the year and a great many pruned, these trees should be replaced where possible with new ones.

Tree planting has moved on, but not at the rate that I anticipated. Here again labor is needed in too many places at once to devote a proper concentration on any one phase of the work.

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts through its insect pest control department has notified this department, that liability for gypsy moth work for the coming year is $4,330.00.

At this time I wish to thank the Board of Selectmen and Citizens for their splendid cooperation during the past year.

Respectfully submitted.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

I would like at this time to thank all of the Departments for their excellent cooperation toward me in the year 1964. It is known that many dogs are unlicensed in the town and every effort is being made to insure that all dogs in the Town of Randolph will be licensed in 1965. All Dogs 3 months of age or older must be licensed.

As a safety precaution, I would like to strongly suggest to parents of school age children, please make an honest effort to restrain your dog, thus keeping them from following children to school and causing a safety hazard around schools.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

REPORT OF RANDOLPH YOUTH COMMISSION

On October 20, 1964 this Commission was established to promote opportunities for children and youth. To realize their full potential in social, athletic, vocational, and recreational endeavors. The efforts to solve the problems and advance youth activities will never, or should never end and this Commission is part of a continuing process.

The purpose of the Commission defined is to (determine) what it can recommend to the Town of Randolph for the benefit of youth who reside in the town. Its 25 authorized members are comprised from the Clergy, Specific Youth Organizations, various town departments, Businessmen, and various individuals from assorted vocations.

To date there have been three meetings with a fourth scheduled for Jan. 13, 1965. The goal of these meetings has not been simply to exchange views but to improve and establish something.

From the Federal Government, Dept. of Health Education and Welfare, we have received a copy of the 1960 report of the White House Conference on Children and Youth together with a complimentary letter indicating individuals and organizations whom we have contacted and received additional information and aid.

On December 2nd, the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, (Division of Youth Service,) sent a representative to the meeting to provide orientation on school adjustment, counselling programs, which facilitate the early detection of children, manifesting traits tending toward juvenile delinquency, and establishing helpful and kindly relationships with the home for the purpose of assisting parents to improve spiritual, moral, economic, physical or social conditions, that threaten the welfare of the child. At the present time the State has approximately 125 counsellors working in 90 communities. In addition such counsellors provide special services to the Teachers and Principals of local schools. On November 20th, a complete text and booklets, was received from the National Recreation Association, New York City, outlining Community Recreation Programs. Such activities comprise games and sports, social functions, music, drama, arts and crafts, nature and science, hobbies all the year round, indoors and outdoors, after school, after working hours, daytime and evenings, and during vacations periods.

Among the essentials for such a program would be paid, or volunteer capable leadership, land and buildings, and funds, from a recreation budget. Local needs and conditions must be studied before a definite plan of action can be put into effect. For a fully adequate program of active organized recreation, the NRA states the smaller community would need to spend about $3.00 per capita of the total population per year. It is planned to obtain additional material during a future meeting.

Another program under study is the Teen-age or Youth Center where young people can enjoy recreation activities which they help plan and conduct, and which have been established in hundreds of communities. This program centers around informal social activities, but in some cases it includes the arts and crafts, music, dancing, hobbies, table games, and other special activities.

Among the specific recommendations of the White House Conference voted on and produced by more than one Forum was:

"That all community agencies and organizations both public and private be coordinated in their efforts and cooperate in leisure and community youth programs to insure maximum use of staff, services, facilities, building and grounds, in the interests of providing suitably supervised recreation for children."

It is the intention of this commission to also promote such coordination and cooperation.

A few more meetings will be needed to complete compilation of data and information. It is planned that a representative from the National Boys Club attend the Jan. 13th meeting. The next step will be a comprehensive study of such material and it is intended that in the near future a formal draft of recommendations will be presented to the Board of Selectmen.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE TURNER FREE LIBRARY

To the citizens of Randolph:

In accordance with the provisions of Article III of the Bylaws for the government of the Trustees of the Turner Library, this eighty-ninth annual report is submitted to show the condition of the Trust--the library, the building and the funds--for the calendar year 1964 and to mention such other matters concerning the library as may be of general interest.

The Trustees have been pleased indeed to have the active interest and assistance of the "Friends of the Turner Library" during 1964. Through the public spirited efforts of the members of this group, attention was drawn to the need of a new library building by personal contacts, by special releases to town-meeting members and by helpful items in a number of issues of the "Money-saver." By midyear the "Friends of the Turner Library" had served as sponsor for not only a general solicitation of funds (with the assistance of members of the Ladies' Library Association, the Sisterhood of Temple Beth Am of Randolph, the Sisterhood of Temple Beth David of Canton and the Randolph League of Women Voters) but also a special solicitation among leading businesses and business interests in the town (under the direction of Mr. David H. Sproules.) This activity resulted in the addition of approximately $2500 to funds available for the proposed new library and now on deposit in a special account in the Randolph Cooperative Bank. Donations have continued to be received from individuals and from groups from time to time and, as of the close of the year, contributions totalled approximately $9600--including the previously announced gift of $5000 from the Claff Foundation and additional amounts on deposit in a special account in the Randolph Savings Bank.

ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY-NINTH ANNUAL REPORT

Active in the "Friends of the Turner Library" during the past year were Mrs. Elizabeth Beagan, Mr. Edward F. Berry, Mrs. Beverly Butterworth, Mr. John P. Courtney, Co-Chairman, Mr. Albert F. Dowd, Mr. Edward C. Hoeg, Treasurer, Mrs. Eunice Hutchinson, Secretary, Miss Helen Jacques, Mrs. Bernice Kirsch, Mr. Shepperd A. Lesser, Mr. Herbert L. Lyken, Mrs. Olga Lyken, Mr. Irving A. March, Mrs. Adeline Oakley, Mr. Henry R. Sant-suosso, Mrs. Doris Sloane, Mr. David H. Sproules, Mr. William I. Trostel, Chairman, and Mr. Walter C. Winston, Jr.

In order to reduce the amount that the Town otherwise would have to borrow or raise and appropriate for the construction and furnishing of an adequate new library building, the Trustees of the Library early in 1964 voted unanimously to make available from library trust funds the sum of $80,000. This together with the gifts mentioned earlier and the net insurance proceeds of approximately $262,000 brought the money available at the end of 1964 for the new library building to a total of a little more than $351,500. The exact amount to be required for the new building will not be known, of course, until specific bids have once more been solicited. It now appears that this action will be taken just prior to the 1965 annual town meeting.

With the thought that townspeople would want to see a new library building under construction and ready for service at the earliest possible date, the Trustees petitioned the town both at the regular annual Town meeting and at a later special Town meeting in June 1964, for the balance of the funds required for the job. However, town meeting members on both occasions by a slight margin were in favor of postponing this expense until another year. Nevertheless, two small plots of town owned land adjacent to the land heretofore used for library purposes were unanimously transferred to the care and custody of the Trustees of the Turner Library as requested by the Trustees. These plots will be used to help meet desirable ground-floor requirements for the proposed new building including a ground-level entrance to the building from Memorial Drive.

During the first quarter of 1964 the Federal Congress passed and the President signed into law an amendment to the Library Services Act. This new Library Services and Construction Act aims, among other things, "to provide federal assistance in public library services and construction programs without interfering with State and/or local initiative and responsibility in the conduct of public library services." After careful consideration of the provisions of this Act (which will be administered in Massachusetts by the Massachusetts Board of Library Commissioners through its administrative agency, the Division of Library Extension) the Trustees on September 15th voted to make application for federal funds (from the allotment available to the State in fiscal 1965) to assist in the construction of Randolph's proposed new library building. Accordingly, formal papers were filed on September 30, 1964. In a recent letter from the Division of Library Extension, the Librarian and the Trustees were informed that their application has been tentatively accepted by the Massachusetts Board of Library Commissioners for a provisional award. Final acceptance by this Board, including the determination of the amount of any grant, will not be possible until there has been a further review of the specific plans for the proposed new building as well as one or more conferences with the Librarian, the Trustees and possibly others directly concerned with the project and its financing. The Massachusetts Board of Library Commissioners will then submit the project to the United States Office of Education, Washington, D. C., for final consideration and approval. It is not expected that information as to final approval or rejection of the project will be available before March 1, 1965.

During the year, the Massachusetts Board of Library Commissioners announced a plan for establishing regional library service for Eastern Massachusetts. Under this plan, the Boston Public Library would be designated as the Regional Center, with the libraries of a number of other large communities in Eastern Massachusetts serving as Sub-Regional Centers. Each Sub-Regional Center would be a focal point to which smaller, nearby, participating libraries would turn for special reference and research service and certain other supplemental services. The Trustees have studied the provisions of this Regional Library Service plan and believe that it could be increasingly helpful to the many residents of Randolph who patronize our library by making available to them certain reference and research materials (for example) normally not afforded by a library in a town the size of Randolph. Accordingly, the Trustees have indicated to the Massachusetts Board of Library Commissioners that the Turner Library wishes to participate in the Eastern Regional Library Service plan. More detailed information will be available through the Librarian of the Turner Library, as soon as the plan has been put into operation.

The Trustees are grateful indeed for the splendid cooperation of the Librarian, Mrs. Lucia S. Faulkner, and her entire staff throughout the year. Under crowded conditions and faced with increased requests for service, they have responded with a resourcefulness and with a loyalty to library patrons that fully deserve this special recognition and expression of appreciation. The Trustees join them in looking forward to the hopefully not too distant time when a thoroughly up-to-date library building with fully adequate facilities will be available to help them bring the best possible library service to the people of Randolph.

ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY-NINTH ANNUAL REPORT

Subjoined, as a part of this annual report to the town are the several interesting items covered by the Librarian in her year-end report to the Trustees and the detailed figures of the Treasurer of the Trustees for the year 1964.

Respectfully submitted,

LAURENCE SHURTLEFF, President

Report to the Trustees for the Year 1964

Our continuing desire is to have Randolph increasingly understand its library of today and the reasons for various library policies, for understanding needs always to be the cornerstone of any library, be it a lovely new building, or temporary and very crowded quarters such as ours. Let me present some of the questions which have come to us this last year, and our answers.

Question: Aren't most of your books awfully old ones?

Answer: All the classics are "old." A book is "new" when you haven't read it. However, we have fresh, clean copies of older titles and a very substantial percentage of recently published books. Q.: Why don't you carry such-and-such a magazine?

A.: Maybe we can some day. We now subscribe to 74 magazines and 4 newspapers. We choose them from the purchasing list of the largest library in New England, serving the general public. We're getting there! Q.: Why can't you get me books from some large library like the Boston one? A.: The Boston Public Library does not have an interloan system outside a ten-mile radius. The Regional Library System, not too far in the offing, will solve this problem. However, Braintree, Avon and Brockton will accommodate our borrowers with a book NOT IN OUR COLLECTION if the borrower appears with a note from us requesting that specific title. Our neighboring libraries have been considerate to the nth degree in this, as in other respects—completely consistent with the example they set at the time of the fire.

In round numbers, the total of books circulated during the year 1964 has been 100,000. This with a collection in the making for only two years! The figure also points up large increases over former years in the issue of books in each category: Adult, Young Adult and Juvenile. Gifts of books to the library have now reached the 21,600 mark. Naturally many had to be weeded out: umpteenth duplicates; duplicates in excellent condition to store for future use; and some, of course, discarded as being of unsuitable content or condition. Book gifts continue to come along, more slowly, of course. We pounce on the occasional "pearl" and bless the donor. These gifts contribute, in part, to the vast and necessary replacement of this library's burned basic collection. Our own book purchasing continues to plug some of the gaps and to increase the stock of new titles.

Recently a few teachers were apprised by letter of another important angle of the library work, namely restrictions—but with elasticity—on Junior High students regarding using the Young Adult Section and on Young Adults using the Adult Section. For the past eight years non-fictional material for school assignments has been freely on tap, but in proper sequence. Seventh and eighth graders have had assistance in combing their juvenile collection first for factual material; the Young Adult Section next and lastly the Adult Section for such non-fictional material as might suitably fill their need. The last two sections, however, are not open to junior highers for wandering at will. With our Young Adults the pattern has been the same for non-fiction, bearing in mind that material in great demand by Adults will go first to Adults. The fiction areas seem to provide the "off limit" controversy. Here, obviously, the elasticity has to have wisdom behind it, and such has been our goal. In these areas when the aid of a librarian is sought and when informed recommendation is heeded, parents and teachers seldom protest.

Thanks to the kindness of Mr. William Trostel, head of the Town Welfare Department, as well as Chairman of the Friends of the Library Group, so active in the Fund Campaign, we have been able to store some cartons of books in the Welfare Building, so our "useable book collection" at present numbers 18,048 volumes. Broken down, this runs as follows: Adult books, 10,970; Young Adult: 1,872; Juvenile: 5,206. In line with the earlier explanation of available books, Young Adults definitely have access to 7,446 volumes as well as to certain adult fiction.

Our library patrons will be interested in seeing the "new look" of the library—a rearrangement of book stacks, opening the library up much more to the public view. The old arrangement with the canvas curtain across the front served a useful purpose in helping to conceal the inevitable transitional and operational disorder, as well as to modify the intense heat from the windows in summer, prior to the acquisition of the small air conditioner. Cartons—walls of them, book sale sortings, labeled piles at various stages of preparation or departure, incomings and outgoings of odd pieces of furniture—little of this showed from the outside. Greater order now only spells a desperately crowded state of development—indisputable sign of the pressing need for our new building.

More than 1,400 new borrowers found us in 1964, and nearly a thousand borrowers renewed their cards. This total registration figure of more than 2,400 for 1964 contributes to the consistent upward spiral of all our figures.

And personnel? Our stalwarts, Mesdames Saunders, Poehlman, Puffer, Walsh and Kelley continue their find work, with Mrs. Sandra Norian and Mrs. Ruth McMahon more recent part-time additions to the staff. Messers Poole, Fine and Curran have continued with us and Miss Oilshver and Messers Putnam and McMenimon have quickly made their own the same role of fine, interested and capable pages, as did "our boys" now at Princeton, B.U., Graduate School at Harvard and Trinity College. Also, here, special mention should be made of Miss Alice Raymond who, two or three times a week regularly and cheerfully donates a morning of professional classifying. What a gracious and inspiring example has been set by this "senior citizen!"

It has been a good year, a busy year, a testing year. We expect 1965 to be the best library year the town has ever experienced.

REPORT OF THE PERSONNEL BOARD

The Personnel Board has had an extremely active and fruitful year. The Board has consistently pursued its policy of rendering worthwhile and meaningful service to the Town's officers, employees and taxpayers.

The Personnel Board, a comparatively recent innovation in the Town's government, has considered that its function can best be described as one of coordination, representing the best interests of all of the Town in the management of its personnel.

One of the essentials of good personnel management is the maintenance of accurate records. During the past year the Board has been fortunate in acquiring the services of a part-time clerk for this purpose. In addition to clerical service, accurate record-keeping requires the full cooperation of all Town offices. We are pleased to report that we have been given their whole-hearted support, for which we express our thanks.

There were a total of ten public hearings held by the Board in 1964. These hearings provide essential service to the public in terms of airing mutual Town problems for popular solution and support. From the standpoint of cost of government, the most important of these hearings dealt with the decision of the Town to accept or reject legislation which would elevate the salary structure of our Police officers to a level conforming to state standards. The Town subsequently accepted these standards with a resulting increase in police salaries (patrolman) from: Minimum $4773. Maximum $5512. to Minimum $5532. Maximum $6300.

The Board gave hearings to approximately thirty of the Town employees for various grievances in connection with job classification, working hours, wage rates, etc., and recorded its findings after due deliberation. The Board is cognizant of the fact that good service to the Town on the part of its employees is dependent to a large degree, not so much on rate of compensation as upon good morale. The opportunity afforded employees to bring their differences to the Board for its consideration does much to achieve higher morale and a resultant better level of performance.

A close working relationship with the Finance Committee, the Town Accountant, and other Town officials has been fostered by the Board; these relationships have improved this year. The mutual cooperation on the part of the individuals concerned has been largely responsible for this improvement. In turn, the various areas working together provide the kind of efficient climate which is productive of the best Town government in service to the community as a whole.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

The Board has kept up to date in its pursuit of excellence in personnel administration. The ability of the Town to attract, employ and retain competent personnel is dependent on the application of modern concepts to its management. The Board was represented at the annual conference of the Mass. Municipal Personnel Boards Association. It has kept in touch with various governmental and other services providing essential data on cost of living indices, industrial salary levels, fringe benefits, etc., and conducted a substantial number of comparative surveys of cities and towns in order to remain on a fair competitive basis.

A review of salary scales prompted the Board to recommend a 4% salary increase for all employees under its jurisdiction, at the annual Town Meeting. It has been its experience that an informed Personnel Board receives respect and fair consideration from Town Meeting members on personnel matters.

With the assistance of various department heads, the Board established uniform policies for such items as attendance, time records, and sick leave documentation. Standard forms were designed for uniformity and regular attendance reports were required. Specific action was taken in requiring medical substantiation for the allowance of sick leave under certain circumstances. As a result a more business-like atmosphere pervades Town administration.

The Board views its accomplishments with a degree of satisfaction. It does so with the full realization that much may still be done: more detailed documenting of organization and staffing of the Town's agencies, functional descriptions, legal requirements, and related matters necessary to bring Town government to a point of efficiency second to none.

Respectfully submitted,

ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTIETH ANNUAL REPORT

SELECTMEN'S REPORT

The year 1965 has been an exciting year for Randolph. The year 1965 has been a good year for Randolph's citizens. It has been a year of many accomplishments, not the least of which is a reduction of the tax rate — and without increased State aid.

In recent years Randolph has come into its own. Our key geographical location, our busy shopping centers, our abundant and efficient labor force -- all of these are so often cited as reasons. But the real reasons go deeper.

Randolph has proven itself as a harmonious community. In contrast to many other municipalities we consider the homeowner as the backbone of the Town, whether he or she be native or newcomer, commuter or local businesswoman or worker. We appreciate business and industry, — and actively help both — but not to the detriment of Randolph's 21,726 residents.

When we talk of WE, what do we mean? We do NOT mean just Town Hall or Town Officials.

Your government reflects you -- and we, your Selectmen, are proud of that reflection. All Town departments join in this pride.

Randolph government, as never before, is grass roots government, starting from the Voters, through representative Town Meeting Members, branching out into all departments and units. The theme this year has been harmony and unity of purpose. Many records have been set in 1965. Your Selectmen have received more letters commending Town personnel than ever before. Your Selectmen have logged fewer complaints than ever before. Your Town has been praised by outsiders — educators, planners, state, county and national leaders -- more than ever before. Let us all join in our efforts to maintain Randolph's progress. Let us all work for an even greater year ahead.

Respectfully submitted,

BOARD OF SELECTMEN

JOHN R. O'RILEY, Clerk
GEORGE F. CULLEN
PATRICK T. MC DONNELL
JOSEPH J. SEMENSI

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

REPORT OF THE EXECUTIVE SECRETARY

To the Members of the Board of Selectmen and to all other citizens of Randolph:

The year 1965 has seen our Town enter a period of stability. Our tax rate was reduced slightly while a very substantial amount was set aside for a Stabilization Fund.

In addition, long-standing applications for Federal Grants to be used for construction of a new library and extension of our sewer system were approved and construction begun. Other applications for development of a Neighborhood Youth Corps program and the construction of a Neighborhood Youth Facility are still pending with approval of the former anticipated early in 1966.

The Town also obtained surplus equipment valued at between $10,000.00 and $15,000.00 from Government sources for a very nominal amount. This equipment is presently in use by Town Forces.

There is every indication that the continued industrial growth of our Town will assist in stabilizing the rising costs of increased municipal services.

Accordingly, I look forward with confidence to the future.

Respectfully submitted,

HENRY L. LOWD

ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTIETH ANNUAL REPORT

REPORT OF THE TOWN COUNSEL

Gentlemen:

The Town Report of the Legal Department is as follows:

As in the many past years, this Department has always been ready and willing to give its advice and counsel to the various Town departments at any time. Many of the opinions asked for resulted in extensive research, and on other occasions the Department was able to draw on the benefit of a previous similar experience.

The year commenced with the usual consultations concerning articles for the Annual Warrant followed by drafting and casting many of the same into final form.

On the District Court level, there was considerable activity on behalf of the Board of Health concerning the enforcement of its orders. Work in the Superior Court involved some Planning Board and zoning matters. There was litigation before the Appellate Tax Board and the Supreme Judicial Court. Preparation and conferences with many Town departments prior to litigation and trial has been helpful to this department. On many occasions the intervention and mediation by the Board of Selectmen has obviated the necessity of trials.

I would like to extend my sincere thanks to the various departments for their co-operation in providing me with the facts necessary for the preparation, trial and disposition of the Town cases.

Very truly yours,

WILLIAM J. CARR
Town Counsel

THE RANDOLPH PUBLIC SCHOOLS

The Randolph Public School System presently consists of one senior high school (960 pupils) two junior high schools (1367 pupils) and seven elementary schools (pop. 3049, with 134 more in the junior high schools). This is a total of ten buildings with a pupil population of approximately 5510 pupils. In 1950, there was one senior high school with 16 rooms, and five elementary schools, with a total school population of 1989 pupils.

The almost amazing comparison could, of course be made of the whole town or any particular department. However, since the operation of public schools in any community is the most costly single area, and one of the most important, the citizens of Randolph, both new and native, have had to make a tremendous financial effort in the past fifteen years, in order to provide sufficient school building facilities. The response of the taxpayers has been truly magnificent.

The John F. Kennedy Junior High School, the most recently completed building, is a beautiful and functional educational plant which was built at a moderate cost, by present standards, and yet contains everything necessary in a modern junior high school, and is built of materials which will be as free of maintenance difficulties as possible.

The problem of providing sufficient pupil spaces also brought about the need for staff expansion and the provision of proper educational materials and equipment. In 1950, the entire staff was relatively small, whereas we now have a staff of 325 professional, clerical, custodial, maintenance and cafeteria personnel.

Even though the comparison has been made for the last 15 years, the greatest growth has occurred in the last 10 years. Four new schools and additions to two older buildings have been opened since 1958.

Education, both public and private in the past 10 years, and more especially in the last five years, has practically undergone a revolution in methods of instruction, materials, and equipment so that in the midst of the expansion of building facilities and staff, it has been necessary to constantly study and evaluate methods of instruction, and when they were proven valuable, to incorporate them in our own schools.

This has been true at all grade levels, but particularly so in the secondary levels. A few years ago this was particularly true in the area of science, especially as a result of the launching of the Russian Sputnik, but also because of the general great technological changes in the world. Similar changes occurred in the area of math and in foreign languages - so much so that a few years ago the Federal Government entered into the field of public education and offered 50% matching grants, of which Randolph took full advantage, by installing three language laboratories, and later, science and math equipment.

During the past year the Congress has indicated that there will be even greater Federal participation in both public and private education and so certainly the public school program is going to be involved in a rapid evolution.

The success of the changed academic program in the Randolph public schools has been convincingly evidenced by the fact that our high school graduates have been admitted to practically all of the highly recognized colleges and universities in the country, and have had, and are having successful college careers.

We have not, however, thought only of the college-bound pupils but have made every effort to improve wherever possible, the school offerings for pupils enrolled in all courses.

The people of Randolph have every right to be proud of their school system and themselves for having made it what it is. Much has been done, and much remains to be done, all at a nominal cost, for ours is not a rich community, indeed, in ability to pay, Randolph ranks 299 of the 351 cities and towns of the Commonwealth.

However, any child who attends the Randolph Public Schools and applies himself, has the staff, materials and equipment available to enable him to accomplish to the limit of his native ability.

ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTIETH ANNUAL REPORT

1965

The Randolph School Committee herewith submits its annual report to the Citizens of Randolph:

The adoption of the Willis Report by the Massachusetts Legislature gives hope of improved education throughout the Commonwealth, yet it contains practically no recommendations for improvement which had not been previously inaugurated in the Randolph Public Schools.

The biggest problem for Randolph and all communities of the Commonwealth is the need for State funds and it is our fond hope that some sort of compromise measure will be adopted in the immediate future by the legislators and approved by the Governor.

The passage of a great many educational measures by the last Congress is most gratifying. Information is just coming through on many of these, and the impact on the total educational program will not become apparent for some time.

The fact that the drop-out rate in Randolph is 1.7%, as indicated in the report of the Guidance Director, is a source of great satisfaction. For many years now, the policy of your School Committee has been to see any child with his or her parents, who has been suspended from school for a second time, regardless of the reason.

It is our feeling that by bringing the importance of these suspensions to the attention of the parents and working with the parents on the problems, many dropouts have been avoided.

Even though this has added many hours to the normal commitments of the School Committee members, it is a service gladly rendered. It may be that this program exists in other communities, but we are not aware that it does.

The opening of the John F. Kennedy Junior High School has provided the necessary facilities for the proper education of pupils in grades 7, 8, and 9. The members of the School Planning and Building Committee are to be congratulated for the many, many hours which they have devoted to their duties in order to provide school building facilities to meet our ever-expanding school population.

The people of the Town of Randolph, too, are to be congratulated for their continued willingness to pay for the necessary buildings, equipment, staff, etc. The Committee is constantly aware of the financial burden which is being carried by the taxpayers and it is also keenly aware of the strong desire of the townspeople to provide the youth of Randolph with the necessities of a good modern education.

The success of our graduates in all fields of endeavor from college through business is ample evidence of the worth of our expenditures. Your reading of the entire school report is recommended, for it will give you a more intimate knowledge of many of the things which are being done in the schools. Best of all, visit your schools and see for yourself what is being done.

We should like to extend our sincere thanks and appreciation to Superintendent Warren, Assistant Superintendent Lynch, the administration staff, the teachers, clerks, cafeteria, maintenance and custodial personnel, for their continued cooperation and assistance. We are grateful too, to the Police Department and the Highway Department and all other town personnel for their support.

Our special thanks to the townspeople for our new Administration Building. For several years our administrative staff has labored under the handicap of makeshift conditions, involving many moves. Our new permanent quarters, I am sure, contribute much to the maximum efficiency of the operation of the administration in the Randolph Public Schools.

We shall continue to devote all of our energies to work with the Superintendent and all of the staff members to constantly improve the Randolph Public Schools, and with your support, Randolph will continue to be in the forefront of the educational picture.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the members of the Randolph School Committee and to all other citizens of Randolph, I herewith submit my eleventh annual report. In order to avoid duplication as much as possible, many subjects which have been reported on by other staff members will be touched on but briefly or not at all in my own report. However, you are urged to read the entire school report.

ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTIETH ANNUAL REPORT

To mention all of the things which are being done to constantly improve the curriculum would necessitate a volume of too great a size so may I say that at no level in any subject area is the situation static, yet, we do make change with caution and close evaluation, and not just for the sake of change, and sensational publicity.

Indeed, in the matter of publicity, we regret that the entire organization is so busy that insufficient time is available for us to make known many of our accomplishments.

Education takes place primarily in the classroom, and so the work of each and every classroom teacher, day in and day out, is of the greatest importance, and the work of all others, supervisors, principals, etc., is to supplement and aid the teachers.

The change of department heads working in grades 9-12 to coordinators whose primary objective is to correlate the teaching in the respective subject areas in grades 7-12 is a great step forward and quite essential, particularly with the opening of a second junior high school.

The preparation of pupils in both junior highs must be of the same high standard, in order that they may enter the high school with the same background of knowledge. The coordinators and the summer workshops have already made great strides in this direction.

The great increase in staff this year, necessitated by the opening of the second junior high, as well as population expansion at all grade levels has been accomplished after some hundreds of interviews and inspection of records and references. The initial performances of the new staff members have been in accord with our hopes and expectations in practically all instances.

However, an initial appointment in our school system is not one for life tenure for performances must be up to our standards, and constantly improve, or else tenure is not voted. Each year we find that all cannot be recommended for reappointment. On the other hand, we do recommend people who are well-trained and knowledgeable in their teaching field. We do not expect them to be policemen or guards, and we strongly urge all parents to impress this upon their children. The conduct of most of our pupils is quite good, but it is sad to see a teacher fail because her pupils failed to realize that schools are educational, and not correctional institutions.

The loss through death of two of our best, veteran teachers, brought shock and grief to pupils and teachers alike. Miss Marguerite O'Neil, Coordinator of Modern Languages, and a dedicated teacher of French in our system for many, many years, was unable to return to school this Fall, and passed away shortly after the opening of school. Mrs Grace Welch, a native of Randolph, and a teacher at the Stetson School for many years, died quite unexpectedly after an operation in the Spring.

I regret that it is necessary, but we have been constantly forecasting the need for additional school building facilities because of the continually expanding population, and so we have already asked for the construction of an elementary school on South Main St. It will be necessary in the immediate future for a sizeable addition to the senior high school.

We were happy, this past Fall, to be able to move the Special Education Classes out of the Pauline School into the Donovan School, and plans have been incorporated in the new elementary school for special facilities for these groups.

Additional State funds are absolutely essential to relieve the property owners of Randolph and all other communities of the tremendous burden of supporting the public schools. Our budget for the coming year will again, because of absolute necessity, increase considerably, and it is unfair that the Commonwealth does not share its added sources of income. This will not happen unless the citizens of the Commonwealth make known their feelings to the Legislators and to date, this has not happened.

Again, may I thank sincerely the members of the School Committee, for their continued unstinting efforts towards the constant betterment of our educational system. To Mr. William J. Lynch, Assistant Superintendent of Schools, to the principals, supervisors, teachers, clerks, custodial, cafeteria and maintenance personnel, and all employees in other Town Departments, my sincere thanks for their continued assistance and cooperation. Your support is greatly appreciated.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS L. WARREN

REPORT OF THE HIGH SCHOOL PRINCIPAL

It is the privilege of the writer to submit his thirty-fourth report as principal of the high school - the first report being made in 1932.

The new school year of 1965-66 saw some changes in the faculty of Randolph High School. Four teachers were transferred to the Junior High School. Nine teachers left the Randolph School System - one deceased, four to teach elsewhere, one to be married, one to enter the service, and two to return to school for professional improvement. For the size of the faculty, we do not consider this turnover, for the above reasons given, too heavy. Four new teachers were added - one in English, one in Mathematics, one in Science, and one in Social Studies. Large class sizes are now reaching our upper grades and this calls for more groups in all subjects, needing more teachers. For instance, it was not too many years ago when we had one Chemistry teacher - now we have three. We are seeking to keep our class sizes within the area recommended by the Willis report.

It was necessary to open up the school in September of 1965 without Miss Marguerite O'Neil, who was seriously ill. All of us, staff, pupils, and townspeople, particularly those who had studied with her, were grieved to learn of her passing, a very few days later. Miss O'Neil came to us in 1946 as a teacher of French, later to become Language Coordinator and stayed with us to the end, even though she had many opportunities to teach elsewhere. We will always remember her as a gentle woman, a superior teacher who was always dedicated to her profession, and especially devoted to the young people of Randolph High School. We are certain that there are uncounted numbers of her pupils, both present and past who have profited by Miss O'Neil's presence and influence. She will be greatly missed but not forgotten.

As of June 30, 1965, ninety-two seniors who sought admission to full-time undergraduate schools, had received 187 acceptances. This total represents an increase of 49 percent over the total of the Class of 1964 who went on to college. The total of about 150 students in the Class of 1965 who went on to further their education is the best percentage yet. Along with acceptances went a total of $155,000 in scholarship awards. Randolph High School had a National Merit winner and six commendation winners (also National Merit) which is the largest number ever. One of our seniors of 1965 was a National Honor Society winner - this on a national competitive basis. Of the 1965 graduating class, our guidance services helped place 130 in jobs. All in all, 93 percent of the class was placed in one way or another. Most of the remaining 7 percent were taken care of during the summer. We are all proud, naturally, of the results of our work over the years with these young people and like to feel that we have had a small part in their achievements.

There has been a need, as in all schools, for constant curriculum revision. This is a never-ending situation whereby changes need to be made according to demands of the time. This has been going on at Randolph High School, quietly but effectively, particularly in the general education area, with the help of our guidance department and department coordinators. With a dropout rate of a very low percentage, we feel we are getting results and we plan to continue this policy annually as the need arises.

Also, and in conjunction with the curriculum revision, a need was felt for closer coordination in all fields, grades 1-12, and particularly in the secondary school section. With the high school becoming a three-year school, the junior high school also becoming a three-year school and the addition of a second junior high school, a closer tie-in was thought to be highly desirable in all subject areas to the end that a tangible guide to a course of study in all subjects in all grade levels should be established. This is a long task, to be accomplished over a period of years, but the first step in this direction was taken during the summer of 1965 at the request of, and with the support of, the school department. Mr. Francis O'Brien and Mr. John Kearney, Coordinators of Social Studies and English, respectively, with the help of principals and teachers, were given the task of conducting a one-month summer workshop to develop a guide to a course of study in Social Studies and English. It was a large assignment for one-month's work, but with much night work it was accomplished and the guide goes up to and includes Grade 9. Mr. O'Brien and Mr. Kearney did an excellent job and are to be highly commended. Obviously the job is not completely done because it is necessary to carry the work into Grades 10-12 and should be done in 1966. We feel results to be so satisfactory that the same project should be carried out in the summer of 1966 also for the Mathematics and Science fields; then Language and Business.

Since the Rickoer report, the emphasis has been strongly placed on Mathematics and Science. Now it is felt that this should not be at the expense of other subjects and especially in the English area where attention is now being focused. Mr. Kearney, our English Coordinator, has made plans for an In-Service course in English. This is designed primarily for Senior and Junior High School English teachers; elementary teachers are also urged to take part, as the course is designed to better articulate the teaching of English, to bring about the mutual understanding of the English problems in all grades while attempting to bring into focus new trends and directions in the teaching of English.

Randolph High School was used, for the first time, by the College Entrance Examination Board to administer the regular testing program for admission to college. The first test was given in December and the remaining dates for the rest of the school year will be given at our school on the dates assigned by the College Entrance Board.

Respectfully submitted,

HUBERT F. GILGAN, Principal

ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTIETH ANNUAL REPORT

REPORT OF THE DIRECTOR OF GUIDANCE

It is herewith my pleasure to report to the Superintendent of Schools to the Members of the School Committee and to the Townspeople of Randolph, on the activities of the Guidance Department of the Randolph Public Schools for the year 1965.

The foremost project for 1965 was in the area of Curriculum Development and this has had a most successful beginning. The Steering Committee composed of the Principals of the Secondary Schools and this Office, were given the task of initiating and establishing a meaningful approach to the many problems involved in articulating all phases of the school curriculum. All of the major academic areas were represented on the other side of the desk in this process and Department Heads were subdivided into two areas of continuous study, the first being that of supervision and the second being that of curriculum development, itself.

Many excellent results have already been developed from this project, the foremost being perhaps the fact that the heads of each academic area are now known as "Coordinators, Grades 7-12." Such a change in title allows for greater unity in the areas involved and creates a realistic demand upon the teachers to stay abreast of all that is happening in their area.

To this end, the summer of 1965 saw two Workshops in Curriculum Development. These were in English and in Social Studies and were headed by the respective Coordinators of these Departments - Mr. John E. Kearney and Mr. Francis C. O'Brien. Their efforts, in conjunction with selected members of their staffs, extended over the greater part of the summer months and provided a clear and concise solution to many of the problems existing in these complex academic areas.

It is planned that similar workshops in different areas will be undertaken in the summers ahead. Such an ambitious undertaking can only afford great benefits to the students in the Randolph Schools.

The school year beginning in September, 1965 witnessed certain changes in the makeup of the Guidance Staff. Mr. Thomas J. Cassese left his position of counselor in the High School to resume his studies in a Doctoral program at the University of Miami, in Florida. His efforts in behalf of the students in Randolph High School were many, and were marked by a singular quality which is unique in education today. Mr. Cassese's position was filled by the transfer of Mr. Timothy M. Cronin from the Junior High School Staff, and in addition, two counselors joined the Guidance Staff for the first time; both of them being assigned to the new Kennedy Junior High School.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

Miss Patricia E. Kennedy joined us from the Swampscott Public Schools where she was a member of the English Department. She is thoroughly versed in the precepts of counseling and guidance and has shown by her early efforts a propensity for greater growth in this field.

Mr. John B. Atwood was formerly a Counselor in the Whitman-Hanson Regional School District and brings with him many talents of an organizational nature in the field of guidance. The background of both these people and the interest they have shown in their work augurs well for the school children of the Kennedy school district. They both promise to add much to the professional calibre of the Guidance Staff.

In addition to the new members, the Guidance Staff was fortunate in maintaining all of its very capable members during the year 1965. Miss Winifred M. Brennan continues to fulfill her duties as Assistant Director of Guidance with great efficiency and inspiration and her efforts are complemented in the high school by Mr. Cronin and Miss Isabelle J. Bennett, and at the North Junior High School by Mr. Adelino J. Bernardo and Miss Anna K. Good.

During the past year Miss Brennan has been serving as Corresponding Secretary of Alpha Beta Chapter, Delta Kappa Gamma, an honors group of women in public education, and Miss Bennet is the President of the South Shore Women's Guidance Association, a very active and worthwhile organization which does much to sponsor better education programs within this area.

At the same time, the Director of Guidance is serving as Vice-President of the South Shore Men's Guidance Association and was recently named as a biographee in Marquis' "Who's Who in the East" as a member of the educational field who has distinguished himself in public education and in community life, as well.

In 1964, the Univac process was instituted in our High School for the purpose of programming our students. In 1965, the Univac process was employed again and extended to include the automated method of report cards in Grades 10-12. This new system has proven invaluable to high school personnel in a variety of ways and is a forward step towards meeting the pressing needs of today's educational structure.

The key to success in the use of the Univac systems now in use in Randolph High School is in the untiring efforts of the three school secretaries: Mrs. Rose Simmons from the Guidance Office and Mrs. Jo Vennik and Mrs. Betty Fleming from the Front Office. Their cooperative effort in tying together the many details of these complex systems is invaluable to the total school operation.

As have been provided in recent Annual Reports, statistics on the number of counseling interviews for grades 7-12 through the year 1965 break down as follows:

Students, Grades 7-12: (mean estimate)			2,224
Interviews Conducted			12,112
Nature of Interviews: Scheduled	8,154
Walk-in	3,958		12,112
Type of Problem: Personal	837
Occupational	891
Educational	9,876
Testing	508		12,112
By Class: Grade 7	2,003
9	1,810
10	1,828
12	2,967		12,112

One of the most satisfying aspects of these figures was the continuing ability of the Guidance Staff to see each student on the average of almost five times a year. The walk-in ratio also remains high, which indicates that there is a continuing confidence in the ability of the Guidance Staff to attempt to answer the needs of the student body.

The Class of 1965 was a group that seemed to have a keen sense of direction and purpose. At their time of graduation in June, 95.3% of a group of 310 students had been placed either vocationally or educationally. 126 students had been placed in full-time jobs, 17, including one young woman entered the Armed Services of our country, and 152 students were accepted into further education.

A pattern which developed in 1963 and was continued in 1964 now seems to be confirmed by the students who chose educational placement in the Class of 1965. This trend is one in which better than 50% of each graduating class is accepted to schools of higher learning. One interesting aspect is that 88 students were accepted in four-year colleges and universities - a figure which is an all-time high, and in addition the numbers going on to nursing, business and technical schools, as well as junior colleges, are also on the increase. These statistics are, in truth, evidence of the increasing complexity of today's society which demands further education of some nature.

Once again, a great deal of scholarship money was received by this graduating class. A total of $158,545.00 was awarded to 48 different members of the graduating class, from a variety of sources. Colleges themselves awarded $140,760.00, while local sources gave $5,600.00 and outside sources awarded $12,185.00.

James L. Franklin became Randolph High School's second National Merit Scholar in two years and was also the recipient of a nation-wide National Honor Society Grant. William M. Saidel won a principal appointment to the Naval Reserve Officers' Training Corps. There were, in addition, scholarship grants from such outstanding schools as Harvard College, Princeton University, Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Newton College of the Sacred Heart, and Clark University, to name but a few.

For a second time in as many years, the Follow-up Study of the Class of 1964 was based on 100% return. The outstanding statistics are shown in the following breakdown of activities of that class: Future education 50.42%; Employment 42.50%; Armed Services 4.58%; Homemakers 0.83%; Unemployed 1.67%.

A similar study of the Class of 1965 is already under way. The success of these studies has filtered to a number of surrounding communities and there are now a number of requests from sister school systems for our Follow-up Studies, to be used as a model in instituting such a program in these systems.

The National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test administered in March of 1965, has brought letters of Commendation to six members of this year's Senior Class: Julie A. Berlow, Joyce M. Carlson, Barbara C. Jayes, Marcia A. Kelly and Elaine F. White.

This continues to be a method of evaluating the worth of the curriculum in the Randolph Public Schools and the multiple awards won continually in the past few years should be recognized as a measure of success for the Faculty members and Administrative staff who work with these students.

The last item of program importance is the drop-out rate, which for the second time in two years has decreased. During 1965, the drop-out rate in the Randolph Public Schools, Grades 7-12 was reduced to 1.7%. This low figure is extremely significant when we consider the great stress that is placed on providing education for all children - no matter what their ability level. With a holding power of 98.3% at the secondary level and with an average placement record of over 90%, it is clear that the Randolph School System is extending its full efforts in providing a proper and meaningful education to all of its students.

ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTIETH ANNUAL REPORT

The High School Principal, Mr. Gilgan, has offered encouragement and support to the efforts of this Department and it is important in our mind that he know the esteem in which he is held by this Office.

The year 1966 will doubtless hold many new and exciting challenges, but these are the stimuli to greater effort and to new and creative thinking. Such a course demands the precise attention of all who are concerned with the education of our youth, and it is with a firm knowledge of the progressive attitude of the Superintendent, the School Committee and the various school staffs, that one faces this future with confidence and eagerness.

REPORT OF THE JUNIOR HIGH PRINCIPALS

In view of the shared administrative responsibilities at the junior high school level during the 1965 school year, this report is respectfully submitted jointly by Charles A. Brennan and James L. Topham, principals of the North and John F. Kennedy Junior High Schools.

Today the most difficult responsibility of the school administrator is to keep abreast of the innovations in the various curriculum areas and in up-dating the school program to incorporate these changes which are best suited to the needs of the students which the school serves.

Surely the school administrator would be the first to admit that no one person can be expert in all areas of the school program. With this in mind, a Steering Committee for Curriculum Development composed of the Superintendent of Schools, the secondary school principals, the Director of Guidance and the secondary department coordinators was formed to evaluate curriculum and make suggested revisions to the school committee.

As a result of the Steering Committees' findings this past summer Mr. Francis O'Brien, Social Studies Coordinator, worked with junior high Social Studies teachers on a full time basis for four weeks. From the efforts of this team evolved a Social Studies Curriculum for the junior high school which was put into effect last September. In addition to this excellent curriculum guide, this committee reviewed many Social Studies texts and recommended the purchase of additional books to implement the texts now used in the teaching of Social Studies. These books were purchased and are now in use.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

At the same time, Mr. John Kearney, English Coordinator, worked with a team of junior high school English teachers on a similar project. From this committee came a curriculum guide for English for grades 7 through 9. At the recommendation of this committee many changes have been made in instructional materials, methods of instruction and in the English curriculum. Additional texts in the areas of vocabulary and literature recommended by this committee were purchased and are now in use.

It is anticipated that for a four week period next summer a team of junior high school mathematics teachers will work with Mr. Paul Lehtinen, Mathematics Coordinator, and a team of junior high school science teachers will work with Mr. Herbert Wolfer, Science Coordinator, on projects dealing with their respective areas.

In the area of foreign languages Mr. Richard Kaegal, Language Coordinator, is working closely with our language teachers in the areas of curriculum and methods of instruction. Our language laboratory is used by the students on a regular basis and to implement the classroom instruction. We now offer a sequential three year program in all academic areas and we are striving continually to improve our offerings.

With the opening of school in September it was necessary to continue the junior high school on two sessions because of a delay in the completion of the Kennedy Junior High School. Unlike the previous year with the 7th and 8th grades in the P.M. session and the 9th grade in the A.M. session, it was decided that all youngsters who were to remain at the North Junior High School would attend school in the morning and the boys and girls who would be attending the John F. Kennedy Junior High School would be on the afternoon session. With this arrangement, the transition to a full day of school on the 22nd of November was readily facilitated. The return to the single session allows for a longer classroom period, the reopening of the school cafeteria and the hot lunch program, time for make-up and extra help after school, an extra-curricular program during the lunch periods, and use of the gymnasium by the various school sports groups upon the conclusion of the academic day.

Due to a shortage of classrooms in the elementary schools it was deemed advisable to move four sixth grade classes into the junior high school buildings so that the class ratio as established by the School Committee could be maintained. Presently three classes are housed in the Kennedy and one at the North under the supervision of Mr. Francis Dodero, Principal of the Stetson School.

ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTIETH ANNUAL REPORT

The athletic program previously organized on a freshman-varsity basis has evolved into a junior high - senior high school program. The football team this year was comprised of members of both junior high schools. Plans are presently being formulated to include intramurals for both boys and girls so that all students may have the opportunity to participate in an area of athletics regardless of their proficiency.

As evidenced in this report our first responsibility to the pupils lies in a sound academic education which will prepare the student for his future educational or vocational choice. However, the less conspicuous, and many times the most difficult areas to relate to the parent, are also encompassed in our school program. Things such as personal hygiene, proper attire for the occasion, good manners and respect for the rights and property of others are, taken as a total, equally as important as the academic education of the student.

It is unfortunate that the school has to take upon itself the training of students in some of these areas which properly lie with the home. But, since the schools exist for the benefit of all of the inhabitants of the community we shall strive to continue to provide for the educational, moral, social, emotional and cultural growth of all of the youth in our charge.

REPORT OF THE ELEMENTARY READING SUPERVISORS

The elementary reading program in the Randolph Public Schools has expanded, in every phase, over the past ten years. We have seen an increase in the numbers of pupils to be supervised, in the kinds of materials to be used by the multiple-level groups, and, in particular, in the varied methods-approach to reading.

The phonics program has emerged as a basic and integral part of the total reading program. It continues to function as a vital 'tool' for the child, in the development of greater independence in the attack skills for word recognition and word analysis. This well organized phonics program remains the strong foundation of the reading program, and the main support of all the other skills which will be developed at each stage of progression in the complex reading curriculum.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

Outstanding educators in the field of reading are looking very earnestly to the science of linguistics. They are hopeful of using this linguistics material in conjunction with the systematic use of an intensive phonics program. We shall note with great interest the parallel between the new 'linguistic' approach, and the phonics program currently in use in our schools.

We have extended our S.R.A. program to include all grades. This program furthers comprehension through planned listening skill exercises. Each child learns to listen and comprehend, and to develop a sense of time, and sequential time order. Especially on the lower grade levels, this becomes a progressive type of skill development, where every child is exposed to, and practices specific skills that may be applied to his daily reading activities.

As we have emphasized, in past reports, the use of these programmed materials aids the child in his independent thinking and his critical judgments. We continue to direct our efforts to meeting the needs of the individual pupil, so that he might realize his potential, and strive in his achievement.

We have conducted for several years now, pilot programs so that we might observe and evaluate the materials and proposed approaches to the teaching of reading. Through controlled study groups, we are able to weigh the strengths, and at times, the weaknesses of certain materials and methods. The criteria for making these judgments is based on certain stable factors; thorough teacher evaluation, genuine child interest, and concrete evidence of scholastic achievement.

Currently we are engrossed in a pilot program which was developed, under a Ford Foundation Grant, by leading key educators in both the field of Reading and English. The approach in this material is essentially aimed at providing an integrated program, so that every child is led to an appreciation of the literary experience, in addition to being instructed in a well defined language arts program. We are particularly watchful of the language arts phase of the program which involves activities dealing with composition, grammar, phonics, punctuation, and sentence structure. We will take special notice, as to the effectiveness of the language within the reading scope, and we will present an evaluation of the entire program at a later time.

At the lower grade levels, we are making use of materials, Locating the Answers and Getting the Facts for the introduction to and development of study skills. The demand of this material is strictly on total recall from a single reading, or the ability to locate a specific answer within a certain range of information. The practices involved bring about greater independence in reading, as a subject, and in the related subjects of social studies and science.

ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTIETH ANNUAL REPORT

An outstanding item in our reading budget every year is the cost of library books. We have distributed many new books to the existing room libraries, and to the building libraries, along with supplying any additional elementary classrooms. The library books have been carefully chosen with a view to the range of interests, and the various levels of reading. One of the favorite books of the boys and girls, has been those written for the American Heritage Series. These biographies have generated much interest in outside, leisure reading.

REPORT OF THE SCHOOL NURSES

The health program of the Randolph Public Schools concerns itself chiefly with the development of the whole child. The physical, mental, emotional and social qualities are studied and evaluated by the team of nurses.

The duties of the school nurses are many and varied. They are ever increasing in number and present a greater challenge to our profession.

The arrangements for routine physical examinations and immunizations, administered by the school physicians, are made by the school nurses.

Vision testing, hearing testing, first aid, periodic health inspection, teacher-nurse conferences, pupil-nurses conferences, and the many other requirements of our department continues in an efficient manner.

The Tuberculin Testing Program for students in grades one, six, and eleven was conducted during February and May under the supervision of the Norfolk County Tuberculosis Health Association.

School personnel had an opportunity to have chest xrays taken in November when the Mobile Unit visited Randolph.

Mrs. Patricia McDermott, R. N. joined our staff last March. She is a graduate of Bellevue Hospital School of Nursing, New York. Her experience includes hospital work, as well as Girl Scout Day Camp work.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

The school nurses wish to express their appreciation to all school personnel for their cooperation in helping to make our health program a success.

REPORT OF THE DIRECTOR OF MUSIC

Music Education has received a new impetus at both the Junior and Senior High levels. New avenues have been introduced to the students to make them aware of the many fields in which music can play an important part in their avocation and leisure time. With the Theory and Music Appreciation classes, discussions have been possible to examine the influence and importance of music in our society; the object being to show that there may be either active or passive participation in this subject.

The High School Band has performed several times during the school year, in concerts, during the half-time football shows, and in various parades. The band was invited to play the half-time show for the Boston Patriots-Oakland Raiders game at Fenway Park where they represented Randolph before an audience of 24,000 people. The Dance Band performed during Spring vacation at Bridgewater State for the members of the Massachusetts Association of School Superintendents. The Broadway production of "Li'l Abner" was performed by the chorus for two evenings to capacity audiences. The chorus sang at the Spring concert and entered competition at the Southeastern Music Festival in Westwood.

With the addition of the John F. Kennedy Junior High School, two new teachers were hired. Both are native and educated in Randolph. They are Mr. Theodore Haines and Mr. David Berry. Band at the Junior High level now meets three times a week and chorus twice. Freshmen now may elect a music course entitled "Basic Theory and Harmony".

The elementary instrumental program has reached its peak and is now leveling off. Mr. John DeNardo replaced Mr. Milton Gersh who resigned to teach elsewhere. The individual school bands once again played their school concerts and also combined into two large units for the Memorial Day parade.

ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTIETH ANNUAL REPORT

I would like to thank everyone concerned for their cooperation and understanding during this transition. Because of your consideration, this period has been beneficial to me and the program.

Respectfully submitted,

LEONARD RAPOZA,

REPORT OF AUXILIARY PUPIL SERVICES

The Randolph School Committee, this year has added the position of School Adjustment Counselor to the list of special educational services offered to the pupils of the Randolph Public Schools. Each of these services is specifically directed to the end that Randolph children might be more successful in maintaining the school progress to be expected of them.

The Massachusetts Division of Youth Service refunds to the Town of Randolph $4500 annually to be applied toward the salary of the first Adjustment Counselor's position. A lesser amount is paid for additional counselors who might be added as the school population grows. Because the Adjustment Counselor works directly with a child, the number of children he is able to counsel is of necessity limited. Where applicable, he utilizes the assistance of outside agencies such as the Health, Police, Veterans' and Welfare Departments, religious and service organizations, clinics and hospitals to mitigate the child's behavior problems and to reduce the possibility of future delinquency.

Services such as the providing of special books and equipment for children with sight and hearing handicaps, home tutoring, taxi transportation and selective placement in and outside of Randolph for the physically handicapped and any other qualifying children for which facilities are not available in the Randolph system are additional responsibilities of this department. It is noted that taxi transportation was provided for forty-eight in-town and for seven out-of-town pupils. Nineteen teachers provided the maximum of four hours of home tutoring a week as permitted by State Law, to a total of twenty-one children.

In 1965 there were fourteen children qualifying for placement in the Chapter 750 program for Emotionally Disturbed pupils. Seven attended the class conducted by Miss Maloney in Randolph. Seven were placed at the expense of the State of Massachusetts in schools in Ohio, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

State Law limits the size of the public school classes for Emotionally Disturbed pupils to eight. Randolph's elementary class at this time has five children enrolled. Three more are in the process of psychiatric evaluation which is a prerequisite for entrance into the class. Miss Maloney, the teacher of the Chapter 750 class, maintains close contact with the private and public agencies, hospitals and therapists working with her pupils. We are pleased to acknowledge the continued assistance of the personnel of the South Shore Mental Health Center relative to the problems arising in this class as with all aspects of Auxiliary Pupil Services.

The two elementary level and two junior high school level special classes serving fifty-two children have been housed in new quarters this year, the elementary classes temporarily at the Margaret L. Donovan school, the junior high classes in specially designed classrooms at the new John F. Kennedy Junior High School. Plans are presently being finalized for permanent elementary special classrooms to be placed in a proposed new elementary school.

Two new teachers, Miss Janine Janick, a graduate of Illinois State University with Special Class teaching experience in Elgin, Illinois, and Miss Maureen Watters who received the degree of Master in Education this past summer majoring in Special Education at Boston College, have been assigned to the elementary Special Classes.

The annual survey of handicapped children (excluding mentally retarded, emotionally disturbed and visually handicapped) made by the School Nurses shows a total of two hundred thirty-five Randolph children with physical disabilities.

The State, recognizing that the costs of special services are in excess of the regular school costs, has provided for reimbursement directly to the Town Treasurer of slightly more than fifty percent of the cost of special teachers' salaries and fifty percent of the cost of transportation and materials used in the programs. We note that the amount of approximately $34,800.00

Reimbursement	$27,567.94
Receipts	6,524.72
Summer Program	751.70
	$34,844.36

was approved for reimbursement under the various headings of special services in 1965.

At the request of interested parents, a new recreation program for handicapped children was initiated the pas summer. Its success makes it highly probable that such a program will be made available for next summer.

In view of the Federal Legislation providing for the funding of programs such as the Neighborhood Youth Corps and Head Start, the School Department is planning, where necessary, to increase present special services and to provide additional facilities.

We are sincerely appreciative of the continued and whole-hearted cooperation of the members of the School Committee, Superintendent and Assistant Superintendent, School Nurses, Attendance and Youth Officers, Health, Veterans' and Welfare Department personnel, principals and teachers who have made possible the successes that have been achieved by Auxiliary Pupil Services this past year.

Respectfully submitted,

ROBERT D. SAYRS
Director

REPORT OF THE SPEECH THERAPIST

It is a pleasure to submit this report on the Speech and Hearing Therapy Program for the Randolph Schools for the year 1965.

Speech is a dynamic process and its malfunctionings are a concern of all responsible citizens. A speech defect refers to a deviation which at any moment is sufficiently extreme to attract attention to the process of speech, to interfere with communication, or to affect adversely either the speaker or the listener. Speech sounds evolve in a developmental order. For example 10% of speech sounds of six year olds are normally defective.

During the past year over two hundred elementary school children were screened for speech defects. If a teacher suspects that a child might possibly have a speech defect, she submits his name on a teacher referral form. An examination is then made to determine whether a real problem exists. Names may be submitted at any time during the year.

One hundred and twenty children were seen for therapy during 1965. The children were seen twice a week in small groups during the regular school day for periods of twenty minutes. Therapy included articulation, voice, stuttering, cleft palate, and lip reading. The speech defect classified as articulatory comprised 97% of the caseload. The child who omits, substitutes, or distorts certain sounds has an articulation defect. The objective in this type of case is to train the child in paying attention to speech sounds, in recognizing and discriminating them by ear, and in producing them correctly. In about 70% of these cases the /s/ sound was defective although other sounds are frequently misarticulated.

Two percent of the children were seen for stuttering. Stutterers are usually not seen in grades 1-3 since they are not generally aware of their problem. This problem is handled through parent counseling. The remaining one percent included therapy for voice, cleft palate and lip reading.

It is hoped that the speech and hearing therapy program will be expanded in the future to encompass the greater field of communicative disorders. This would include therapy for children having retarded speech development. Many of the children falling into this category are educationally deprived. The team approach will allow the therapist to give more attention to the needs of the individual child. It is further hoped that this program can be expanded into the Junior High Schools more adequately to assist our youth.

Respectfully submitted,

DOROTHY J. ALBERT
Therapist

REPORT OF THE SCHOOL LUNCH PROGRAM

The national school lunch program provides low-cost lunches to school children through a cooperative effort of federal, state and local agencies. It is administered nationally by the Department of Agriculture, and in each state by the state Board of Education. It is a joint community effort undertaken to provide an adequate and nutritious lunch for school children regardless of family income. A child who is fed properly is a better student than a hungry one. Proper food habits learned early in life are never really unlearned. The school lunch program offers an opportunity for children to learn to know and like foods that they have not seen or eaten before.

The lunch program provides a means of using the country's agricultural abundance to advantage, and increases the local market for food in the community in which it operates. Though supplemented by federally-donated food, the lunches consist largely of foods purchased in the local area.

ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTIETH ANNUAL REPORT

The cafeteria at the North Junior High School was closed for the school year of September 1964-June 1965, due to double sessions. We served 290,089 Type "A" meals in the four cafeterias, and 562,559 half-pints of milk in the eight schools.

During this past year, the lunch program expended $38,388.76 for salaries and $88,770.43 for foodstuffs and other expenses.

Our cash receipts totaled $89,325.32, and the monetary reimbursement from State and Federal sources was $42,279.79.

In November 1965, the cafeteria at the North Junior High School reopened to serve lunches. On the same day, the new cafeteria at the John F. Kennedy Junior High School also started to serve lunches.

Permanent cafeteria workers are appointed by the School Committee, upon recommendation of the Cafeteria Supervisor, under Civil Service regulations. It is necessary to pass the Civil Service tests for the various positions, in order to be permanently appointed from the list. Applications should be made directly to the Division of Civil Service in the State House.

We wish to express our thanks to the Randolph Police Department for transporting our receipts to the bank.

I wish to express my thanks to the School Committee, Superintendent, Assistant Superintendent, Maintenance and Custodial staff, and our School Lunch workers for their help and cooperation during the past year.

MARIE C. MINNICK

"NO SCHOOL" ANNOUNCEMENTS

1. The general policy is not to cancel the school sessions except under extreme weather conditions. It is always the privilege of any parent to keep a child at home if the parent feels that it is necessary.
2. The following stations usually carry out "No School" Announcements:

Boston - W.B.Z., W.H.D.H., W.E.Z.E., W.C.O.P.
Quincy - W.J.D.A.
Brockton - W.B.E.T., W.O.K.W.

In most instances, it might be better to listen to the Brockton or Quincy stations, for it is not always possible to reach every Boston station, as they handle hundreds of calls on stormy mornings.

ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTIETH ANNUAL REPORT

3. When the session is cancelled, a recorded message will be available on WO3-7802: however, this is but one telephone line, and it is limited greatly in the number of calls which it can handle. You should rely on the radio stations.
4. You should not call school officials, for they are busy making calls to the radio stations, the bus company, principals, etc. Rely on the radio stations for your information.
5. Do not call the Fire, Police or Street Departments, for by so doing, you hamper their work.

ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTIETH ANNUAL REPORT

REPORT OF THE RECREATION COMMITTEE

Once again I emphasize that the recreation programs in the town should be consolidated and operated from one source. A part time director should be available for the beginning of the program and as the program is developed the need for a full time director should be the thinking of the Selectmen.

A town of approximately 22,000 should not be penny pinching when it leans towards recreation. It should not appoint committees to talk about the necessities of recreation. The Selectmen should hire a part time director to set up a program, explain the cost and allow the people of the town of Randolph to know where the program is headed for the future.

Recreation is an essential phase of the community and we must consider that recreation is an important part of the town's budget.

We cannot continue to bemoan the behavior of youth and the rise of juvenile delinquency when we make no effort to offer assistance in providing wholesome activities through recreation programs.

JOSEPH J. ZAPUSTAS
Chairman

Terms of Office Completed

AVON	Mr. John J. Lemay	March 1965
NORWOOD	Mr. Henry W. Diggs	January 1965

The District Committee continued their monthly meetings at their interim office located at 533 Washington Street, Canton. Mr. Nathaniel Wentworth, Jr. and Mr. Murray Lewis presiding as Chairman and Vice-Chairman respectively. Mr. Edward V. Cogliano of Canton continued as District Treasurer and Mr. William J. Carr, Attorney, of Randolph as Counsel.

On January 19, 1965, this Committee voted to execute the purchase and sales agreement with York Realty, Inc. for acquisition of 35 1/2 acres of land located on Randolph Street in Canton.

On April 6, 1965, Mr. William A. Dwyer of Weymouth was elected as Superintendent-Director of the School District.

On June 22, 1965, a contract was executed for the construction of the Blue Hills Regional Vocational Technical School with the Campanelli Construction Company, Inc. of Braintree, low bidder for the amount of $2,419,096.00.

On June 26, Ground-Breaking ceremonies were held at the site on Randolph Street. Mr. Walter Markham, Director, State Department of Vocational Education, gave the principal address. On the same day, Campanelli Construction Company commenced removing top soil and preparing the site for building development and the project was officially underway.

ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTIETH ANNUAL REPORT

The District Offices were opened on a full-time basis on July 6, 1965.

During August the Committee voted to confirm the sale of bonds for the net sum of $3,025,000.00 for the purpose of financing the school. Assistance in the financing of our school is expected to be $135,000 from the School Building Assistance Commission, for State Planning Cost Reimbursement, and $220,000 from Public Law #88-210, Vocational Act of 1963.

The following months of the year, the Committee developed, with the Superintendent, the organizational policy, educational philosophy and budget planning for the year of 1966. The school opening date has been set for September.

In November 1965, the Preliminary Budget was reviewed by the Committee and other representatives from the town Finance Committees. In November this Budget was voted final and sent to the town Boards of Selectmen and Finance Committees.

The entire Committee owes a great deal of gratitude to the various boards and committees which have assisted us within the past year.

Respectfully submitted,

NATHANIEL N. WENTWORTH, JR.,

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

REPORT OF THE BLUE HILLS REGIONAL VOCATIONAL TECHNICAL SCHOOL

It is a pleasure to submit my first annual report of the Blue Hills Regional Vocational Technical School.

Appointed to this office in July, 1965, and with an opening date scheduled for the school in September 1966, a great deal of organizational, programming and liaison work had to be accomplished in the remaining months of 1965.

First and foremost on the list of essentials, was the organization of an educational policy. This policy had to engross the basic educational philosophy as required by the following:

The Vocational Education Act of 1963, advocating extensive vocational and technical training;

The proposed programs as presented by the Planning Committee, in the formative stages of this District;

The vocational and technical needs of the youngsters in the seven town for which we serve; and,

The occupational and technological requirements of the industry in the area and their requirements for training as outlined by Advisory personnel.

In August of 1965, this policy was adopted by the District Committee and presented to the member towns' Superintendents, Directors of Guidance and other administrators concerned with such policy. It was agreed that the primary purpose of this school was to provide vocational and technical training for boys and girls in grades 9 through 12 who are desirous of entering the labor market upon graduation from high school. Technical School graduates from the secondary program, by the nature of their extensive subject matter training, would be eligible for further education on the 13th and 14th grade levels.

Because of the wide range of individual skills and varied interests which vocational and technical school aspirants usually have, nine different course offerings will be available to youngsters from the District. Each course, in itself is designed, to meet the aptitude requirements of each individual.

The secondary level course offerings are as follows:

Auto Body - Auto Repair - Carpentry - Graphic Arts - Electricity - Electronics - Machine Shop - Machine Drafting - Metal Fabrication

ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTIETH ANNUAL REPORT

For high school graduates desirous of pre-employment training or technical institute level programs on the 13th and 14th grade levels, the following one and two year programs will be available:

Machine Design - Commercial Art and Industrial Design - Data Processing - Advanced Electronics - Dental Assistant - Medical Lab Assistant

In September of 1965, local meetings were arranged with Junior and Senior High School Principals and Guidance Personnel to inform these people about course offerings and education philosophy of the District prior to pupil orientation.

In October and November, assembly programs were held in every Jr. and Sr. High School in the District for the purpose of presenting the program offerings available for ninth and tenth graders in September 1966. Question and answer periods were made available to interested youngsters and brochures, in color, outlining the program were made available to all children.

As budget time approached, pupil enrollment, a mere estimate at this time, had to be considered from previous surveys and current indications of interest from local Jr. High Schools. It was agreed by all concerned that the applications for September enrollment should be available for 9th, 10th and 13th grades, an enrollment of approximately 350 students. Such an initial enrollment will increase 1966 operating costs over past planning estimates. It will however, provide greater training opportunities for more youngsters throughout the District, and a year earlier in many cases. The final 1966 District Operating Budget, as presented reflects this enrollment.

On December 31st, 1965, the building construction has approached the 50% completion mark. To keep abreast with the building progress and to provide ample delivery time, approximately 1/3 of the machinery and equipment for this school has been contracted for.

To date, approximately 100 interviews have been held following application for instructional staff positions. Non-teaching personnel applications are now available and interviews will be set up in the spring of 1966.

These past few months, speaking engagements have been scheduled for me with the following adult organizations throughout the District-Rotary Club, Kiwanis Clubs and P.T.A.'s. I welcome the opportunity to tell the adults of the District of this new and exciting educational program now available to the children of the area.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

I should like to acknowledge at this time the excellent help and cooperation that has been given me by the District School Committee, the Superintendents of Schools in all the member towns, the Guidance Directors and personnel, the local Finance Committees, the District Planning Committees and the Advisory Committee of the school.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM A. DWYER
Superintendent-Director

REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE STETSON FUND

This past year the Trustees had the Town Hall corridor painted on the first and second floors. A new counter top was installed in the Registrar's office and we are in the process of installing all new counters in the Town Clerk's office.

A new office was created for the Personnel Board and Trustees of Stetson Fund by utilizing an old storage room on the second floor.

Upon request of the Board of Selectmen and department heads the Trustees installed four air conditioners in the Town Hall. There are now only two departments without air conditioning and this we hope will be done in 1966.

A program of stripping and waxing each tile floor in the Town Hall was started in September. Each floor, after being stripped, now looks like new and there are only two offices left to complete. This work is being performed by the new custodian, John Cullen, each Saturday.

This report would not be complete if we, the Trustees, did not publicly express our sorrow on the sudden death of Matty Fahey, the Town Hall custodian. He was a good and kind man, who was liked by all who knew him. His death was a great loss to the Town. Our sincere and honest sympathy is extended to his wife and family.

In closing this report, the Trustees wish to point out to the townspeople that in another year something will have to be done with the outside of the Randolph Town Hall. The possibility of aluminum siding, rather than paint, is being explored and it is hoped that one-half the cost for this project can be absorbed by the Trust Fund.

ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTIETH ANNUAL REPORT

REPORT OF THE SCHOOL PLANNING AND BUILDING COMMITTEE

The John F. Kennedy Junior High School opened on the 22nd of November, 1965.

Balance on hand $89,960.49 unexpended.
5% retainers fee of contractors price $77,448.11
Making a total of $162,408.60

As of January 1, 1966, the committee retained a balance of $1,565.39. Out of this, $900.00 has to be paid for surveying the Courtney property, the proposed site for the new 24 room elementary school. $400.00 will be paid for percolation test.

At a special meeting held October 13, 1965, with the Board of Selectmen, the Finance Committee, the School Committee, the School Planning Committee, and Executive Secretary Lowd, Mr. Thomas Warren, Supt. of Schools, discussed the needs of future classrooms.

It was decided by the School Committee and the School Planning and Building Committee that it was most urgent to call a special town meeting in January to avoid double sessions.

Also proposed was that a twenty four room elementary school be built on the Town-owned Courtney property on South Main Street and to be completed by September 1967.

Both committees unanimously chose the Tedesco Associates of Woburn, Mass., Architect, who designed both the Margaret L. Donovan School and the John F. Kennedy Junior High School.

Tedesco Associates were given a letter of Intent to draw up plans and to give an estimate of the cost of construction to build the new elementary school.

The School Planning and Building Committee would like to extend its thanks to all the Town departments for all of their help and fine cooperation during the past year. Also our thanks go to the Tedesco Associates, Architects, Tocci Construction Co., and to Bruce Dunbar, our Clerk of the Works.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

We also gratefully acknowledge the help and assistance given by Mr. Thomas L. Warren, Superintendent of Schools, and Mr. William J. Lynch, Assistant Superintendent of Schools.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF HEALTH

This report is for the period from December 14, 1964 through December 31, 1965.

REPORTABLE DISEASES

There were three hundred nine cases of communicable diseases and other health conditions reported to the Board of Health, as follows: Chicken-pox, 31; German measles, 11; Measles, 51; Dog bites, 189; Mumps, 5; Tuberculosis, 5; Scarlet fever, etc., 5; Salmonellosis, 7; Infectious hepatitis, 1. Additionally reported were 2 cases of racoon bite, 1 squirrel bite, and 1 cat-scratch. These data reflect an overall decrease of over sixty-two percent in reportable diseases when compared with the incidence during 1964; slight increases were noted only for dog bite (16 cases, or 10 percent), measles (7 cases, or 16 percent), and tuberculosis (2 cases, or 67 percent).

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

CLINICAL PROGRAMS

Mental Health: a total of six hundred forty interviews for consultation and clinical services for the benefit of Randolph residents was reported by the South Shore Mental Health Center; this number is an increase of four hundred fifty-two (240 percent) over that for 1964.

Influenza Inoculations: Influenza immunization clinics for Town employees were held on October 27 and November 24; one hundred fifty-nine inoculations were given. Influenza vaccine inoculations were provided also for the Senior Citizens group; one hundred thirty-four individuals received at least one injection.

School Immunization Clinics: The Board of Health furnished supplies and other logistic support for Diphtheria-Tetanus booster inoculations for Grades 1 and 5 in six schools; two hundred eighty-five injections were administered. Six hundred sixty-three had recently been inoculated and parents of forty children refused permission for the injections.

Immunization Survey: Through the efforts of Dr. F. R. Philbrook, a survey was conducted in Randolph during May to determine the immunization status of Town residents; the survey was made by personnel from the State Department of Public Health in cooperation with the Randolph Health Department and was supported in part by a Vaccination assistance Project Grant from the United States Public Health Service. Briefly, the report shows good immunization levels against poliomyelitis, smallpox, diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus; indicated was some laxity on the part of parents in having their children vaccinated against smallpox at the recommended early age. Thirty-one copies of the Survey Report were distributed to the School Department and to Randolph physicians.

Biologic Supplies: Over twenty-six hundred vials of biologic products and other supplies were obtained from the Biologic Laboratories for issue to Town physicians and for use in immunization clinics.

HOSPITALIZATION SUBSIDIES

Tuberculosis: Eight tuberculosis patients were hospitalized for a total of 732 hospital days. One-half of the hospital fees, for which the Town is responsible, amounted to $9,663.12 through December 20, 1965; insurance credits for four of the patients reduced the net cost to the Town to $6,806.20. Beginning January 1, 1966, the Town's share of the per diem hospital fees will be increased from $13.16 to $13.70.

Premature Infants: Hospital fees in the amount of $552.00 were paid for care of three premature infants; one-half of this amount ($276.00) was reimbursed to the Town by the State.

ENVIRONMENTAL SANITATION

Connection to Public Sewerage: Legal action was instituted against four residents for failure to comply with orders to connect their dwellings with public sewerage; as a result, three of the defendants subsequently complied, while the other case is still pending.

Complaints: Five hundred forty complaints of overflowing individual sewerage disposal systems and other health nuisances were investigated and appropriate actions taken. It became necessary to resort to legal action to accomplish the required corrections in three instances of overflowing disposal systems.

Sixty legal notices ordering abatement of nuisances were issued; compliance resulted in the majority of these cases.

Individual Sewage Disposal Systems: Two hundred thirty-three permits were issued for the installation or repair of individual sewage disposal systems. One hundred forty-five local sewage disposal systems were inspected and approved.

Food Service Establishments: Implementation of the new article of the State Sanitary Code governing food service establishments resulted in one hundred ninety utensil swab tests. Forty-one food service establishments met the minimum requirements and the required permits were issued.

Waste Disposal: Operation of the Sanitary Landfill as well as collection and disposal of garbage have been conducted satisfactorily.

Nursing Home: A sanitary inspection was conducted in one Nursing Home prior to licensing by the State.

Swimming Pools: In accordance with the provisions of Article VI of the State Sanitary Code, a permit was issued for the operation of one semi-public swimming pool; sanitary inspections and examinations of records were made approximately every two weeks during the season.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

Stabling of Horses: Revised Regulations governing the stabling of horses in Randolph became effective October 1, 1965. Applications for licenses to keep horses were disapproved in four cases because the facilities failed to meet minimum requirements; these applicants have been ordered to remove horses from their premises.

RABIES PREVENTION

In early December news releases, subsequent to an outbreak of rabies in dogs in an adjoining state, Dr. F. R. Philbrook urged all dog owners to have their pets immunized in order to prevent local occurrence of the disease; absence of rabies in domestic pets minimizes the possibility of humans acquiring the disease. Such a control measure is of significant health importance in view of the increasing dog population and the rising incidence of dog bites in the Town. During the last week of December, the Massachusetts Department of Public Health strongly advised local Boards of Health to conduct or sponsor rabies immunization clinics for pet animals.

PLUMBING INSPECTIONS

It is anticipated that a new Massachusetts Uniform Plumbing Code will be published sometime during 1966; it will supersede all existing local plumbing codes. Notification of the effective date of the new Plumbing Code will be made public when the information is available.

Four hundred thirty-six permits were issued for various installations as follows: water closets, 371; sinks, 298; wash bowls, 356; bathtubs, 278; pressure boilers, 133; water heaters, 104; wash trays, 86; shower baths, 30; washing machines, 56; roof heaters, 5; tankless, 26; dryer, 1; sewer connections, 126; drinking fountains, 8; urinals, 8; drains, 19; cistern boiler, 1; laundry, 4; Total items 1890.

GAS INSPECTIONS

Three hundred fifty-nine permits were issued for gas installations as follows: ranges, 186; water heaters, 186; central heaters, 189; kitchen range burners, 221; dryers, 94; wall heaters, 6; friolator, 1; water chiller, 1; BTU heaters, 2; infrared heaters, 34; Bunsen burners, 15; steam table, 1; gas plate, 1; incinerators, 3; floor furnaces, 9; emergency generator, 1; space heaters, 9; hot water tanks, 24; unit heaters, 4; industrial furnaces, 2; base-board radiators, 2. Total items, 792.

ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTIETH ANNUAL REPORT

The dogs and racoon were held for observation after having bitten humans; the cows were quarantined for suspected tuberculosis. The heads of 2 dogs and 1 squirrel were forwarded to the Wassermann Laboratory.

All barns in Randolph were inspected; the animal census showed 31 cows, 43 horses, and 4 sheep. All cows were tested for brucellosis with no reactors revealed. It became necessary to destroy 1 horse. There were no cases of encephalitis in horses during 1965.

Five hundred ten calls were investigated during the year; the calls were received from the Board of Health, Police Department, Massachusetts Division of Livestock Disease Control, Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, and the Pet Placement Supervisor of the Boston Animal Rescue League.

MILK INSPECTIONS

Compliance with Milk Standards was investigated and maintained throughout the year. All complaints were answered; in one instance, subsequent to laboratory tests, a dealer made required corrections following notification. Licenses were issued as follows: Pasteurization, 1; ice cream, 1; vehicle, 16; store, 42; oleomargarine, 30.

This relocated section of Vine Street required extensive blasting of ledge prior to graveling, and subsequent oiling and sealing of the finished roadway. A retaining wall was constructed, and private properties loamed and seeded as necessary. The resulting roadway intersection as completed has eliminated an extremely hazardous location.

I would like to express my personal thanks to the Town officials and other Departments for their cooperation with the engineering department in completing the many projects outlined in this report.

Respectfully submitted,

Drought conditions continue to plague the area. With the Great Pond 10 1/2 feet below normal every effort to supplement the supply has been exercised by the three towns - Extensive pumping of the Blue Hills River - The Pumping of Sunset Lake in Braintree - The operation of Richardi Reservoir and the trenching of Cochato River into the Great Pond, plus the purchase of outside water, has managed to get the towns by so far. The ban on water usage invoked by the three towns continues to be in effect and will very likely continue through 1966. This Board wished to express its sincere thanks to the Police Department and the Randolph Civil Defense for their efforts in policing and patrolling the town to enforce the water restrictions. Although many violations were reported to the department there has not been one second offense violation.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF PUBLIC WELFARE

During 1965, of the five public welfare programs administered by the Randolph Welfare Department, three programs - Old Age Assistance, Medical Assistance for the Aged (sometimes referred to as the Kerr-Mills program), and Aid to Families with Dependent Children increased by caseload and expenditure over 1964. The programs of Disability Assistance and General Relief decreased by caseload and expenditure. However, the average total caseload per month for all of the programs increased from 183 to 192 and the total expenditure consequently increased from $305,635.00 in 1964 to $338,382.00 in 1965. An encouraging factor to the local taxpayer, who helps support these programs, is the decrease in the net cost to the Town of Randolph: from $79,114.00 in 1964 to $73,563.00 in 1965. This is primarily due to the revision of the reimbursement formula by the Federal Government in all of the welfare programs except General Relief. The combined state and federal reimbursement for the 192 cases for 1965 totalled $264,819.00 compared to $226,521.00 for the 183 cases for 1964.

The following comparisons leave no doubt as to the most single contributing factor in the ever rising costsof Public Welfare - the medical expenses:

Payments to:	1963	1964	1965
Hospitals	$ 22,777	$ 43,036	$ 38,759
Doctors	9,527	8,772	9,008
Druggists	14,060	15,753	21,314
Nursing Homes	64,409	69,277	90,886
Total All Medical Expenses	$110,773	$146,448	$174,505

With the passage of Medicare by the Federal Government, it remains to be seen whether its impact on the Public Welfare programs will reverse the ascending costs of medical services.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

Public Law 88-452, known as the "Economic Opportunity Act of 1964" has affected and will continue to affect public welfare administration in this community as well as smaller and larger ones in this State and throughout the Nation. Seven titles or divisions under this Act combine in an unprecedented manner to attain one primary goal: "To mobilize the human and financial resources of the Nation to combat poverty in the United States". In cooperation with the Randolph School Department, our department enrolled five children (with parents' permission) from our Aid to Families with Dependent Children program on July 7, 1965 for an eight week course. These are children who are eligible and were in the age bracket to enter the first grade in September, 1965. Much could be written about the various youth programs under the Act but space does not permit.

On July 31, 1965, after twenty-five years of faithful, dedicated service as Clerk-Stenographer and Senior Clerk, Miss Marie E. Sullivan terminated her public welfare position having reached retirement age. We wish her many, many years of happiness and good health. Mrs. Esther O. Weigold, former Junior Clerk, successfully passed the Civil Service promotional examination and has succeeded Miss Sullivan in the Senior Clerk position. On July 28, 1965 Mrs. Arline K. Dower began her duties as Junior Clerk-Typist, having been appointed from the Civil Service list by the Board of Selectmen on July 26, 1965. On September 20, 1965 Miss Rosemary A. Holub of Milton began her duties as Social Worker, having transferred in the same position from the Hingham Board of Public Welfare. Mr. William Hardy was elected for one year at the Annual Town Election as member of the Board of Public Welfare as Harold W. Macauley did not choose to run.

We wish each new staff and Board member the best of success and personal satisfaction in the complex art and science of aiding the indigent.

Respectfully submitted,

BOARD OF PUBLIC WELFARE

ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTIETH ANNUAL REPORT

REPORT OF THE DIRECTOR OF VETERANS' SERVICES

To The Honorable Board of Selectmen:

Herewith you will find a summary of services rendered to the veteran and his dependents under Chapter 115 and 584 under the General Laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Our case load for veterans' benefits was increased over 1964; also our services to the veteran and widows for pension purposes had doubled.

I take pride in informing you that we stayed within our budget and did not have to request additional money from the Finance Committee.

Mr. James M. Hurley who was appointed my assistant, starting May 10, 1965, has been a great help to this office in keeping within our budget. He is a very apt pupil and will be well qualified to take over on my retirement so these services to the veteran and his dependents may be administered by a qualified Director.

The budget for 1966 will be less than 1965, which shows the efficiency of the administrative staff of this office.

WILLIAM S. COLE
Director, Veterans' Services

REPORT OF THE COUNCIL ON AGING

The past year has been an eventful year for our elderly citizens. The Federal, State and Local governments have enacted and put into effect numerous programs which should prove to be extremely beneficial for our elderly citizens.

Medicare, a dream for many years, is now a reality. This long-needed program, which will become effective July 1, 1966, will finance extensive hospital service and post-hospital care for persons who are 65 and over.

Additionally, the Federal Government inaugurated a concerted battle against three major killers — heart disease, cancer and stroke. The Regional Medical Complexes bill, signed by President Johnson on October 5th, establishes health clinics for the care and treatment of these diseases, which take so heavy a toll among the elderly.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

The Older American Act, passed in July, creates an Administration of Aging in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Locally, the Council suffered a great loss with the passing of its Chairman, Helen Haney, at the age of 90. Miss Haney was, for many years, an outstanding and valiant worker on behalf of our senior citizens. Tribute was paid to her on the occasion of our Senior Citizens Day, and the Helen Haney Memorial Plaque was awarded to the Rev. Walter Lyon, as the outstanding friend of the elderly in Randolph. We shall miss her greatly.

The annual Senior Citizens Day, on September 19th, was a splendid tribute to our Golden Agers. The celebration consisted of a large parade, in which practically all of our leading citizens in all walks of life participated, as well as public officials and Representatives and Senators in the General Court. The press, local and metropolitan, gave the affair excellent coverage. The Committee which arranged the program, consisting of representatives from practically every civic and social group in Randolph, did an excellent job and I am sure the day will be long remembered by our senior citizens. The Council on Aging received the following letter from the Commission on Aging for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts:

"Dear Mr. Welch:

We were very pleased to receive your report on Senior Citizens Day activities in Randolph. We must honestly say that Randolph's demonstration was one of the best we have heard about.

The thing that impresses us most is the fact that this program involves the town officials and various organizations and not simply the elderly themselves. This type of community participation is very commendable.

We are always pleased to hear from you, Mr. Welch, so keep us informed of any special program or projects pertaining to the elderly in Randolph.

Sincerely,

James J. Quill,
Administrative Assistant"

Additionally, during the past year, the Town has started a program of not more than fifty (50) units of housing for the elderly, to be subsidized by the Commonwealth, at no expense to the Town. This program is progressing very rapidly and it is hoped, by the time of the submission of our next report, our deserving elderly citizens will be in occupancy.

The Council would be recreant in its obligations if it did not pay suitable tribute to the splendid work which has been done on behalf of our elder citizens by the Senior Citizens group of Randolph.

All in all, it may be truthfully stated that the Town of Randolph would appear to be fully cognizant of its obligations and responsibilities to those of our citizens who are no longer young.

Respectfully submitted,

GEORGE N. WELCH, Chairman
RANDOLPH COUNCIL ON AGING

REPORT OF THE CIVIL DEFENSE AGENCY

The blackout, Tuesday, November 9th, affecting thirty million persons in part of Canada and the northeastern United States, clearly demonstrated the need for an active Civil Defense in Randolph. Within minutes after the blackout at 5:21 p.m. Communications were established. Civil Defense generators were set and operating to provide light and power to the NIKE site and to the Town Hall and certain street intersections for smooth traffic control. Civil Defense Auxiliary Police were assisting the regular police under direction of the Randolph Chief of Police Carl Macauley, while our maintenance department checked electrical equipment, generators and communications.

The immediate response of the Civil Defense Staff personnel, the Civil Air Patrol and the Public Works Department justified the many hours of training and preparation for meeting such an emergency in an efficient manner.

A critique of the entire operation pointed up deficiencies for correction, and emphasized the continuing need for intensive training in all departments to insure coordinated action in time of a major emergency caused by natural or nuclear attack.

The acquisition of the Nike Site for the Civil Defense of Randolph, including three Launching Pads with elevators and missile storage space below ground level (that cost the government one million dollars each) will afford protection to town offices and personnel. This five and one half million dollar complex provides a base for building an efficient Civil Defense organization complete with: a two hundred (200) bed hospital unit; a First Aid station complete; fifty foot and sixty foot towers communications antennas; a 100 kilowatt stationary generator with sufficient electrical output to supply the entire base; mobile generators of thirty (30) kilowatt, twenty-five (25) kilowatt and thirteen (13) kilowatt capacities for movement to sensitive areas for emergency lighting.

The five and a half acre, enclosed area (the roads are paved) within the fifteen acre Nike Site contain an administration building, a hall for class-room lectures (separate Building); garage (new) heated with separate heating unit, electric lights, chain hoist, large overhead doors, capacity for six or more trucks, the complete 200 bed hospital unit (plus 14 refrigerators for medicines requiring certain degrees of temperature). Additionally, there is a power house; a building for the Underwater Rescue Teams, and a separate fireproof building for gas storage. All buildings have electric lighting, hot and cold water, heating units and intercommunication telephone system.

The present Motor Pool consists of one twenty-eight seat bus; one half-ton truck; one panel truck; one 4-door sedan staff car. (The motor equipment was furnished by donations and from surplus property).

The development of the Randolph Civil Defense Agency has been accomplished mostly by volunteer labor. During 1965 twenty thousand, one hundred eighty-six (20,186) hours were devoted to Administrative training of Auxiliary Police; Administration, Maintenance and all departments and phases of the civil defense organization.

Great credit should go to these men who at personal sacrifice of their time have donated their personalities and experience for developing a Civil Defense worthy of the name, for this Town.

The value of Civil Defense, to our townspeople, is determined by his knowledge of the programs for better security in any emergency involving the saving of lives and property.

Three hundred fifty thousand persons were killed in one afternoon in Dresden, Germany in 1945, in an air attack. (More than eleven times the population of Randolph). It has been estimated that all but ten percent could have been saved with proper Civil Defense training. Russia, Germany and England give their Civil Defense top priority. Our lives are important, too.

An invitation is cordially extended to all people to visit and inspect our Civil Defense Installation at the NIKE Site.

RALPH E. MacLEOD, Director
Brig. Gen. U.S.A., Retired

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

The Town of Randolph is rapidly increasing in population, resulting in an increase in calls and demands upon the men of this department. It is impossible to give the citizens of Randolph adequate coverage with our present man-power, therefore we are inserting an article in the Annual Town Meeting Warrant, requesting an additional two men. I trust the citizens will seriously consider this article and act favorably upon it.

Anyone who has had occasion to visit the Police Station will tell you that it is a disgrace to the Town. I hope that before another year passes, some action will be taken by the Town, relative to building a Police Station, one that we can be proud of.

In closing I wish to express my thanks and gratitude to the citizens of Randolph, the Board of Selectmen, Finance Committee, Town Officials and members of the department for their cooperation and in return you may be assured that the Police Department will stand ready to assist you at all times.

Sincerely yours,

CARL L. MACAULEY

REPORT OF TREE AND MOTH DEPARTMENT

I herewith submit my report as Tree Warden and Superintendent for the year of 1965. The regular program of repairing storm damage trimming and removal of dead and dangerous trees was carried on during the year. As this work is spread over eighty-five miles of road, it limits the amount of work to any one street.

1. Tree Planting in the year of 1965.
The restoration of the beauty of our town of Randolph by plant-trees, both shade and ornamental, is an important function of our town.
2. Trees Removed for the year of 1965.
During the year 90 trees were removed.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

3. Tree Trimming.

During 1965 extensive tree trimming was carried out on many streets throughout the town.

4. Education.

The educational side of our work is an important field as the public knows so little about trees and related problems. In the course of a year many hundreds of requests for information relative to trees and tree care, Conservation, insect problems, etc., are answered or advice given where assistance may be had to guide them.

5. Moth Department.

The Moth dept liability for gypsy Moth control for the coming year is $3,500.

At this time I wish to thank the Board of Selectmen and citizens for their splendid cooperation during the past year.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSEPH J. HART
Tree Warden and Moth
Superintendent

One hundred and seventy four dog bites were reported to the Dog Officer in 1965, on each of these reports the following action is mandatory. A. Quarantine the dog, B. Make report to the Division of Livestock Disease Control, C. Report to and work with the local Board of Health.

Disposition of dogs were as follows:

26 were put to sleep (destroyed) as results of accidents, etc.

20 were turned over to the Animal Rescue League of Boston.

28 were sold and the fees turned over to the Town of Randolph.

115 dogs and 3 cats were picked up by this department, kept in custody and returned to owners in Sharon, Canton, Stoughton,

ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTIETH ANNUAL REPORT

Braintree and two dogs were from Rhode Island. Of these dogs (115) 76 were unlicensed and the owners were forced to license the dogs before their release.

Gas bombs as a deterrent against bad dogs were purchased and distributed to others as protective measures.

11 Conferences were held with the Board of Selectmen.

4 Conferences were held with the Town Clerk and staff.

728 Cards were sent out to delinquent dog owners, these cards are sent out at the direction of the County Dog Officer and the Dedham Superior Court.

Received 32 cases to investigate at the request of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals and the Pet Placement Supervisor of the Animal Rescue League of Boston.

Dog Licenses sold in Randolph in 1965 were as follows:

938 Males 134 Females 622 Spayed Females 16 Kennels,
a total of 1710.

I would like to thank all of the departments involved for the excellent cooperation shown me and the department in the year 1965. The relentless effort will be carried on in 1966 to the end that all dogs will be licensed. All dogs three months of age or older must be licensed.

Again at the close of 1965, I direct an earnest plea to the parents of school age children, in 1966 please make a renewed effort to restrain your dog so that it will not follow the children to school. This will eliminate dog packs gathered around the schools and it will also eliminate fear and severe danger to your children. This type of dog is a menace to the safety of others and will be treated accordingly. Please cooperate with your dog officer and the School officials.

Respectfully submitted,

CORNELIUS J. CROWLEY

To the citizens of Randolph:

In accordance with the provisions of Article III of the by-laws for the government of the Trustees of the Turner Library, this ninetieth annual report is submitted to show the condition of the Trust - the Library, the building and the funds - for the calendar year 1965 and to mention such other matters concerning the library as may be of general interest.

This has been a year of real progress for the Turner Library. As shown in the Librarian's report to the Trustees (attached as part of this report) the number of registered borrowers increased during the year and now stands at the highest point ever. Correspondingly, the number of books, magazines and other material borrowed from the library is expected to exceed the total for any previous year in the Library's history. These record high figures are most gratifying, particularly in view of the extremely limited space in which the library now operates and the relatively small collection of books acquired in the short space of three years, since the destruction of the Library by an incendiary fire in December 1962.

At this point it seems most appropriate to express the Trustees' appreciation to our Librarian, Mrs. Lucia S. Faulkner and her entire staff for all they have done throughout the year to help attain such favorable results. At the same time I wish to thank the many kind friends, too numerous to mention by name, who have donated books and other material to the Library during the past year. With these contributions, and those of previous years, patrons of the Library were able to consult and borrow material that otherwise in many cases would not locally be available to them.

Without a lessening of interest in achieving and maintaining the standards of good library service and in meeting the needs of those using the library during 1965, the Trustees have devoted considerable time and effort to the plans and financing for the new library now under construction on the site of the original building. At the annual Town Meeting, the Trustees requested the sum of $15,000 to supplement other funds available for the construction and furnishing of the new library building; and this was granted.

On June 14, 1965 official notice was received from the Massachusetts Board of Library Commissioners that Randolph's application for a grant of $133,076 was among the first to be approved under Title II of the newly amended Federal Library Services and Construction Act. With additional sums available, the Trustees solicited bids for construction of the new building.

Of the six general contractors who submitted bids on this project on July 22, 1965, the L. C. Blake Construction Corporation's bid was lowest and, shortly thereafter, a formal agreement with this highly recommended Quincy firm was signed. Among those participating in the brief but meaningful ground-breaking ceremony on August 11, 1965 were State Senator James R. McIntyre, State Representative Ralph W. Cartwright, Jr., Selectmen Norman B. Silk, Patrick T. McDonnell and John R. O'Riley, the three Selectmen who also serve as Trustees of the Turner Library, also, Selectmen George F. Cullen and Joseph J. Semensi, Miss Alice Cahill representing the Massachusetts Board of Library Commissioners, Mrs. Lucia S. Faulkner, Librarian, Raymond L. Mason - Trustee, Walter M. Gaffney - Architect and L. C. Blake - Contractor.

With favorable weather prevailing throughout the Fall, construction work under the personal direction and supervision of Mr. Gaffney and Mr. Blake proceeded according to schedule. As the year ended, therefore, the building was virtually "closed in" and its successful completion within the three hundred days specified in the contract seemed assured. After that will come the installation of furnishings and library equipment; but it is the hope of the Trustees that the Library can be opened for service before the summer has ended.

The Trustees were pleased indeed during 1965 to accept a number of gifts toward furnishings for the new Library. The Junior Ladies' Library Association on May 11, 1965 served as sponsor for "An Evening with Myron Floren" - a popular concert of accordian, organ and piano music assisted by the Randolph Community Band. The proceeds from this highly successful undertaking, amounting to $1270, were presented to the Turner Library for use in furnishing the meeting room in the new building. The Library also received a gift of over $500 in memory of the late Seth T. Crawford - a descendant of one of the original donors of the Turner Library, and a longtime resident of Randolph who for many years served as President of the Library's Trustees. The donor has requested that this gift be used in furnishing the reading room of the new building. A gift of money collected at a Thanksgiving Eve service which was held at Temple Beth Am and in which all faiths participated also has been presented to the Library. This generous gift, like an earlier one from the same source, is to be used for a shelf of books in the new library. For these thoughtful contributions and for the equally thoughtful gifts of many others throughout the year, the Trustees are most grateful.

The Trustees were saddened by the death on June 12, 1965 of Roland H. Marde. Mr. Marden had ably served as a Library Trusttee for a full twenty-five years and had long been active on the Finance Committee of this Board. Currently he also was Chairman of the Trustees' Committee for building the new library and at the time of his death had successfully brought plans and financing for the new building to the very point of soliciting bids and awarding the construction contract. His loyalty, sound judgment and friendly counsel in matters pertaining to the Library will be greatly missed by the Trustees. At the gracious suggestion of Mr. Marden's family, friends were invited to send memorial gifts to the Turner Library Building Fund and over $450 of such gifts have now been gratefully received by the Trustees.

Appended as a part of this report is the Report of the Treasurer of the Trustees. Of the total amount of money appropriated by the Town for the Library, it can be seen that all was needed and used except approximately $5000 in the Salary Account. This amount had been provided to care for a First Assistant Librarian. However, with the shortage of library workers having first assistant qualifications, it has not yet been possible to fill the position. A still greater effort must be made probably at a higher salary amount if we are to attract a qualified applicant prior to occupancy of our new building.

In November 1965 the vacancy on the Board of Trustees was filled by the election of Mr. John P. Courtney of 3 Markle Circle as Trustee. Mr. Courtney has been asked to serve on the Finance Committee of the Board.

In closing I would like to express the Trustees' appreciation to the Selectmen, and to all Town officials, Committees and employees for their continued cooperation throughout the year.

Respectfully submitted,

LAURENCE F. SHURTLEFF, JR.
President

JOHN L. PORTER, Treasurer

REPORT OF THE LIBRARIAN

Dear Friends:

With the exception of the rich promise for 1966, in my experience 1965 has been the brightest year for the Turner Library. Perhaps the two greatest spurs to our endeavors were final word on the Federal Grant and the first glimpse of the steel super-structure. Then hopes and plans became anchored in reality; adequate space and interesting programming became more of a "tomorrow" proposition, rather than "sometime"; staff artists actually made some beautiful display posters for next year, and the smell of smoke seemed very remote.

ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTIETH ANNUAL REPORT

This year our attention has focused most particularly on BOOKS, of which we added 3885 to our collection. From three years' occupancy of temporary quarters, and a collection still numbering only 21,508 volumes, I feel that inter-dependance in depth of our reading public and the functioning library is becoming increasingly apparent to all. This is good. Given this recognition, a fine synchronization of efforts is the logical outcome. Both the public and staff are bearing in mind that Turner Library has the dual problem of building from "scratch" a basic collection of old and proven books, the while we continue to add those recently published. But our public wants more books. More new books. And more non-fiction - authoritative, up-dated. Our answer this year has had to be as basic as the book need is: "As you appropriate, so can we buy."

Within the framework of escalating service to the public is the very high percentage of "best sellers" available at the library. Fortunately our public poses to themselves the questions Should we have fewer newly published books and more copies of them, to fill our requests, or should we have more new titles with fewer copies to go around? Then they conclude, obviously our book budget has much to do with this. The nearest to a solution which the librarian can hope to achieve for this problem at this stage of development, is to gear the book purchases to "demand-and-necessity."

1965 has firmed our resolution to go on record with a salute to our Young Adults. Much is written and voiced about the teen-agers today. We think they're great. We don't expect them to act like thirty or forty-year-olds. We expect them to be YOUNG adults; and a nicer, more decent, more sympathetic, more likeable crowd - each year - would be hard to find!

Service has been given fresh impulse this year with the advent of the interloan system with the Boston Public Library, in anticipation of the Eastern Regional Library System which has yet to get off the ground. This interim interloan service has proved to be quick and helpful, bringing requested books not in our own collection and not in great demand to the individual borrower, the two libraries involed handling the postage, and the borrower bearing the obligation of quick pick-up and return.

Of the vast majority of the Turner Library public, patient and understanding of the problems surrounding the re-establishment of a library, we cannot speak too appreciatively; and their patience naturally begets patience. 1965 saw 2515 people registered for library cards. This figure, together with those of the two previous years (cards are issued for three years), indicates that about one third of the town is registered at the library - a very healthy condition indeed!

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

Of the many generous gestures of this same public - from the interdenominational Thanksgiving Church Service, from the Junior Ladies Library Association, from individual borrowers whose gifts of duplicate copies alone netted us $200 at our book sale, the staff echoes your warm appreciation. Again in 1965 you have given unstintingly of time and energy, and we gratefully salute you! 1965 has had problems and answers; steady growth and increased reference service; more crowded conditions, more gasoline fumes, more dedicated service from members of the staff and more joyous expectancy. Certainly trying to solve the foregoing problems has entailed some necessary preliminary steps for townsfolk and staff alike in planning the Turner Library to "remould it nearer to the heart's desire."

Respectfully submitted,

LUCIA S. FAULKNER
Librarian

REPORT OF BUSINESS AND INDUSTRIAL COMMISSION

We are happy to report that in 1965 our town has taken additional steps forward in the development of an expanded tax base resting upon industrial growth. The words that are used to describe what has happened in the year 1965 will be few, but the impact upon the town's economy will be great, and in future years the benefits will be shared by all who have an interest in the town of Randolph.

The North Randolph Industrial Park under the development of Pacella Bros. Corporation of Dedham saw the opening of the Ward Steel Company 60,000 foot plant. Ward Steel specializes in spring steel, and services an international market from its Randolph headquarters.

Harrington, King and Company, which originally started its business as ship chandlers over one hundred years ago in Boston, moved its operations to the North Randolph Industrial Park and is presently occupying a 30,000 square foot building. They cater to the needs of the marine and boating industry, and service wholesale accounts throughout the eastern United States.

The facilities of the Suburban Indoor Tennis Center were opened this year. It offers four indoor clay courts together with comfortably furnished observation areas and modern locker room facilities containing sauna baths. A professional instructor is available to help the beginner or to polish the fine points of the game with those who are advanced in their skills. Special rates are available for families, clubs and organizations.

ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTIETH ANNUAL REPORT

Since our last report we are happy to say that the Norfolk Company and the Dedham Trust Company have been granted charters to operate branch offices in the town of Randolph.

Just prior to this report being submitted for publication it was learned that Gilchrist's will construct a 172,000 square foot distribution center on an eight and one-half acre parcel of land located on Mazzeo Drive (Route 139) near the Fall River Expressway (Route 24) at the interchange. The decision by Gilchrist's to locate its distribution center in Randolph was based in part upon the following statement by the executive department of Gilchrist's: "We are selecting Randolph over many other locations even though it is remote from many of our stores because it has the advantage of proximity to major highways, enabling us to move our merchandise to our stores without travelling through the congested metropolitan areas". We are also informed that there will be monthly sales of household merchandise at the distribution center.

We are also happy to announce that Campanelli Bros. - Industrial Division is constructing the Gilchrist Distribution Center. This is the first building to be constructed on the forty-acre industrial tract under development by Campanelli Bros. - Industrial Division.

The Commission is happy to conclude this report by stating that based upon the increase in interest in our town by reputable industrial realtors we feel that the coming year will see a substantial increase in our industrial growth.

The expansion of the industrial community in Randolph is not the result of the efforts of any one group but is based upon the joint efforts and cooperation of all of the departments in the town of Randolph. We wish to take this opportunity to thank them for their cooperation. Your Business and Industrial Commission again pledges its efforts to another year of results and activity.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

REPORT OF THE PERSONNEL BOARD

The Personnel Board functions to administer the classification and compensation plan of the town. It is dedicated to the principle of equal pay for equal work, at a scale which places the town in a competitive position in order to attract and retain competent employees.

The Board has an open door policy in its relationship with town employees. The ability to be heard on all matters affecting their salaries is an important morale factor. Therefore, in addition to its regular monthly meetings, special meetings are held when deemed necessary for the convenience and/or necessity of an employee wishing to be heard. In 1965, 13 meetings and 4 public hearings were held. A total of 46 employees were given hearings for various grievances in connection with working hours, wage rates, job classifications, holidays, etc., and the findings of the Board were duly recorded. Hearings were also given to civic-minded citizens who appeared on behalf of town employees. Due to difficulty encountered in scheduling these hearings, the Board adopted a policy of requesting employees wishing a hearing to make an appointment at least 48 hours in advance of a meeting.

The Board instigated a conference of Norfolk County personnel boards which was held in Randolph. 21 representatives from 11 towns, and 3 officers of the Mass. Municipal Personnel Boards Association attended. A lengthy report of this conference was mailed to the 28 towns in Norfolk County. At this meeting, Gerald Faherty of the Board acted as moderator. The Board lost a valuable member when he moved to Brockton. His experience in personnel matters, competence and zeal were outstanding contributions in the formation of the personnel by-law and in guiding the Board through its early problems and decisions.

At the annual town meeting it was voted to increase the number of Board members from three to five. Accordingly, at the next regular meeting, Chairman Finn welcomed the new appointees of the Board of Selectmen, James F. Clark and David J. McGill. Upon the resignation of Mr. Faherty, Dr. William Leavitt was appointed to the Board. A member was also sent to the annual conference of the Mass. Municipal Personnel Boards Assn.

Numerous comparative surveys of cities and towns were conducted in order to evaluate problems; various governmental and local statistics were obtained to provide data on industrial salary levels, cost of living indices, wage scales and fringe benefits. More detailed personnel records were compiled under the able systems maintained by Mrs. Ann Bessette.

ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTIETH ANNUAL REPORT

The Board wishes to thank all boards, committees and departments which cooperated in regard to its documentation, and looks forward to a continuance of that good relationship which is the basis of efficient town government.

Respectfully submitted,

Randolph Personnel Board

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF REGISTRARS

The Board of Registrars submits its annual report for the year 1965. During the past year 219 new voters were registered, the total number of voters after the annual correction of the Town's polling list now being 10,314 which include the following:

Precinct 1	1768
Precinct 2	1565
Precinct 3	1671
Precinct 4	1850
Precinct 5	1947
Precinct 6	1513

The registrars have street listed 13,639 people 20 years of age and over, and now have a newly completed file system containing 52,000 cards with all street listing information recorded thereon. The registration record of every registered voter has been brought forward from past records contained in ledgers, and entered on the cards of this new system. Many long and discouraging hours went into this two year project, a project never attempted before, but a project consisting of a system needed much too long. While the process of this new system was underway, eighty new streets were re-numbered, and the changing of the Towns precincts took place, which effected all five new files that were in the making. This new cross file system includes a master file, alphabetical file, listers file, street file, and a registered voters file. "Persons Listed by the Registrars of Voters Books", were also printed.

Over 2000 dogs were listed in the year 1965, and the names of all those owning dogs were turned over to the dog officer.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

Since the last street listing the Town has added 25 new streets, and extended many old ones with 232 new homes added, which include 205 single family dwellings, 26 duplex dwellings, and 1 multiple dwelling.

The Board wishes to extend many thanks to the members of the Towns Engineering department for their help and cooperation, whenever they have been called upon.

Respectfully submitted,

ETHEL McDONALD, Chairman
KATHERINE M. SMITH
CATHERINE L. KILEY

REPORT OF THE HOUSING AUTHORITY

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen:

You will recall that, at the Annual Town Meeting in March, 1965, the Town of Randolph voted, under Massachusetts General Laws, Chapter 121, Section 26-K, to establish a housing authority for the elderly for the purpose of constructing not more than fifty (50) units of a low-income housing development for the elderly in Randolph. On May 26, 1965, the first meeting of the members of the Housing Authority was held at the G.A.R. Hall, at which time the Housing Authority was organized. At this meeting, the members adopted the by-laws of the Authority and elected its members to the various offices. Prior to this meeting, pursuant to the Massachusetts General Laws, Chapter 121, this Honorable Board of Selectmen appointed James W. Brennan, John J. Coppinger, Henry J. Rota and George N. Welch as members of this Authority and the fifth member, Rev. Walter K. Lyon, was appointed by His Excellency the Governor, John A. Volpe. On July 13, 1965, the Randolph Housing Authority received their Certificate of Organization from the Secretary of the Commonwealth.

Since last Spring, the Housing Authority has met regularly through the Summer and Fall, and has chosen as a proposed site for the low-income housing development for the elderly, a 2.9 acre parcel of land off Mill and North Streets, owned by Julia M. Good. Early in the Fall, the Housing Authority submitted their Part One Preliminary Application for Financial Assistance to the State Division of Housing. This preliminary application required a great deal of factual information concerning statistical data on the number of elderly persons registered in the community, number of elderly persons living in nursing homes, and number of elderly persons in the community receiving Old Age Assistance. A great deal of information was also required with regard to the proposed site, including information as to accessibility to the center of town, Welfare Department, medical facilities, churches, transportation lines and with regard to municipal services available, such as sewerage. In October, the officials from the State Division of Housing came to Randolph and looked over the proposed site and examined the preliminary application with the Housing Authority. Subsequently, the Housing Authority received tentative approval of its Part One Preliminary Application and the proposed site, subject to various conditions being met to the satisfaction of the State Division of Housing. One of these conditions stipulated that the appropriate zoning be obtained for the proposed site, so that the multiple unit low-income housing development might be constructed on this site. As this report is being written, the Randolph Housing Authority is preparing to go before a Special Town Meeting in January, 1966, to obtain the necessary zoning amendment so that construction of this development may go forward.

The reason that the Authority chose the off Mill-North Street site was that it met all the requirements set forth by the State Division of Housing, namely its accessibility to the center of Randolph, to the churches, medical facilities, Welfare Department, transportation lines and, of special importance, the fact that sewerage was readily available from North Street.

Th Housing Authority, as this report is written, has engaged an architect, an appraiser, an attorney, and is presently considering engaging a land surveyor and, if favorable action is taken on our zoning amendment in January, we anticipate that the ground will be broken and construction will begin late in the Spring of 1966.

The Housing Authority would like to thank all the Town Officials, Departments, and Boards that have cooperated with and aided them during the past year. The Housing Authority would especially like to thank the Town Clerk and Treasurer and Director of Public Assistance, who made available to them most of the statistical information required concerning our elderly citizens in Randolph. We would also like to thank the Engineering Department for preparing the plot plans of the proposed site and for their many other courtesies with regard to this proposed development. We have received the full cooperation and assistance of the Planning Board and this Honorable Board of Selectmen, but for whose help we certainly could not have made the progress that we have made.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

We hope that, by the time of the Annual Town Meeting in 1967, our elderly citizens will be housed in this low-income housing development for the elderly, which will involve no expense to the Town of Randolph.

Respectfully submitted,

REV. WALTER K. LYON, Chairman
GEORGE N. WELCH, Vice Chairman
HENRY J. ROTA, Treasurer
JAMES W. BRENNAN, Assistant Treasurer

DEDICATION

During the latter part of 1966, Representative Ralph W. Cartwright, Jr. of Randolph announced his intention not to seek another term after representing the Town for nearly fifteen years in the Great and General Court of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

During his years of service in the Massachusetts Legislature, Representative Cartwright was always available for advice and counsel, and represented the citizens of his district with devotion, integrity and ability.

On Saturday, October 15, 1966, the citizens of Randolph and other towns in his district joined in honoring him for his dedication to public service and complete cooperation with local Officials in protecting their interests.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF SELECTMEN

The year 1966 was a year of continuing progress for the citizens of Randolph. Substantial improvements were made to existing municipal facilities, including extension of existing sewer and water lines. Construction also was begun on a twenty-four classroom elementary school to serve the needs of our growing school population.

In addition, construction of a 48-unit low-income housing for the elderly got underway. This facility which is complete with a community center designed for our Senior Citizens residing in this housing complex is scheduled for occupancy by the Fall of 1967.

Following completion of construction in 1966, the Turner Library re-opened to the public in beautiful surroundings, after a disastrous fire destroyed the original building and its contents.

In the land areas set aside for planned industrial expansion, the citizens of the Town have seen increased building activity in buildings either completed or still under construction. Plans have also been announced for both new construction or substantial additions to existing buildings.

Coordination and cooperation between all Town Departments reached an all-time high. This, together with an enlightened Town Meeting membership and a watchful citizenry, has contributed to the feeling of confidence with which your Board of Selectmen looks to the future.

The Board of Selectmen is especially grateful to all the civic-minded citizens serving on various Town Boards, Committees and Commissions, who have contributed so much towards making Randolph a better town in which to live and work.

Respectfully submitted,

BOARD OF SELECTMEN

ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTY-FIRST ANNUAL REPORT

REPORT OF THE EXECUTIVE SECRETARY

To the Board of Selectmen and all other citizens of Randolph:

The year 1966 has seen substantial additions to our existing municipal facilities. However, anticipated revenue from the Massachusetts Sales Tax failed to materialize in the total amount officials of the Department of Corporations and Taxation forecast would be distributed to Randolph. Therefore, unless prompt and specific action is taken to bring about a more equitable distribution of Sales Tax revenues to the towns, the cost of improvements to our municipal facilities will continue to be borne by tax-paying homeowners.

In the meantime, we have obtained approval for a continuing Head Start project which will benefit underprivileged children of the Town by pre-school training. This program is in addition to Neighborhood Youth Corps projects presently underway that have substantially benefited the Town. Since these programs are financed by Federal Funds, the benefits obtained have been brought about without any effect on our local Tax Rate, or expenditure by any Town Department.

The Town has also been successful in obtaining additional surplus equipment from government sources that have provided additional facilities to the citizens of the Town without requiring either outlay of Town funds to obtain this equipment, or the hiring of additional personnel.

The progress made during 1966 is due in great measure to the wonderful cooperation which exists between the members of the Board of Selectmen, and all departments, boards and commissions in the Town. For the assistance received from each of them, I should like to express my sincere appreciation.

Respectfully submitted,

HENRY L. LOWD

REPORT OF THE TOWN COUNSEL

Gentlemen:

The Town Report of the Legal Department is as follows:

The early part of the year was devoted to review of articles for the Annual Town Warrant.

The Legal Department has been called upon for many opinions from the various Town Departments. As in the past, the Departments have been most cooperative in collating and furnishing the facts concerning various legal problems which have beset them.

Consultation for the first time got into the labor field and a case still pending before the Mass. Division of Labor Commissioners involves questions of appropriate bargaining unit.

A zoning appeal case brought the Town to the Supreme Judicial Court of the Commonwealth.

There was also litigation at the District Court and Superior court levels.

Many appeals to the Appellate Tax Board were disposed of.

Very truly yours,

WILLIAM J. CARR
Town Counsel

LAW SUBMITTED UPON REFERENDUM AFTER PASSAGE

"Do you approve of a law summarized below, which was approved in the House of Representatives by a vote of 118 in the affirmative and 102 in the negative and was approved in the Senate by a vote of 21 in the affirmative and 16 in the negative?
SUMMARY

The Act imposes a temporary tax upon all retail sales of tangible personal property at the rate of three percent of the selling price. Sales of certain items are exempted from the tax, including but not limited to sales of food products for human uses, articles of clothing, prescription medicines, agricultural machinery and certain publications. The statute contains specific provisions relating to the registration of vendors, the filing of returns and the payment of the amounts collected by such vendors. Vendors may apply to the State Tax Commission for abatements of the amounts owed where they believe such amounts to be excessive, and decisions of the Commission on such applications may be reviewed by the Appellate Tax Board. The Commissioner of Corporations and Taxation shall have the usual powers and remedies provided for tax collection for the collection of the taxes imposed by this section. The State Tax Commission shall issue regulations necessary for proper administration and enforcement of the Section.

The act further imposes a temporary excise upon the storage, use or other consumption in Massachusetts of tangible personal property at the rate of three per cent of the sales price of such property. Sales upon which the retail sales tax described above has been imposed, or which are exempt from the retail sales tax, shall be exempt from the use tax. Sales upon which a tax has been paid in another jurisdiction shall also be exempt. Assessment, abatement, and collection of the use tax shall be governed by the provisions which relate to the tax upon retail sales. The tax upon retail sales and the excise upon storage, use or other consumption shall be effective during the period from April 1, 1966 to December 31, 1967.

Each qualified taxpayer shall be entitled to a credit of four dollars for himself, four dollars for his spouse and eight dollars for each qualified dependent, but such credit shall not be allowed if the taxable income of such individual and his spouse exceeds five thousand dollars for the year. In addition to the taxes described above, the Act provides for new excises upon certain banks; new taxes upon the income of certain corporations; new taxes upon cigarettes; a room occupancy excise upon rent paid for the use of hotel rooms and other lodging places; and excises upon sales of certain alcoholic beverages.

The Act creates the Local Aid Fund for the purpose of providing educational assistance, and authorizes the periodic distribution of amounts from such Fund to the cities and towns. In addition, the Act contains a variety of provisions relating to the program of State aid to public schools, and to its administration."

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

REPORT OF THE RANDOLPH SCHOOL COMMITTEE

1966

The Randolph School Committee herewith submits its annual report to the citizens of the Town of Randolph:

The members of the School Committee are elected by the voters of Randolph under the General Laws of the Commonwealth, and are charged with the important responsibility of providing the best possible education for the youth of the town.

The implementation of the educational program is delegated to the School Committee under the General Laws by the General Court, and therefore the School Committee of any municipality in the state becomes an agency of the state. The formation of policy, budget making, personnel appointment, approval of curricula, choice of textbooks, planning of school services, formation of educational specifications for school construction, implementation of Federal Programs, and the evaluation of the educational program - all these are the duties and responsibilities of the School Committee.

Regular meetings of the Committee are scheduled on the first and third Mondays of every month at eight p.m. in the Administration Building. However, due to the growth and expansion of the school system, and the increasing involvement in the State and Federal programs, your Committee has found it necessary to increase the number of its meetings.

The passage of the Collective Bargaining Law, Chapter 743, has necessitated much deliberation and negotiation as well as contingent conferences with other agencies and committees on questions pertinent to this novel and involved, legal and encyclopedic question of labor relations.

In addition, your Committee has had to attend and participate in hearings at the State House before the State Labor Relations Board, conferences with the Board of Selectmen, the Recreation Commission, meetings with the Self-Help Inc., in Brockton, (this Federal Program takes in 16 communities nearby); meetings with the Boston School Committee concerning P.L. 89-10 Title III; the monthly meetings of the School Planning and Building Committee; and the regular meetings of Area II group of the Massachusetts Association of the School Committees.

During budget deliberations, the Finance Committee has always had a member present at the Committee meetings. From all these combined efforts of public officials there has ensued the highest cooperative understanding and assistance in the administration of the multiple problems of public education.

ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTY-FIRST ANNUAL REPORT

During the past decade, the cooperative effort of the Randolph School Committee has achieved outstanding results in keeping abreast with the burgeoning growth of the town, and in providing quality education for our pupils.

1. The erection of the North Junior High School, the John F. Kennedy Junior High School, the Elizabeth Lyons and the Margaret L. Donovan elementary schools, together with the enlarging of the Tower Hill and McNeill Schools, and presently the erection of the new Martin Young Elementary School, as well as the projected enlargement of the High School--all have been possible through the conjunctive work of the Committee with the School Department and the School Planning and Building Committee.

2. The erection of the School Administration Building.

3. The pilot effort on the part of the Randolph School Committee to enlist the support of the surrounding towns in Vocational Education, resulting in the erection of the Blue Hills Regional Vocational Technical Planning Board, and the subsequent institution presently serving the union of 7 region towns has enabled us to close down our vocational school, and to enlarge the scope of our vocational offerings to students.

4. The installation, with Federal Aid, of three Language Laboratories in our system.

5. The great increase in awards of Scholarship aid to our High School graduates - From 1964 to 1966 - a total of $495,385. was received which is a tribute to the quality type of education and student that our schools produce.

6. Increased participation in Federal Programs - including Public Law 874, Public Law 864, Public Law 89-10, and Project 244-187 - which have resulted in many hundreds of thousands of dollars during the past several years.

7. A pilot project in the establishment of a Work-Study Program, the purpose of which is to prevent drop-outs from the High School.

8. A cooperative effort of 16 towns and cities in the Federal Self-Help Program, which offers educational experiences and added educational opportunities to students from the pre-primary level through the post-high school years.

9. An ever-increasing Special Education program, to provide for the physically and mentally handicapped student. One of the latest innovations in this area has been the use of home-to-school communications systems for home-bound pupils wherein they have the opportunity to participate in classroom teaching and discussions.

10. The continued upgrading of curriculum.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

11. The establishment of an Administrative Department to upgrade and safeguard our plant and properties, now valued at $15,000,000.

12. Installation of an Electronic Detection System to protect school buildings against vandalism.

It is hoped that the impact of the sales tax and the consequent distribution of money to the towns for educational purposes will materially bolster the increasing costs of providing excellence in the educational system.

The adoption of the Willis report by the General Court will eventually result in the establishment of a kindergarten program, and this will become an item of planning concern for your School Committee as well as the following items in the immediate future:

1. The necessity of the employment of a professional negotiator to handle the intricacies of the Labor Relations Act.
2. The consideration of the obsolescence of the Belcher School.
3. The enlargement of the present high school.
4. The necessity for egress roads at the John F. Kennedy Junior High School and the McNeill School.

The Committee is most grateful to the people for their sustained effort to support the growth of the educational burden. Likewise, the Committee wishes to expand its gratitude to Superintendent Thomas L. Warren, Asst. Superintendent William J. Lynch, Administrative Assistant Bruce Dunbar, the various staff, teachers, clerks, cafeteria, maintenance and custodial personnel for their valued assistance and cooperation.

The distinctive professional assistance of Town Counsel William J. Carr, the School Planning and Building Committee, the Police Department, the Highway Department and the Board of Selectmen all have contributed to the united effort to provide an ideal educational program.

Your Committee is dedicated to the furtherance of this cooperative effort to work with all public officials and with the townspeople to enhance the quality and excellence of our public schools.

The Chairman, who is completing his tenth year of service on the Committee, wishes to express his deep gratitude to the dedicated co-members of the Committee who have so unselfishly devoted their time and talents to the ideals of academic excellence and forward-looking implementation of these ideals.

ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTY-FIRST ANNUAL REPORT

Likewise, too, the Chairman wishes to emphasize his gratitude to the towns-people for their generous support, and to all the town officials who have so thoughtfully contributed to their regard and assistance in the multiple areas of the committee's duties and responsibilities.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the members of the Randolph School Committee and all other citizens of Randolph, I herewith submit my twelfth annual report. My own report will be quite brief, for the activities of the Randolph Public Schools have been very adequately covered in the reports of the various other administrative reports, and I strongly recommend that you read them carefully.

I wish to commend the members of the Town meeting and all of the taxpayers for their 100% record in voting for new school buildings, the latest of which is, of course, the Martin E. Young elementary school, presently under construction on South Main Street.

A very large addition to the present senior high school is absolutely essential in the very near future, and I urge that funds for preliminary plans be voted at the Annual Town Meeting, in March, 1967.

Our effort to achieve excellence in our educational program is constant. At all levels we continue to evaluate and improve course content and course offerings.

The financial ability of the town has to be a factor in all that we do, and so priorities have to be established.

Every advantage has been taken of all new sources of funds and through the diligence of all personnel, we have received many thousands of dollars of Federal monies in excess of our supposed allotments - yet all of these represent a very small percentage of the total budget.

Under the formula used for the distribution of sales tax revenue, Randolph should receive approximately $998,000., which is almost double the amount which would have been received under the old laws. However, to date the sales tax revenues have been most disappointing, and therefore the state reimbursement for the past year will be about one-half of that expected. It is anticipated that with a full year of operation, and through the experience gained by our state tax officials, the town should begin to receive the amounts originally estimated.

The State with its greater sources, must relieve the local communities of the burden of educational costs, particularly when the new State Board of Education begins to implement the various recommendations of the Willis-Harrington report.

This year, we have had more than the usual number of retirements:

Mr. Hubert F. Gilgan, Principal of Stetson and then Randolph High School for 33 years which were preceded by years of service at the Prescott School, and as Principal of the Provincetown High School.

Miss L. Eleanor Brewster, who was a Randolph High School teacher of English since September, 1932.

Mrs. Elizabeth Tierney, who was a teacher of many years, in the Prescott and the High Schools.

Mrs. Helen Coates, who was a primary grade teacher in the Randolph Schools, since 1953.

Miss Helen Conlon, and Mrs. Signe Heath, who were school nurses for thirty-one and for twelve years, respectively.

We wish to all of these retirees many years of happiness and good health.

The death of Miss Grace McCarthy, a teacher of English for 25 years, was a great loss to the pupils of the John F. Kennedy Junior High School as well as to her many friends, associates and relatives.

We congratulate Mr. Raymond P. McGerrigle for his 10 years of dedicated and unselfish devotion as a member of the Randolph School Committee. It is regrettable that his additional duties and physicians' advice make it impossible for him to continue his membership on the Committee.

Quality education cannot be attained without the expenditure of money, and so, despite all our efforts to be economical in every instance possible, our budgets, like those of all other communities, are constantly increasing.

Once again, I wish to express my thanks and appreciation to the members of the School Committee, who so willingly give their wholehearted efforts toward the constant betterment of our educational system.

I extend my thanks also to Mr. William J. Lynch, Assistant Superintendent of Schools, to the principals, supervisors, teachers, clerks, custodial, cafeteria and maintenance personnel, and all those employed in other Town Departments for their continued cooperation in assisting us to provide the very best educational system possible, for the children of Randolph.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS L. WARREN
Superintendent of Schools

REPORT OF THE HIGH SCHOOL PRINCIPAL

It gives me great pleasure to submit my first annual report as Principal of Randolph High School.

On August 1, 1966, I assumed the duties of Principal of Randolph High School following the retirement of Mr. Hubert F. Gilgan, who so ably served the youth of Randolph for thirty-four years.

During his distinguished career, Mr. Gilgan watched as the Randolph secondary school grew from a small six-year program with limited offerings to a large, complex, three-year comprehensive high school. Under his supervision and with his guidance, Randolph High School has been able to offer an educational program comparable to that of any modern high school.

In 1956 the high school received accreditation from the New England Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, thereby offering our students a better opportunity for acceptance in a school of higher education and indicating that our program met the needs of all of the young people of Randolph regardless of their future ambitions.

Since every secondary school must be re-evaluated at ten-year intervals for continued accreditation, the process of self-evaluation of the high school has begun with the initiation of a committee to prepare an educational philosophy for the school.

Upon completion of the self-evaluation by the faculty of the total school program and facilities, a team of educators will visit the school in November of 1967 to review the self-evaluation in light of the philosophy and make formal recommendations for further improvement.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

This year, eighteen new teachers joined the faculty; of these, sixteen were beginning their teaching careers. It is gratifying to note that these new people have and are doing an excellent job. This is largely due to the fine supervision and guidance of the department coordinators who have worked diligently with these people to provide the highest caliber of teaching for our students.

For the first time Randolph is a participant in the Old Colony League in all sports. Thanks to the coaching of Mr. Philip Saba, his coaching staff, and the football team with its indomitable spirit, Randolph captured the Old Colony League Football Championship with an undefeated season.

In our continuing effort to up-grade the curriculum, Mr. Francis C. O'Brien, Jr., Coordinator of Social Studies, assisted by Mr. Raymond Thompson and Mr. Louis A. Rizzo, worked during the summer in preparing a Social Studies Curriculum for Grades 10, 11, and 12. Unlike many of the other academic areas which are involved in curriculum programs which have received attention from national authorities, the Social Sciences have had to develop individual programs for adaptation in the local secondary programs. To this end, Mr. O'Brien and his associates have developed a program which has received the attention of department heads in surrounding communities because of its uniqueness, quality of preparation and identification with the needs of the students at all levels.

With the introduction of the Biological Science Curriculum Study program at the tenth grade level, the science department continues to offer the latest programs for the preparation of students for either life experiences or further study.

Through the efforts of Mr. Herbert Wolfer, Science Coordinator, and Mr. William J. Lynch, Assistant Superintendent of Schools, the approval of $33,560.81 for science equipment, under the National Defense Education Act, has enabled the science department to purchase equipment and materials to further strengthen our growing and fine science offerings.

The long-range plan on file with the State Department of Education calls for the further expansion of the science department involving the addition of courses and acquisition of more equipment under Title III of the N.D.E.A.

A position, long vacant, was filled with the appointment of Mr. Robert Kondracki as supervisor of Audio-Visual Aids. The addition of a variety of pieces of equipment has brought this area to a position of strength in supplementing all phases of the curriculum.

ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTY-FIRST ANNUAL REPORT

As pointed out by the Superintendent of Schools, Mr. Thomas L. Warren, in the 1965 Town Report, Randolph High School has reached the saturation point in terms of space to continue much longer to provide the best of educational programs and facilities. The student population has reached the critical stage; additional facilities are imperative.

In order to accommodate the expected school population within the next ten years, an additional plant larger than the present high school will be needed. Based upon an expected student population of 1800 students (grades 1, 2, and 3 presently have an enrolment of 1675), the projected needs indicate that the following additional facilities will be needed: 1 language laboratory, 2 typing rooms, 1 Physics laboratory classroom, 4 Biology laboratory classrooms, 3 Chemistry laboratory classrooms, 1 mathematics laboratory, 26 general classrooms, 2 Art rooms, 1 special education room, 1 Reading laboratory, 1 lecture hall, office space for three guidance counselors, expansion of the kitchen and cafeteria, office space for the coordinators, expansion of the library, 1 gymnasium, 2 Home Economics classrooms, 1 Mechanical Drawing room, and various smaller areas for specialized uses.

As in the past, I am sure that the citizens of Randolph will take the necessary steps to assure that their young people will be provided with the best educational opportunity which the community can provide by meeting the need for the required facilities to implement the excellent school program presently offered.

Respectfully submitted,

JAMES L. TOPHAM,
Principal

REPORT OF THE DIRECTOR OF GUIDANCE

It is herewith my pleasure to report to the Superintendent of Schools, to the Members of the School Committee and to the Townspeople of Randolph, on the activities of the Guidance Department of the Randolph Public Schools for the year 1966.

The patterns of education may change from year to year; the leadership to its programs may vary from time to time; but there is one emphasis which must be constant and this is that education and all of its forces must continually work towards meeting the needs of all of its students.

In our complex society of today, this is no simple task. The pressures on educational thought spring from many sources.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

Industry, business, colleges, the armed services and local demands all attempt to dictate their needs to school systems in a way that produces graduates in a mold fitting their own desires.

It is more important, somehow, in a comprehensive system such as Randolph, to eventually produce a child who is molded in an image which makes prime use of his abilities, aptitudes and interests - in a sense, a child who has gained insight and direction as a future citizen of the community.

Thus, the efforts of administration, instruction and guidance must be geared to meeting the needs of the overall school community, as they exist and of shaping the future paths of these students in a manner which honors and respects them as individuals.

To often, criticism is leveled at school systems for directing the bulk of its efforts to the gifted or to the retarded child. It is claimed by many that the average student is neglected in the clamor for special programs and that educators are not interested in the problems that are commonplace.

One of the truest assessments of this theory is a school system's drop-out rate and whether or not, the system takes constant evaluative steps to move to the areas of weakness with new and exciting programs.

Unlike many Massachusetts communities and in opposition to the alarm that has spread to many parts of the country, the Randolph drop-out rate continues to decrease each year. In the last three years it has been below 2%, while the state level is well above 4% and this year, it hit an all-time low figure of 1.3%.

In the text of analyzing these figures over a five-year period, it was determined that there was a definite type of student who fell into the potential drop-out category. Spurred by the desire of The School Committee members and Superintendent Thomas L. Warren to alleviate the situation, this Department launched a year-long study under the direction of Mr. Timothy M. Cronin and Mr. John B. Atwood.

The result of their efforts was the establishment of a Work-Study Program by the School Committee, which began in August of 1966, under the direction of Mr. Robert E. Kondracki, who was named as its supervisor, and an associate member of this Department.

The pilot project involves sixteen students in Grade Ten and is completely financed under Title I of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965. Eventually, the program will be extended through Grade Twelve and will have a potential enrollment of seventy-five students.

In essence, the concept of the Work-Study Program is to combine an academic program with vocational experience under the supervision of the School Department. The early efforts of Mr. Kondracki have been marked with enthusiasm and energy and have proven a source of satisfaction to those who urged its beginning and to those cooperating firms in the community who are participating so generously in its employment phase.

Already, attention is being lent to the possibility of establishing a correlated approach to this same problem at the junior high level and the year ahead will claim many hours of study and analysis to refining this program even more.

Counseling continues to be the key service in a good guidance program and at the secondary level, each student is seen on the average of 5.4 times a year by the members of the Staff. A statistical breakdown of this service is shown below:

Students: Grades 7 - 12 (mean estimate)			2,370

Scholarship grants to the graduating class of 1966, while not as large as the two previous classes, went into the six-figure category for the third consecutive year. Forty-three seniors received a total of $104,390.00 in financial aid. The colleges and universities awarded $69,940.00 in scholarships, $24,100.00 in loans and $2,800.00 in work grants. In addition, outside agencies contributed $1,700.00, while local scholarship programs granted $5,850.00.

In the period from 1964-65, Randolph High School graduates have received a total of $495,385.00 in financial assistance. The main significance of this figure is a tribute to the quality-type of student that the Randolph Schools produce from year to year.

The Placement figures for the Class of 1966 bear this out, also. On June 1, 1966, before graduation took place, over 95% of the Class had been placed in either a full-time position or into schools of higher education. The latter category continues to increase its claim upon the plans of Randolph High School graduates, as 59.8% of the Class went on to further education in colleges or universities (83) students); junior colleges and nursing schools (39); or to business or technical schools (54). In the view of world conditions, such a trend is likely to continue.

One of the major factors in the consistency of the Guidance Program in Randolph has been our good fortune in having a minimal turnover in Staff personnel. In the year past, there were no changes whatsoever.

Miss Winifred M. Brennan continues as Assistant Director of the program and her able efforts are complemented at the High School by those of Miss Isabelle J. Bennett and Mr. Cronin. At the junior high school level, Miss Anna K. Good and Mr. Adelino J. Bernardo are still assigned to North, while Miss Patricia E. Kennedy and Mr. Atwood are at the Kennedy.

Their efforts, both individually and collectively, are of the highest order and they reflect great credit to our system, as does the capable Staff Secretary, Mrs. Rose Simmons.

In addition to their work within the system, the Staff also assumes leadership positions in professional area organizations. Miss Brennan is now a Director of the Greater Boston Personnel and Guidance Association and continues to serve as Corresponding Secretary of the Alpha Beta Chapter of the Delta Kappa Gamma Society. Miss Bennett is a Trustee of the Massachusetts School Counselors' Association, while Mr. Atwood is Vice-President of the South Shore Junior High School Counselors' Association.

In addition, the Director serves as President of the South Shore Guidance Association and was recently named as Program Chairman for the State Convention of the Massachusetts State Counselors Association.

Transition is always a simple process when quality characterizes both ends of the spectrum. Thus, the change in leadership at Randolph High School has been marked with grace and efficiency. The retirement of Mr. Hubert F. Gilgan as Principal after a distinguished career of thirty-four years as a Randolph educator left a huge void. His attitude towards his Staff and students was always selfless and his personal and moral tones were of the highest standard.

ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTY-FIRST ANNUAL REPORT

His successor, Mr. James L. Topham, has moved into the position with ease and with a tireless approach to the many problems facing school administrators in today's complex society. His early efforts promise great rewards for the future of Randolph High School students.

The two junior high schools also have new leadership this year. Mr. Thomas F. Donohue replaced Mr. Topham at Kennedy, while Mr. Fred L. Blanchard is the new Principal at North. Both men have shown to be competent and cooperative administrators and evidence strong concern for the continuation of a meaningful guidance program in their schools.

We move now to the rigors of another year, faced with the knowledge that progress and quality are demanded in our every effort. Such a challenge is a welcome one in a town like Randolph.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM J. CASEY
Director of Guidance

REPORT OF THE NORTH JUNIOR HIGH PRINCIPAL

It is my pleasure to submit my first annual report since my appointment as principal of the North Junior High School. I greatly acknowledge the assistance and constant support of the staff and faculty. At this time I would also like to express my sincere thanks to Mr. Thomas Warren, Superintendent of Schools, Mr. William Lynch, Assistant Superintendent of Schools, and the School Committee.

As never before in the history of our country has there been as much written and said about the quality and importance of education as there is today. We in the School Department are continually evaluating and improving the quality of education that we offer to the pupils of the Randolph Public Schools.

We believe education to be concerned with the total development of the child and have so organized our educational program to afford each pupil a maximum of learning experiences. In order to realize this objective our staff has at its disposal various teaching aids and materials. The basic curriculum guides provided by the School Department, constructed under the supervision of our department coordinators, have been most effective in carrying out our objectives.

This past summer Mr. Paul Lehtinen, mathematics coordinator, with a team of junior high school mathematics teachers, and Mr. Herbert Wolfer, science coordinator, and a team of junior high school science teachers, developed new curriculum guides in their areas.

We also direct our attention to the important areas of citizenship and moral development. Pupils must learn to care for their own school materials, to observe social amenities, and to appreciate and love their American heritage. Our faculty avail themselves of every opportunity to instruct their pupils in these vital areas.

A statement concerning the Guidance Department is in order at this time. We conceive the aims of an effective program to be the provision of a variety of opportunities for each pupil to receive needed guidance and counseling; to assist the pupil in knowing himself as an individual and as a member of a group; to aid all pupils in making the most of their assets in correcting or compensating for existing liabilities, and making the most of educational opportunities, vocational aptitudes, and leisure interests.

I feel that an extensive intramural program should be implemented.

During 1967, we expect to continue our efforts to improve and strengthen all academic programs in the school. Our aim is to provide the best possible education for all children within the means provided us for that purpose.

Respectfully submitted,

FRED BLANCHARD, Principal
North Junior High School

REPORT OF THE PRINCIPAL OF JOHN F. KENNEDY JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

On February 20, 1966 formal dedication ceremonies were held in the John F. Kennedy Junior High School. The building was open for visitation by townspeople and visitors both before and after the program in the school cafetorium.

In September, school was opened for the first full academic year with 860 students in grades 6 through 9. A staff of 40 teachers serves the school.

The junior high school strives to give its students a firm foundation in the basic academic subjects, to help them to become increasingly self-reliant in the development of good study habits, to assist them in getting along with new friends and fellow students, and to encourage them in the development of new interests.

With these responsibilities in mind, a well rounded program of studies has been developed to include English, social studies, mathematics, science, foreign language, business education, music, art, industrial arts, home economics, and physical education.

The aim of all training in English expression is to give pupils the power to convey thoughts to others in speech and in writing. This necessitates practice in using the skills of reading, writing, speaking and listening both in the receiving and the giving of ideas. Grammar, literature, and composition comprise the major part of the language arts. These three phases are closely interwoven since studied alone, they are of little value. The student receives careful guidance in a structured program that makes realistic demands of him.

The program of studies in mathematics, grades 7 to 9, includes the fundamental ideas of arithmetic, algebra, intuitive and numerical geometry. These courses aim to give students a broad view of the field of elementary mathematics in order to explore their interests, test their abilities, and give information and skills most likely to be of use in vocational pursuits.

Many improvements in the science program at Kennedy Junior High School were effected during the past year. Among them was a complete revision of the science sequence for grades 7, 8, and 9, developed in the Science Curriculum Workshop held at Kennedy during the summer. The new program is more laboratory oriented - placing greater emphasis on demonstrations and individual experimentation. Of the $36,000 in science projects approved for the town through NDEA, approximately one-third was allocated for new equipment and materials in support of the new program at Kennedy. A weekly In-Service Science Workshop involving the science staff is also being conducted to insure the success of this program. In addition, an Earth Science course as a Grade 9 elective is contemplated for the coming year. This will give the ninth graders two choices in the way of science electives.

The Foreign Language program in grades 7-8-9 is showing steady progress. The audio-lingual method is employed so that listening and speaking skills may be developed at the junior high level. To facilitate the development of these skills, student take-home practice records are available in addition to a well-equipped 35 station language laboratory. Most classes spend at least 15 minutes per day in the laboratory.

Those students who begin French in the seventh grade may continue the study of this language for a six-year sequence. Nearly 50 students who were in the original seventh grade French class are now in their fifth year of French at the High School.

Latin, French, and Spanish are available at the ninth grade level for those students who wish to undertake the study of a second foreign language, or to initiate the study of primary foreign language.

Through the initiative of the subject coordinators in the basic academic areas, programs of study are under evaluation and, in cooperation with members of the teaching staff, are periodically updated.

The guidance counselors at Kennedy assist students through the administration of group tests and the interpretation of results; by advising pupils having academic difficulties, and by helping in the planning of future educational programs.

Students are free to seek out guidance services during study periods. Otherwise, appointments are scheduled by the counselors.

Group tests are given in each of the grades as follows:

Grade 7 - Stanford Achievement Test

Grade 8 - Otis Beta Intelligence Test

Grade 8 - Sequential Test of Educational Progress

Grade 9 - Differential Aptitude Test

The above tests are administered to give students, teachers and parents an understanding of individual aptitudes, interests and abilities prior to their entrance into high school.

A consultant from the South Shore Mental Health Center works with both junior high counselors and teachers in an effort to solve any special pupil problems.

Parent and faculty conferences, progress reports, a library of occupational information and college catalogues are some of the devices used by the counselors in their effort to see that each pupil derives the most from his school experience.

The efforts and cooperation of students and faculty alike are contributing to a most successful first year of operation at Kennedy Junior High School.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS F. DONAHUE, Principal

ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTY-FIRST ANNUAL REPORT

REPORT OF THE ELEMENTARY READING SUPERVISORS

In preparing the annual report of the reading department, we have paused this year to look back over the past decade, and to note, in particular the beginnings and the growth of standardization of the reading curriculum. The need and the stress for a strong phonics series led us to make a thorough investigation of many fine programs, but ultimately we chose the Hay-Wingo phonics. The success of the program over the years, has been due to many factors. Among these, was the consistent belief of the faculty in the approach of this phonics in providing the beginning reader with the tools of independence for any and all reading series.

The kinds of reading series has changed drastically over this same period, the emphasis being on a more realistic approach to the story content and an increase in the vocabulary load. No longer are the children in the Randolph Public Schools tied to a reading series, but with multiple series, we are able to provide all groups at all levels with readers, which range in kind and depth, from those which meet the needs of the average and slow learner to those which challenge the more apt students.

The pilot program initiated last year, using a new reading series with strong stress on the development of vocabulary, proved so worthwhile, we have extended the program this year, with plans to continue its expansion of use, in the future, at all grade levels. It contains a presentation of grammar and syntax which is believed to be the most modern in its use of the latest findings of linguistic science, and functionally related to the reading selections. The Language Arts material correlates with the present English series being used in the Elementary Schools, involving composition, grammar, phonics, punctuation, and sentence structure. The story content of the material is a combination of established classics and the best of contemporary writings. In the upper grades, more and more attention is given to refining reading and language arts skills in such areas as literal comprehension, interpretation, and critical reading.

We have recognized, with a periodic evaluation of the reading program, that along with group materials we must provide for the strengthening of the individual reading skills of all children. This prompted us to equip all grade levels with individualized programmed material, namely S.R.A. reading kits for all grades, and R.F.U. kits for upper grade levels. The children have demonstrated the effectiveness of the material, not only within the reading program, but in its application to the related subject areas.

Our attention over the years has been focused on building excellent room libraries, as well as expanding existing central libraries. The ultimate goal of any reading program beyond the development of the various refined skills, is to develop within the children an appreciation and a genuine interest in leisure time reading, and specifically an acceptance of good literature.

The reading program in the elementary schools has been evaluated by statistical analysis and by informal appraisal, as a successful program of high quality. The vigilance exercised by the reading department to insure the continuity of the reading levels, the instruction and supervision of teachers within the program, and the willingness to experiment with new materials has in addition to the high caliber of the teaching staff, resulted in the success formula of this reading program.

We have been and are forced to face realistically the problem of the children who transfer into the schools, and who are ill-equipped to deal successfully with the reading situation. Very often the good student may drop a whole reading level for proper placement, while the poorer student may find himself trying to compete, in spite of his inadequate foundation in phonics or his glaring weaknesses in the other skills. Thus we make every effort through the classroom teacher to bridge the gap for these pupils by means of remedial instruction, so that these children will hopefully take their proper place in the reading program.

BARBARA A. CONLEY

REPORT OF THE SCHOOL NURSES

Schools, today, have numerous opportunities to promote the health of their pupils. The school health program is a vital part of the whole educational process, and it covers a wide area including everything which affects the well being of the school child. With this in mind, our school program is planned to give the best possible health service during the school year.

Routine physical examinations were given to pupils in grades one, four, seven and twelve. All new pupils who had not been examined previously were checked by the school physicians. Students who participate in competitive school sports were also examined. All parents were notified of any defects or abnormalities discovered by the school physicians.

Diphtheria and Tetanus booster inoculations were given to those pupils in grades one, five and ten whose parents had given written consent. The inoculations are most effective in protecting the children from Diphtheria and lock jaw.

The Massachusetts Vision and Hearing Tests were administered to all pupils. Parents of children who failed the vision or hearing tests were advised to seek medical treatment.

A new audiometer was purchased and is being used in our hearing test program. There has been a change in the standards used for calibrating pure tone audiometers, and this recently acquired instrument has been calibrated to the new International Standards.

Routine procedures such as first aid, measuring, weighing and inspecting pupils were conducted. Conferences relating to health problems were held with the teachers and parents. Home visits were made by the nurse whenever a need was indicated.

Two of our school nurses retired after many years of faithful, dedicated service. Miss Helen Conlon, a school nurse for the past thirty-two years and Mrs. Signe Heath, a school nurse for the past thirteen years, retired at the end of the school year in June 1966. We wish them good health and happiness in the future.

Two new nurses joined our staff this September. Mrs. Emma Donahue, R. N. is a graduate of Quincy City Hospital School of Nursing. Her experience includes hospital work as well as Public Health Nursing. Mrs. Miriam Simmons, R. N. is a graduate of Brockton Hospital School of Nursing. She, too, has had experience in hospital work and Public Health Nursing.

We wish to thank sincerely all those who helped make our school year a most successful one.

REPORT OF THE DIRECTOR OF MUSIC

The 1966-67 school year has brought with it the return of a vocal specialist in the Elementary Schools. A vocal music teacher, Miss Kathleen Madigan, is now with the Music Department and supervises classroom vocal music in all the Elementary Schools.

The instrumental program in the Elementary schools is the same as in the past and there has been no drastic increase in enrollment. Both Mr. DeNardo and Mr. Rubino cover all the Elementary schools and each student has a homogeneous class lesson for approximately half an hour and a band rehearsal which usually lasts a half hour.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

Each school has its own band which participates in the Memorial Day exercises, Christmas programs, school spring concert, and the Memorial Day parade. The classroom instruction given by Miss Madigan is every other week with follow-up instruction by the classroom teacher. Singing, theory, music history and appreciation are all part of the curriculum.

The Junior High School program is represented by two music teachers in each school. All 7th and 8th grades have General Music Classes and there is an elective music class for Freshmen. Band now meets three times a week and chorus twice a week. There has been considerable interest and improvement in the music program at this level.

Music classes at the High School level are the same as last year. More emphasis on theory and history has increased the enthusiasm for music as an avocation.

The Band has added the football rallies to its performance list. School spirit was at an all time high and I like to believe the band had a great part in achieving this. Several students represented the Band in the SEMSBA, District, and All-State Festivals. The half-time football shows were presented at all the games and the Spring concert was well attended and greatly received, as was the Pops concert at the J. F. Kennedy Junior High. Two more graduates are now in college majoring in Music Education.

A Broadway show "Anything Goes" was presented in the Spring by the chorus. All students enrolled in any music class or organization were given the opportunity to attend an opera "La Traviata" presented by the Metropolitan Opera National Company in Boston. There were 51 who went and the response was very rewarding.

It is my recommendation that one vocal teacher be added to the Elementary school staff in order to provide increased coverage of a very essential area.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the School Committee and the Administration for their help in the past and request the same cooperation and assistance in the future.

Respectfully submitted,

LEONARD RAPOZA
Director of Music

ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTY-FIRST ANNUAL REPORT

REPORT OF AUXILLIARY PUPIL SERVICES

Additional services and extension of established services highlight the accomplishments of 1966.

Randolph has participated in the Neighborhood Youth Corps and Headstart programs with the assistance of Self-Help, Inc., the area agency charged with the responsibility for distribution of Economic Opportunity Act funds.

The Headstart Program, in its second year in Randolph, was held at the E. G. Lyons Elementary School. Miss Alice Farrell, a regular teacher at the Tower Hill Elementary School, was the director of the program which involved fifteen Randolph children. Miss Linda Mill, a student at Vassar assisted. Only children who qualified under the regulations of the Economic Opportunity Act and who were to begin school in September were accepted. As in the past, results of examinations, tests and other information gathered during the eight week program were furnished the schools as the Headstart children entered the first grade this fall.

Randolph Public Schools provided a number of work stations, as did other town departments, for the Neighborhood Youth Corps Program. Young people over the age of sixteen who qualify under the regulations set up by the Federal Government work a maximum of fifteen hours a week during school vacations and a maximum of ten hours a week while school is in session. Nine youths worked in Randolph schools at such jobs as office helper, typist, custodial assistant, receptionist and summer playground counselor. Those participating receive pay on an hourly basis. The money is paid by the Federal Government. The jobs provide valuable training in actual work situations. A pupil may continue in his job as long as he remains in school and as long as his work remains satisfactory. However if a Youth Corps pupil leaves school, he may be reemployed only if he has been without work for a period of six months and then may work in the Youth Corps for a maximum period of six months only, the object being to encourage the Corps workers to remain in school until graduation.

Under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1966, Randolph participated in a summer research project funded by Title I of Public Law 89-10. The six week program, held at the E. G. Lyons Elementary School was named STEP-UP and was concerned with the problems of communication and learning disabilities. Thirty-two children from the Belcher-Lyons district, grades one through four participated. A staff of twenty-three, including seven Randolph teachers and individuals from Lesley College, Brandeis University and the Perceptual Education and Research Center in Wellesley were involved in the program. Mr. Holmes, principal of the Lyons elementary school served as director. Findings from this program are to be used throughout the school system to assist children with problems of the type studied. All expenses of this program were paid from a Federal grant of $19,712.00.

Randolph Public Schools participated in a library book purchase program funded by a federal grant of $13,427.60, administered under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act, Title II of Public Law 89-10. Books purchased under this plan are to supplement regular school library purchases. The project is to run for a five year period. This year, books in the following amounts were purchased through this program for the schools as listed below:

Belcher	$ 400.75	Stetson	$ 786.35
Devine	1,499.45	Tower Hill	630.78
Donovan	1,082.15	Kennedy Jr. Hi.	2,364.00
Lyons	1,092.49	North Jr. Hi.	624.81
McNeill	589.37	High School	3,345.89
Profess. Lib.	298.66

It is anticipated that a similar amount will be made available to Randolph for the 1967 purchases.

Also under the same Act, Randolph is participating with seven adjoining towns in the Title III, Blue Hill Project and has furnished professional, technical assistance in the preparation of the proposal to be submitted to the Office of Education in Washington, D. C. for final approval.

Continuing programs under Special Education have shown growth consistent with the rising school population. In the interest of conserving space, the following are listed briefly:

TRANSPORTATION - Fifty-two children transported by taxi to Boston, Quincy, Milton and to schools in Randolph at a total cost of $12,560.90. All transportation contracts are awarded on basis of advertised bids or request for quotation.

EMOTIONALLY DISTURBED - Seven children in Em. Dist. Class at Donovan School; one child full time regular class; four in residential schools in Massachusetts, Ohio and Pennsylvania; two in day schools in Boston and Quincy; six receiving Home Tutoring; one pending.

HEARING HANDICAPPED - Two attending Randolph Public Schools; fourteen attending Boston School for the Deaf.

ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTY-FIRST ANNUAL REPORT

NURSERY SCHOOL - Four children attending schools at Braintree and Milton.

PHYSICALLY HANDICAPPED - Eleven children attending school at hospitals in Boston, Brighton and Canton; Twenty-seven receive Home Tutoring from twenty-one Randolph teachers.

SCHOOL PSYCHOLOGIST - Fifty-two children examined as required by State Law.

SPEECH AND HEARING - Two hundred and twenty children examined by Speech and Hearing Therapist; the maximum of 120 children allowed under State Regulations given therapy. Future plans call for a complete audiogram to be given to children where there is a suspicion of hearing or perception problem. This will be in addition to the regular hearing screening examination administered by the School Nurses.

SUMMER RECREATION PROGRAM - Seventeen children and a staff of four adults participated.

VISUALLY HANDICAPPED - Two children attending Sight Saving Classes in Quincy; one attending Perkins Institute; one child in regular Randolph classes received special books and glasses.

MISCELLANEOUS - Two children receiving concept tutoring; two children receiving perceptual training.

Four new teachers joined the Special Education staff this year. Miss Helen O'Leary, graduate of Boston College is teacher of the Educable Class and Miss Susan Alperin who graduated from Boston University is teacher of the Trainable Class, both at the Donovan School. Miss Judith Benmosche who previously taught at Arlington and Winthrop replaces Mrs. Priscilla Watson who has left the teaching profession to devote her time to her family. Mrs. Judith Scranton replaces Miss Dorothy Albert as Speech and Hearing Therapist. Mrs. Scranton is a graduate of Ohio University and has had experience as Speech Therapist in Texas and Michigan.

The Summer Recreation Program for Handicapped Children was moved from the Pauline Street School to the Lyons School where it completed its second year. Mr. George Allen, teacher at the Kennedy Junior High School was director. He was assisted by Miss Barbara Condlin, a student at Massachusetts Bay College, Miss Patricia Reid and Miss Barbara Jays. The program featured in addition to learning games, creative play activities and cookouts, field trips to Plymouth Plantation, New Bedford Whaling Museum, the Battleship Massachusetts and Benson's Wild Animal Farm. These trips were cooperative ventures with the two other summer programs, STEP-UP and Headstart operating at the Lyons School and were paid for out of federal funds.

New State Legislation has placed added responsibilities upon the Special Education Department.

Chapter 72 of the Acts of 1966 makes it mandatory that each town in the Commonwealth provide a work-study type of program for retarded children age sixteen to eighteen. Steps are being taken to implement this program.

Chapter 501, Acts of 1966 makes it mandatory for towns to transport retarded children of pre-school age to nursery schools operated by the Department of Mental Health and provides for the establishment of classes within a town if five or more children qualify for such a class. Randolph is presently providing transportation to Nursery Schools for four mentally retarded children under the provisions of this law.

Chapter 647, Acts of 1966 provides for specialized instruction and tuition for children who are found to have certain learning handicaps defined as "perceptual handicaps". This legislation is welcomed by many who have long recognized the need for assistance to these children.

It is noted that all programs operated under the Rules and Regulations of the Bureau of Special Education are reimbursed fifty percent by the State. Special Education expenditures alone, for the past year, excluding bus transportation costs, amounted to $63,948.00 while reimbursements and tuition payments to Randolph for the programs amounted to $35,107.81.

The Adjustment Counsellor Program which is certified under the Youth Service Board reports the following:

Approximately five new referrals per month were made. Forty-eight pupils received continued conseling. Twenty-three were referred to outside agencies such as the Division of Child Guardianship, Welfare Department, Family Service Agencies, family physician, Perceptual Education and Research Center, Kennedy, Massachusetts General and Childrens Hospitals and the Massachusetts Rehabilitation Commission. Six hundred and three pupil interviews were given. Forty-six case conferences were held. Twenty-six home visits were made and twenty-five consultations with individuals from various agencies were held. Monthly reports on casework must be submitted to the Youth Service Board in order that the town might qualify for State reimbursement for this program.

We wish to express again our deep appreciation to the members of the School Committee, Superintendent and Assistant Superintendent of Schools, School Nurses, Youth and Attendance Officers, Town employees, principals and teachers whose assistance, cooperation and encouragement have contributed to the accomplishments of this department during the past year.

REPORT OF THE SCHOOL LUNCH PROGRAM

This year, the National School Lunch Program observed its twentieth anniversary of serving nutritious lunches to school children throughout the nation.

During the school year of September 1965-June 1966, the Randolph School Lunch Program served a total of 422,986 meals and 1,014,848 half-pints of milk. The program has grown continually each year, serving a greater percentage of nutritious lunches and half-pints of milk to more students.

The National School Lunch Act of 1946 was created "to safeguard the health and well being of the nation's children, and to encourage the domestic consumption of nutritious agricultural commodities and other foods." This program is administered by the U. S. Department of Agriculture's consumer and marketing service in cooperation with state and local school officials.

In previous years, we received nine or ten cents worth of commodities per Type "A" meal served. This year, we have received from two to six cents worth per meal served. This difference must be made up by our purchases on the open market. Food costs have been rising continually, and it is harder to maintain the fixed cost of twenty-five cents per meal.

In October 1966, nine permanent cafeteria employees were appointed to supplement our staff, which now totals twenty-three permanent employees for the six cafeterias. These employees are paid for forty-two weeks, which includes all holidays and school vacations within the school year. Permanent cafeteria employees are appointed by the School Committee, upon recommendation of the Cafeteria Director, under Civil Service regulations. It is necessary to pass the Civil Service tests for the various positions, in order to be permanently appointed from the list. Applications should be made directly to the Division of Civil Service in the State House. The present salary schedules for cafeteria personnel are from $2,320. to $2,620 for the managers; and from $1,700. to $1,900. for the workers.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

During the past year, the lunch program expended $49,728.88 for salaries and $132,118.18 for foodstuffs and other expenses. Our cash receipts totaled $122,722.75, and the monetary reimbursement from state and federal sources was $55,293.72 for a total of $178,016.47.

We wish to express our thanks to the Randolph Police Department for another year of faithful service in transportation of our receipts.

I wish to express my thanks to the School Committee, the Superintendent, Assistant Superintendent, Maintenance and Custodial staffs, and our School lunch workers for their help and cooperation during the past year.

MARIE C. MINNICK
Director of Cafeterias

REPORT OF THE DIRECTOR OF PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Physical education is that area of education concerned with the development of physical fitness through the medium of muscle activities requiring strength, speed, agility, endurance, and coordination. Physical education also contributes to the development of desirable social and recreational habits.

The accepted problem influencing programs of physical education is two-fold: to assure that individuals in our society acquire and maintain some level of fitness, and to meet the need for the development of skills which can be applied by society as a whole for the effective use of leisure.

The child is the center of any planned program of physical education. If such a program is to contribute to effective living, there must be an extension of activities beyond the organized class period of instruction to include intramurals, recreational activities, interscholastic activities, and outdoor education.

We in the Randolph system are striving to fulfill our obligation to the child by our physical education instructors (of which there are ten) and our athletic coaches (of which there are twenty-three). These men and women have the interest of the child first and foremost in mind and they spend endless hours preparing their program.

The people of Randolph, I believe, will agree with me that the youngsters participating in football, track, basketball, tennis, baseball, and golf have indeed brought credit to themselves, their schools, and to the Town of Randolph. Many physical educators of other school systems have inquired about our program. I feel this is due to our personnel and their devotion to our boys and girls in our school system.

I want to express my appreciation to the Superintendent of Schools, Mr. Thomas L. Warren; the Assistant Superintendent, Mr. William J. Lynch, and the entire School Committee for accepting the entire Physical Education Budget that provides our boys and girls in the Randolph school system the safest and best equipment available.

"NO SCHOOL" ANNOUNCEMENTS

1. The general policy is not to cancel the school sessions except under extreme weather conditions. It is always the privilege of any parent to keep a child at home if the parent feels that it is necessary.
2. The following stations usually carry our "No School" Announcements:

Boston - W.B.Z., W.H.D.H., W.E.Z.E., W.C.O.P.
Quincy - W.J.D.A.
Brockton - W.B.E.T., W.O.K.W.

In most instances it might be better to listen to the Brockton or Quincy stations, for it is not always possible to reach every Boston station, as they handle hundreds of calls on stormy mornings.

3. When the session is cancelled, a recorded message will be available on 963-7802; however, this is but one telephone line, and it is limited greatly in the number of calls which it can handle. You should rely on the radio stations.
4. You should not call school officials, for they are busy making calls to the radio stations, the bus company, principals, etc. Rely on the radio stations for your information.
5. Do not call the Fire, Police, or Highway Departments, for by so doing, you hamper their work.

THOMAS L. WARREN

HEALTH CERTIFICATE

Children absent from school five or more days, because of a contagious disease, or because of illness of an unknown nature, must obtain a health certificate from the School Physician or their own attending physician before they may return to school.

ENTERING AGE TO GRADE ONE

A child who will reach his 6th birthday on or before January 2nd, following his entrance into school, will be eligible to enter grade one.

TERMS OF OFFICE COMPLETED

BRAINTREE	Mr. Robert J. Barrett	March-1966
-----------	-----------------------	------------

In January 1966, with the building under construction and 50% complete, this Committee realized that much had to be done to expedite the remaining preparations for the opening date, tentatively scheduled for September 1966. Equipment, staff, service personnel, textbooks and courses of study; all had to be acted upon by this Committee. Appointments for 35 teachers had to be made before June 1966 in order to allow the staff ample time to prepare courses of study and other instructional supply lists. In January, the Committee appointed the first of this staff to assist Mr. Dwyer, Superintendent, in directing orientation assembly programs throughout the twenty-five sending schools of the District.

In February of 1966, the Committee continued awarding bid contracts for approximately $650,000.00 of machinery and equipment that had to be delivered and installed in ample time for the new school year. This was a tremendous task and the Committee, already meeting twice a month, was called upon to attend additional special meetings in order to evaluate some of the extensive and extremely technical details of these equipment awards. During the months of March, April and May, instructional appointments were completed and service personnel applications were considered by the Committee. In late May, after the Superintendent and the Guidance Counselor had thoroughly canvassed the District Schools, recruiting applicants for the fall program, a policy for pupil admission to the school was ordained by the Committee.

The following factors were voted and were considered with each student application before acceptance became final:

A. Student Selection Criteria

- (1) Town Quota
- (2) Aptitudes as determined by pre-entrance tests
- (3) Sending School Grades
- (4) Sending School Appraisal
- (5) Pupil's interest and motivation factors
- (6) Course Applied for (is choice realistic?)
(are seats available?)

B. Applicants were notified by the first week of June of their selection status by one of the following classifications:

- (1) Student accepted in his first choice of training
- (2) Student accepted in his second choice of training
- (3) Student has been placed on waiting list for his choice of training
- (4) Student does not meet admission requirements at this time

The summer months of June, July and August enabled the Committee to complete appointments for clerical, custodial and other personnel. Bus contracts, equipment and other supply bids were finalized and the total September enrollment of 350 pupils was established for grades 9, 10, and 13.

In September, the District Committee, Superintendent and staff moved their office from the temporary quarters on Washington Street in Canton to the Regional Vocational Technical School site at 100 Randolph Street, Canton, Massachusetts. At the first monthly meeting held at the Regional School District Offices, the Committee voted to set September 22, 1966 as the opening day of school. Although a great deal of shop and laboratory construction had yet to be completed, the school, with all 350 pupils, did open as scheduled on September 22nd, while occupying only classrooms for approximately the first 30 days. By late October, construction was completed in the shop areas and the students were allowed to participate in their shop and laboratory programs as well. At this time, the school was unable to occupy the Cafeteria area and the Hot Lunch Program commenced the first week in December. During November 1966, The District Committee commenced preparation and planning for the 1967 Budget. It was anticipated at this time that the school would be receiving approximately 520 students for their September 1967 enrollment. Budget preparations including increases in staff, supplies, and textbook requirements were considered. In the latter part of November the Regional School Budget was made tentative and sent to the District Towns' Boards of Selectmen and Finance Committees. This Budget was presented to the Finance Committees of the District Towns at a meeting held at the Regional School Committee Offices on November 22, 1966. In December 1966, the Budget was again reviewed, adjusted and adopted as "Final". This Final Budget was then sent to the local Boards of Selectmen and Finance Committees.

The entire District Committee owes a great deal of gratitude to the various boards and other Committees which have assisted us within the past year.

Respectfully submitted,

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT-DIRECTOR OF THE BLUE HILLS REGIONAL VOCATIONAL TECHNICAL SCHOOL

To: The District School Committee
The Honorable Boards of Selectmen
Parents & Citizens of the School District

In January 1966, the major objectives of this administration were apparent. Students of eligible age who could be interested in a program of vocational or technical education, must receive ample orientation of the programs available, for in September 1966 the Regional School would open. The budget was set for 350 pupils for the first year and the instructional staff was soon to be appointed to serve such an enrollment. In February, Mr. Richard P. Pelosi, was appointed as Guidance Director for this District; together we would continue to bring notice of the fifteen varied course offerings that would be available at the Blue Hills Regional School to all the youngsters in the Region. By the end of March, approximately 75 orientation assembly programs had been held in the twenty-five sending schools throughout the seven towns of the District.

Applications were now entertained from all interested students, through an admissions procedure set up in the temporary office quarters at 533 Washington St., Canton. Seven hundred applications were processed; all 700 students were tested, interviewed and allowed to express a first and second choice among the courses available. In the month of May, all applicants were thoroughly evaluated in accordance with the pupil selection criteria ordained by the District School Committee. Three hundred and fifty students were selected from the 700 applicants in 15 different course areas for grades 9, 10 and 13. This group of applicants accepted to the school represented a cross-section of skill and aptitude ranges, from below level mechanical skill range to a high technology achievement level. In addition to the wide distribution of skill ranges accepted for admittance, consideration had to be given each town on the basis of quota, for such was the policy established by the District School Committee in the selection criteria. The very nature of the curricula programmed into these courses, allows acceptance of youngsters with aptitudes that vary in intensity from that required in the mechanical training area to the skill required at the institute level in the programs of technology and design.

In June, the first group of 35 staff members reported to the temporary office quarters in downtown Canton, to assist in the preparation of courses of study, machine and equipment installation, textbook evaluation and final instructional supply lists. By the end of June, final plans were coordinated by the Admissions Department for the 350 students accepted by the selection criteria. By July, interviews were completed for all appointments in the clerical, health, cafeteria and custodial areas. In the month of August, while interior building construction was still in progress, Department Heads reported to the building site to coordinate equipment installations. Bus routes were mapped and bus contracts were awarded. At this time, letters to release the remaining heavy equipment, were sent to various equipment warehouses throughout the Country. Announcements were sent to all students to report for the opening of school on September 22, 1966, and faculty letters instructing the staff to report on September 7th, 1966.

On September 1, 1966, the temporary district office was closed in Canton and was moved to the new school headquarters. Complete clerical, custodial and health staff reported to the new school on September 7th, and final preparations were made for opening day. The school opened on September 22, 1966, as scheduled, with the students for the most part occupying classrooms. By late October, laboratories and shops were all opened for instructional purposes and a hot lunch program commenced during November. It was anticipated at this time that the gymnasium, the last of the total plant yet awaiting occupancy, would be ready by the end of December and physical education programs could commence in full in January, 1967.

The remaining few months of 1966 were spent in final building construction, supervision of existing classes and budget preparation for the new enrollment and staff in 1967.

At this time, I would like to take the opportunity to express my appreciation for all the help given me by District Superintendents of Schools, High School Principals, Guidance Directors, Counselors, and other members of the District School staffs who assisted us in this very vital year of pupil orientation.

Again, I would like to thank the local Boards of Selectmen, their Finance Committees, and other planning committee members who assisted us in the various budget meetings that were held to substantiate this program, now fully underway.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM A. DWYER
Superintendent-Director

It was anticipated that in September 1967, the present enrollment would increase from 350 to 520 students; and, that in September 1968, the school would be at its peak enrollment of 600 pupils.

ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTY-FIRST ANNUAL REPORT

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF RECREATION

The newly created Board of Recreation held its organizational meeting in June of last year. Our first few meetings were spent obtaining information and suggestions from individuals who had participated in recreational programs and youth work in Randolph. Among those attending our meetings were Joseph Zapustas, Recreation Committee, Charles Macy, Park Commissioner, Robert Wiley, Youth Activities Committee, and the Rev. Roy Benjamin, Clergy Representative for all faiths.

Endeavoring to present a program to the 1967 Town Meeting that had been proven successful and also financially palatable, we spent considerable time gathering information from surrounding towns that have been conducting these programs for several years. Our recreation budget contains a consolidation of what we have felt are the activities that will be adaptable and receptive to the citizens of all ages in Randolph.

Long Range planning was discussed in joint meetings with the Park Commissioners and also the Conservation Commission. Cooperation was the keyword in our meetings with the School Committee. In the coming year we expect to obtain full utilization of the school facilities available. In addition to this, both boards have jointly sponsored an article in the annual town warrant which, if acted upon favorably, will significantly enlarge and improve upon existing recreation areas.

The most significant accomplishment to date by the Board of Recreation has been the opening of the teenage youth center at the American Legion Hall. Working in conjunction with the CYO Youth Center at St. Bernadettes, we now have hours available for both the Junior and Senior High. Average weekly attendance to date has been approximately 600. We wish to take this opportunity to publically thank the volunteer chaperones who have made this possible, the students, themselves, whose conduct has been exemplary, and the organizations without whose financial assistance, we would not have been able to open the center.

REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE STETSON FUND

During the year of 1966 we have continued to progress returning your town hall to the condition of repair that is necessary in order that it will serve the town for a great many more years.

We caused to have torn down and removed the old wooden fire escape that was condemned as a hazzard some time ago. The exits to this fire escape had to be sealed off in such a way that they would resemble part of the building itself and not show up like a sore thumb spoiling the appearance.

We further completely restored the back porch and entrance of the building which was in need of repair and was a continual hazzard to all who used it. This will now last a great many more years.

We had to completely repipe the oil burner system from the outside tanks supplying the storage of fuel. The old pipes that had been in the ground for years had rotted through and had to be dug up and replaced with new pipes. Again, this should take care of this for a great number of years.

We have finished stripping all the floors and refinishing them. Many of the tiles had to be replaced with new ones where they were badly worn. All floors are now in excellent condition.

We have continued with the policy of installing air conditioners as requested by the Board of Selectmen and this year installed two new air conditioners--one in the Collector's Office and the other one in the Assessor's Office.

We have remodeled the Assessor's Office making more room and better conditions to enable this department to better serve the townspeople.

We feel that a word of praise is due here to our Custodian, John Cullen, on the exemplary job that he is doing. Everything is kept clean and shining and he is always ready, day or night, Sunday or holiday, anytime that his presence is needed for any emergency. We are indeed fortunate to have this type of man on the job.

Although a great deal has been accomplished, a lot remains to be done. The outside of the building has been allowed to deteriorate over a period of years and is in very poor condition. The time has come when immediate repairs must be made. We have carefully gone into the various possibilities of the necessary action that must be taken this coming year. We have put out application for bids on repairs and painting and also for the installation of aluminum siding with several contractors, and have found that the lowest bids that we feel are reliable for painting would run approximately $5,000 and up. Aluminum siding would run approximately $10,000 and up.

It is the feeling of the trustees that by far the better advantage to the townspeople would be to apply aluminum siding which would renew the outside of the building for many many years to come (there is a twenty year warranty). Painting would at best be a period of approximately five years. We feel that the intelligent thing to do is to install the aluminum siding. Therefore, we have placed an article in the Town Warrent asking for the sum of $10,000 for this work to be done.

We also have one other large project that we feel is necessary to really put your Town Hall in excellent condition and that is the painting and refinishing of the various offices inside the hall itself. We hope to get some of this work done this year and complete it the following year. When these various objectives are accomplished, we will have a Town Hall that we can all be proud of and will serve the town for many more years to come; eliminating the necessity of a new Town Hall.

Respectfully yours,

JAMES P. MORIARTY,
Chairman
CLARA NICKERSON,
Associate
PAUL CONNORS,
Secretary

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

REPORT OF THE SCHOOL PLANNING AND BUILDING COMMITTEE

The John F. Kennedy Junior High School was dedicated February 20, 1966. The Dedication Day address was given by the Honorable James A. Burke, Congressman from our district.

On September 19, 1966 at a Special Town Meeting an additional $225,000 dollars was voted for the twenty five classroom school to be built on the Courtney Property, due to the high cost of materials, labor and the Vietnam situation making the total cost $1,802,500.00.

At a joint meeting with the school committee it was unanimously voted to name this school The Martin E. Young Elementary School. Mr. Young was a former State Representative and Selectman. A Town Official who was beloved by all the citizens of Randolph.

On September 19, 1966 at the Special Town Meeting, the Town Meeting members voted to allow the joint committee to seek Federal Funds from Public Law 560 for plans, specifications and architectural fees for a new addition to the present High School. Both Committees now find out that this program is a revolving fund and with government red tape and Randolph population size it could delay the High School two years or more.

So therefore, the School Committee or School Planning Committee will sponsor an article at the regular town meeting in March for monies for plans, specifications and architectural fees for the addition to the present High School.

The School Planning and Building Committee would like to at this time extend our thanks to Mr. Raymond P. McGerrigle, a former member of this committee and present Chairman of the School Committee, for the many years he has given his dedication and devotion to the School System and to the Town of Randolph.

The Martin E. Young Elementary School is going to schedule and should be completed by September 1967.

The Balance $1,200,033.57.

The Balance at the John F. Kennedy Jr. High School, $395.75.

The Balance of the Committees Expense Account is $1,644.89.

The School Planning and Building Committee would like to thank all the town departments for their help and fine cooperation during the past year. Also our thanks go to Tedesco Associates, Architects, Rocheford Construction Co., Inc., Natick, and to our Clerk of the Works, Mr. Walter Hearn.

ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTY-FIRST ANNUAL REPORT

We also gratefully acknowledge the help and assistance given by Superintendent of Schools, Mr. Thomas L. Warren, Mr. William J. Lynch, Assistant Superintendent of Schools, and Mr. Bruce Dunbar, Administrative Assistant.

ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTY-FIRST ANNUAL REPORT

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF HEALTH

REPORTABLE DISEASES

There were 191 cases of communicable diseases and other health conditions reported to the Board of Health, as follows: Chicken-pox, 18; Dog bite, 158; German measles, 1; Hepatitis, 1; Meningitis (Pneumococcal), 1; Mumps, 5; Salmonellosis 4; Scarlet fever, etc., 6; Tuberculosis, 4; Measles, 1. Additionally reported were 1 Cat bite and 1 Bat bite. When compared with the incidence reported during 1965, these data represent an overall decrease of approximately 38 percent in reportable diseases.

CLINICAL PROGRAMS

Mental Health. During the first seven months of the year, a total of 639 interviews for the benefit of Randolph residents was reported by the South Shore Mental Health Center; this number represents an increase of 317 (98.4%) compared with same period in 1965. It should be noted that the appropriation for these services was exhausted by mid-year; nevertheless, the South Shore Mental Health Center continued providing the interviews during the balance of the year at no cost to the Town. The South Shore Mental Health Association has submitted an estimate for 1967 of over 1,000 interviews at a cost of $8,763.00.

By letter dated September 6, 1966, the South Shore Association for Retarded Children informed the Board of Health that the Town of Randolph became affiliated with the South Shore Association; this represents the successful culmination of several years of effort on the part of those concerned in providing more satisfactory arrangements for the care of Retardates in Randolph.

Tetanus-Diphtheria Inoculations. Clinics for administering tetanus-diphtheria toxoid to adults were held April 17, May 15, and June 19; six hundred fifty-two inoculations were given.

Measles Inoculations. Clinics for immunization against measles of children between the ages of 9 months and 9 years were held July 12, 19, 26 and October 18; a total of 439 children was inoculated with the measles vaccine (Schwarz strain).

Cancer Detection Program. Through the cooperative efforts of the Board of Health, the practicing physicians of Randolph, the Massachusetts Division of the American Cancer Society and the Massachusetts Division of Adult Health, a Cancer Education and Early Detection Program for Women was conducted from June 1 to August 16. A total of 80 women participated in the program; laboratory results prompted follow-up procedures by the physicians and Public Health Nurses in 41 cases. Cost of the program was $1,183.88, reimbursable to the Town.

Influenza Inoculations. On October 19, 66 members of the Senior Citizens group were given inoculations of influenza vaccine. On October 26 and November 30, 120 Town Employees were given a total of 147 inoculations of influenza vaccine.

School Immunization Clinics. The Board of Health furnished supplies and other logistic support for diphtheria-tetanus booster inoculations for children in grades 1, 5 and 10 in six schools; 620 injections were administered. Ninety other children had recently been inoculated; parents of one child refused permission for the injection.

Biologic Supplies. Over 4,500 vials of biologic products and other supplies were obtained from the Massachusetts Institute of Laboratories and elsewhere for issue to Town physicians and for use in immunization clinics.

HOSPITALIZATION SUBSIDIES

Tuberculosis. Four tuberculosis patients were hospitalized for a total of 237 days through October. One-half of the hospital fees, for which the Town of Randolph is responsible, amounted to $2,948.03 through October. In February, the Town's share of the per diem rate for hospitalization was reduced from $13.70 to $13.29.

Premature Infants. Hospital fees in the amount of $1,080.00 were paid for care of two premature infants; one-half of this amount ($540.00) was reimbursed to the Town by the State.

MEDICARE PROGRAM

By letter dated August 11, 1966, the Social Security Administration accepted the Board of Health as the Randolph Home Health Agency under the Medicare Program; effective date for provision of home health services was established as August 11, 1966. Conditions for participation as the Home Health Agency required the provision of two types of home health services; the Board of Health met the requirement for provision of Skilled Nursing Service by virtue of three qualified Public Health Nurses. The second requirement was met by providing Physical Therapy Service by a qualified Physical Therapist under contract with the Board of Health; this agreement was signed by the parties concerned on October 25, 1966. By letter dated July 14, 1966, the Massachusetts Department of Public Health awarded to the Board of Health a Developmental Grant of $500.00 for the purpose of adding the services of a qualified Physical Therapist to the staff of the Home Health Agency. By letter dated October 24, 1966, the Massachusetts Blue Cross acknowledged its nomination to serve as the administrative and fiscal intermediary for the Board of Health within the provisions of Title XVIII of the Social Security Act.

Beginning August 11, 1966, under the Medicare Program, Skilled Nursing Services have been provided to 50 patients requiring a total of 637 home visits. All home visits require certification, and-recertification by the patients' physicians.

ENVIRONMENTAL SANITATION

Connection to Public Sewerage. Legal orders to connect their dwellings with public sewerage were issued to 13 residents. It became necessary to resort to court action in two bases; in both instances, the Court upheld the orders of the Board of Health and the required connections were subsequently made.

Individual Sewage Disposal Systems. Two hundred forty local sewage disposal permits were issued; 183 of these were for new installations and 57 were for repair or alteration of existing systems. A revision of Article XI of the State Sanitary Code relative to such systems became effective on August 15, 1966.

Inspections of 127 local sewage disposal systems were made; more than one inspection was necessary in several instances to allow corrections of deficiencies.

Complaints. Four hundred ninety-seven complaints of alleged public nuisances and health hazards were received and investigated and appropriate actions taken; the majority of offenders made necessary corrections when requested to do so.

Thirty-seven legal notices ordering abatement of nuisances were issued; compliance resulted in the majority of these cases.

Food Service Establishments. Forty food service establishments met the minimum sanitary requirements and obtained the necessary permits. Ninety-nine sanitary inspections and visits were made and 186 utensil swab specimens were taken for laboratory study.

Waste Disposal. Services under a new rubbish collection contract began June 1 and those for the Sanitary Landfill started July 1. Performances under these contracts, as well as that for garbage collection, have been satisfactory.

Livestock. Seventeen licenses were issued to owners of horses and other livestock. Premises of three residents failed to meet the minimum Board of Health requirements for stabling of horses and the owners were forced to remove the animals.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

Swimming Pools. One permit for operation of a semi-public swimming pool was issued. A new Board of Health Regulation governing the installation or construction of residential swimming pools became effective January 13, 1966; twenty-two permits were issued for this purpose.

Nursing Homes. At the request of the Massachusetts Department of Public Health, two Nursing Homes were inspected for compliance with Sections 72-73, Chapter III, of the General Laws.

Day Care Agencies. At the request of the Massachusetts Department of Public Health, seven Day Care Agencies were inspected for compliance with Sections 58-62, Chapter III, of the General Laws.

A new Board of Health Regulation relative to multiple family dwellings became effective March 1, 1966.

PLUMBING INSPECTIONS

By letter dated November 29, 1966 the Board of Health applied to the State Board of Plumbing Examiners for variances in the new Uniform State Plumbing Code; the variances requested were to allow the Water Department and the Sewer Department to continue their practices of many years of supervising and controlling installations and repairs in their respective fields. By letter dated December 2, 1966, the State Board of Plumbing Examiners granted the requested variances.

Three hundred seventeen permits were issued for various installations as follows: water closets, 542; sinks, 407; wash-bowls, 546; bath tubs, 382; pressure boilers, 111; shower baths, 22; sewer connections, 71; wash trays, 56; laundry connections, 14; washing machines, 4; water heaters, 59; dish washers, 4; urinals, 26; disposal, 1; drinking fountains, 16; floor drains, 33; slop sinks, 12; roof leaders, 13; tankless, 23. The dogs and cats were held for observation after having bitten humans; the cow was quarantined for suspected tuberculosis. The heads of two dogs were forwarded to the Wasserman Laboratory for study to determine whether the animals were rabid; both were negative.

All barns in Randolph were inspected; the animal census showed 29 cows, 45 horses, 4 goats, and 14 sheep. All cows were tested for brucellosis with no reactors revealed. It became necessary to destroy 1 horse. There were no cases of encephalitis in horses during 1966.

Four hundred fifty-two calls were investigated during the year; the calls were received from the Board of Health, Police Department, Boston Health Department, Massachusetts Division of Livestock Disease Control, Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, and the Pet Placement Supervisor of the Boston Animal Rescue League.

MILK INSPECTIONS

There were 88 licenses issued during the year as follows: Ice Cream, 1; store, 44; oleomargarine, 29; milk vehicle, 14. Approximately 70 milk inspections were made; some of these were repeated due to unsatisfactory conditions for milk storage. Several laboratory tests of milk samples were made due to consumer complaints.

PUBLIC HEALTH NURSING

Three Public Health Nurses continued to provide professional nursing care to those Town residents who required such services. These services included bed-side care and treatment as directed by the physician, instruction to others in the household for care of the patient, prenatal and postnatal care and instruction, pre-school follow up of children, care and instruction relative to communicable diseases, and various aspects of adult health supervision; these duties required a total of 994 home visits. Initiation of the Medicare Program in Randolph resulted in 839 home visits. Other nursing activities included assistance at the Well-Child Clinic; diphtheria-tetanus immunization clinics for adults, measles inoculation clinics for children and influenza immunization clinics for Senior Citizens and Town employees. Additionally, transportation was provided for patients when necessary, and responses were made to Police calls as required. These activities required a total of 510 hours. The total number of nursing care visits to townspeople was 1,670.

REPORT OF THE PLANNING BOARD

We herewith submit a report of the activities and happenings of the Planning Board for the year 1966.

1966 has been a year of progress in the future development and planning of the town. Your Board feels that it has been watchful in their recommendations of changes in Zoning ordinances with the Town; that any subdivisions approved have had to comply most strictly to the rules and regulations as laid down by our rules and those of the Massachusetts Subdivision Control Laws, and we further feel that this Board has at all times considered the welfare of the Town as the primary reason for any and all decisions.

The following is a breakdown of the activities of the Board during 1966:

Planning Board meetings held	34
Public hearing held:
1. On proposed subdivisions	10
2. On proposed Zoning articles	16
Number of Subdivisions approved	6
Number of Subdivisions disallowed	5
Plans rejected or referred to other Boards	8
Plans approved other than Subdivisions	49
Preliminary plans submitted	7
1. Lots included in Preliminary Plans	435
Meetings with other dept.	8
Site Inspections	18
Meetings of Park Commissioners	10

During the past year, the Park Commissioners have met with Whitman and Howard Planning Consultants for the purpose of developing a suitable park that would enhance the Town of Randolph, to include swimming pool, bath house, tennis courts, basketball courts, picnic tables and fireplaces, pavillion, pond development for ice skating and children play area, and aprking facilities for the area.

The Edwin C. Soule Park was donated in 1966 by the David Soule family for future park development, this area is under study at the present.

REPORT OF THE SEWER COMMISSIONERS

The Board of Sewer Commissioners are pleased to announce that Public Sewerage has been made available to additional streets and that some chronic problems have been alleviated.

Jean Circle, Short St., Ward St., Moulton St., Cottage St., School St., Nelson Drive, Belcher St., Roel St., Mt. Pleasant Sq., sections of Allen and Liberty Sts., have been added to the system.

Due to the amount of streets involved and the large amount of rock encountered, the bid amount of Contract #12, exceeded the appropriation. We have, however, stayed within the appropriation.

The Sewer Commissioners would like next year to complete the remaining streets under the existing contract, if, the Town Meeting will allow.

Over two and one-half miles of laterals were installed this year, with an additional one mile of 6" service connections.

Sewerage is available to over one thousand homes in Randolph.

The Nite Soil Chamber was constructed this year, in the Town Yard. The former dumping facility was temporary and the permanent unit should reduce the maintenance cost of cleaning the main line.

In 1967 it is our intent to extend the line from Pleasant Street along the railroad tracks to Highland Ave., up Highland Ave., so as to connect the Martin E. Young School, presently under construction.

Due to the length of the job and the depth of the pipe the Sewer Commissioners are requesting $350,000.00 in order to complete the operation and allow the school to open on time.

Respectfully submitted,

Board of Sewer Commissioners

GROVE STREET RECONSTRUCTION

At the request of the Board of Selectmen, the engineering department surveyed prepared layout drawings, conducted public hearings, estimated land taking areas for Assessors valuation, prepared contract plans and specifications, conducted public bidding, staked out and supervised the reconstruction of Grove Street between Cross Street and Grove Lane for a distance of approximately 1,000 lineal feet. This reconstructed section of roadway has a traveled way of 30 feet with a bituminous concrete roadway surface 3" in thickness and a bituminous curb and gravel sidewalk area along both sides of the finished roadway. Drainage construction was required to properly drain this section of reconstructed roadway, and the finished roadway section conforms in all respects to the rules and regulations of the Randolph Planning Board with the exception of bituminous concrete sidewalk surfaces which could not be installed due to limitation of construction funds. Construction costs were approximately $26,000.00 half of which was obtained from a federal grant. The finished roadway has corrected a particularly hazardous section. It is hoped that this roadway may be extended during 1967, with the cooperation of the Town Meeting body in voting funds.

I would like to express my personal thanks to all Town officials and other department personnel for their whole hearted cooperation with the engineering department in completing the many projects outlined in this report.

Respectfully submitted;

JOHN E. LEVREAU, P.E.
Town Engineer

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF PUBLIC WELFARE

The activities of the Welfare Department during 1966 have never been equalled in terms of rapid sociological changes resulting in the implementation of a new Public Welfare program, effective September 1, 1966 alternately called Medical Assistance, Medicaid, or Title XIX of the Social Security Act. The provisions and eligibility factors of Medicaid are the most liberal of any of the five Public Welfare programs administered at the local level. An employed husband, living with his wife and eight dependent children, may qualify for Medicaid (medical expenses for his children only, or to include himself and his wife if "categorically related" to another Welfare program) if his net annual income is $8,208.00 or less.

From an economic standpoint, just where this and/or other Federal Welfare programs will lead is not too optimistic at the moment. Even though Medicaid was operative for only the last quarter of 1966, the total medical costs increased 32% over 1965, from $174,505 to $230,453. The cost of caring for our recipients in licensed nursing homes is the highest single item in the whole medical field. In 1963 the total nursing home bill (just board and nursing service) was $64,408; in 1966 this figure increased to $121,280 almost 100%. A saving feature in this program is the 50% Federal reimbursement for all monies expended for medical costs only plus two-thirds State reimbursement of the non-Federal share. Total amount expended under the MA program for 1966 was $190,960; total Federal and State reimbursement was $162,399 or a net cost to the local taxpayer of $28,561.

Medicare became effective on July 1, 1966. Its provision for "Extended Care Facility" (somewhat comparable to nursing homes) becomes effective January 1, 1967 and is assumed to have little immediate effect on budgetary reduction due to a restrictive clause that stipulates that a person must be hospitalized for at least three days and be admitted directly to an Extended Care Facility. The majority of our aged recipients are admitted from their own home directly to a nursing home without limitation of length of stay in said institution.

Effective 1-1-66 nursing homes were classified according to standards made by the State Department of Public Health resulting in differing per diem rates for Welfare recipients. The majority of our fifty-eight nursing home recipients are in homes that charge $7.86 per diem ($2,868.90 per annum) and $8.86 per diem ($3,234.00 per annum). The current highest per diem rate is $9.59 or $3,500.35 per annum in which we have less than a handful. It is anticipated each of these rates will be increased during 1967.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

Effective 1-1-66 rest home (for custodial care recipients) rates were increased from $4.25 per diem to $4.75 per diem (from $1,551.00 to $1,825.00 per annum) and it is likely these will be increased also.

Effective 3-1-66 the State Standards of Assistance (individual recipient budgets) pertaining to Old Age Assistance and Disability Assistance were completely revised in that the various assistance plans were consolidated into three groups rather than seven or eight groups resulting in increased expenditure approximating $15,000.00. Effective 4-1-66 the State Department of Public Welfare caused all local Welfare Departments to increase all categorical individual and family budgets, with the exception of the then MAA program, from a 36% cost-of-living figure to 39.49%. Effective 7-1-66 medical fees for doctors (General Practitioners only) for home and office visits were increased from $5.00 to $7.00 and $3.00 to $5.00 respectively.

Effective 10-1-66, in the program of Aid to Families With Dependent Children, a new "Simplified Assistance Table" consisting of four main Groups was instituted resulting in slight increases and with liberalization of the amount of money an employed child under the age of 18 may keep for his or her personal needs -- $50.00 net per month to be disregarded and not adjusted to the family budget. In December, 1965 under the AFDC program, we aided 35 families and 103 children; in December, 1966, 48 families with 120 children.

Because of these and other accelerated changes, necessitating many more detailed reports to the State and Federal agencies, we have requested a third clerk-typist be added to our staff. Miss Rosemary Holub, social worker, resigned on 12-31-66 and transferred to the Cohasset Welfare Department. A requisition for her replacement to the State Civil Service has been issued. Board Member, William Hardy was elected to three year term at the Annual Town Election on 3-7-66.

ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTY-FIRST ANNUAL REPORT

REPORT OF VETERANS' SERVICES DEPARTMENT

To the Board of Selectmen:

As Veterans' Agent and Director of Veterans' Services, effective January 3, 1967, I am pleased to submit the report for the year ending December 31, 1966 on behalf of William S. Cole, Veterans' Agent and Director of Veterans' Services for the Town of Randolph who retired December 31, 1966.

With the Settlement Law requiring five (5) years residence in the Town being abolished on April 1, 1966 this department increased its work load by eleven (11) permanent recipients of Veterans' Benefits, mostly transfers from the City of Boston. The number of veterans and their dependents who were aided during 1966 varied between a low of 78 to a high of 104.

On December 8, 1966 any veteran of the Armed Forces who served over 181 days in the service since January 31, 1955 became eligible for Veterans' Benefits. I might explain to your Board and residents of Randolph that the funds used for assisting a veteran in time of need does not come from the Federal Government. This is solely a State Program, with the Town of Randolph and the Commonwealth of Massachusetts each assuming 50% of the cost.

On October 26, 1966 a state of emergency was declared by the Board of Selectmen for the Veterans' Services Department because the funds appropriated were depleted. This was due to increase in the number of veterans being aided, hospital, nursing homes, rest homes, increasing their rates, retroactive to January 1, 1966, budget increases and costs of Medicare and Blue Cross payments.

On November 1, 1966, William (Bill) Cole was honored at a testimonial dinner at Valle's Steak House in Braintree. Over 350 people came to this affair to wish "Bill" good luck and many happy years of retirement. The main speaker for the evening was Congressman James A. Burke. Bill was presented many plaques and a purse of money.

The new G.I. Bill, under Public Law 89-358, was signed by the President on March 3, 1966. This law provides educational, Loan Guaranty Benefits, VA hospital treatment, Civil Service preference and other benefits to veterans who served in the Armed Forces more than 181 days after January 31, 1966.

I anticipate an increase in claims and other benefits as a result of this new law.

In closing I wish to thank the Board of Selectmen and all town officials for their help and assistance during 1966.

Respectfully

JAMES M. HURLEY
Director, Veterans' Services

REPORT OF THE COUNCIL ON AGING

During the past year Federal, State and Local Governments have enacted new or furnished additional information of numerous programs beneficial to our elderly citizens.

Medicare became effective July 1, 1966 and on January 1, 1967 those enrolled in the Medicare Hospital Insurance Plan will be eligible for the newest post hospital benefit called "Extended Care".

This service will be provided in extended care facilities which meet the requirements established by the U. S. Dept. of Health, Education & Welfare.

These nursing homes and other establishments so approved will offer up to 100 days of skilled nursing service following hospital stays of at least 3 days. The first 20 days of Extended Care will be entirely covered by Hospital Insurance, while the patient will pay $5.00 per day for an additional 80 days. However, the Medicare Patient eligible for such care must have been hospitalized for a period of not less than 3 days, not more than 14 days previous to his or her admission to a nursing home. The patient's extended treatment must be for the condition which caused him to be hospitalized or for a condition that developed after his admission to a nursing home. The payments for the benefits are clearly designed to cover the costs of continuous medical progress, not long term illness without improvement. Domiciliary or custodial care will not be covered by the Extended Care Plan. The need for such treatment must be certified by a physician, who recommends admission for convalescence or improvement.

Requirements for approval of such facilities have been of very high standards and some nursing homes are experiencing delays in approval until the standards are met.

On May 9, 1966 a Senior Citizens' Day Celebration was held at the John F. Kennedy Junior High School, with Rev. Arthur Bowler giving the Invocation and Rev. Roy Benjamin the Benediction. Mr. George Welch, Chairman of the Randolph Council on Aging acted as Emcee and presented a very fine evening of entertainment. Present were members of the Board of Selectmen, Executive Secretary, Mr. Henry L. Lowd, other Town Officials, Sen. James R. McIntyre of Quincy and Rep. James Mullen of Milton. Rep. Ralph W. Cartwright, Jr. of Randolph was the speaker of the evening and delivered a very interesting and informative address on the benefits to the elderly citizens.

The Council on Aging has respectfully requested the Low Cost Housing Authority to start as soon as possible to plan for an additional unit of 50 apartments for the elderly of the Town.

This report would not be complete if we did not publicly express our sorrow at the sudden death of our Chairman, George N. Welch. He was most highly respected as a public spirited citizen of the Town of Randolph. He held many elective and appointive Town positions, was a World War I Marine Veteran, member of the Federal and State Bar, Chief Counsel for the U. S. Veterans' Bureau and friend of the aging. His passing was a great loss to the Town of Randolph and its citizens. Our sincere sympathy is extended to his wife and family.

The Council would be remiss in its duties if it did not pay tribute to the splendid cooperation which has been given in behalf of our elderly citizens by merchants, citizens and elective and appointive Town Officials.

Let's all continue to work for greater cooperation in the year ahead for the benefit of our elderly.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS J. DWYER, Chairman
RANDOLPH COUNCIL ON AGING

REPORT OF THE CIVIL DEFENSE AGENCY

Your Civil Defense Agency has made marked improvement in its preparation for any situation involving the lives and property of the people of Randolph.

Our uniformed Auxiliary Civil Defense Police have had excellent instructions from Lieutenant Condlin of the regular Randolph Police, during this past year. They have demonstrated the benefit of this instruction by assisting in traffic control under the direction of Chief Macauley during holiday traffic and on special occasions on night patrols, preventing vandalism, and during the very dry periods, checking indiscriminate use of water. This extra curricular duty is valuable as a training adjunct in the performance of their duties. Should an emergency of major proportions occur when life and property will be affected.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

Because of the rapid growth of population in Randolph it is necessary that increased activity of the Civil Defense organization must provide implementation of all facilities for protection of its people.

The warning system is about 85 percent efficient at present due to new areas of development where additional services are needed, as the Tower Hill section and the north east section nearest the Braintree line.

The 200 bed, emergency hospital unit is complete with refrigerators for proper temperature of medicine, generators for x-ray, and cots and blankets for patients.

Communications are in excellent condition and ready for immediate use. Transportation because of close liaison with Civil Air Patrol is in readiness with ambulance, trucks, personnel carriers and portable generators for lighting the Town Hall and principal intersections as well as the Nike site.

Classes of instructions are held weekly and bi-monthly in First Aid, Communications, Administration and medical health, Civil Defense Auxiliary, Fire in conjunction with the regular Fire Department. All Departments of the Town will have emergency assignments during a major emergency to make an effective recovery from any disaster.

Although Civil Defense is considered as a major unit in National Defense, public participation in its activities are far below what is needed to make it a real efficient organization against chaotic conditions and panic; and destruction of life and property during a national emergency. In Camden City, New Jersey, participation by the public was less than 1% of the total area population during an alert exercise. In our Randolph Civil Defense unit we are trying by example to decrease population apathy to the extent that in time of need all our people will have the benefit of a well trained Civil Defense organization for their protection and quick recovery from any emergency.

REPORT OF TREE AND MOTH DEPARTMENT

I herewith submit my report as Tree Warden and Moth Superintendent for the year of 1966.

The regular program of repairing storm damages, trimming and removal of dead and dangerous trees was carried on during the year. As this work is spread over one hundred and twenty miles of road it limits the amount of work to any one street.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

Forty-Five dead trees were removed during the year and a great many more pruned. These trees were replaced where possible with new ones.

Road sides, School Yards and playgrounds are sprayed to eradicate poison ivy.

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts, through its insect pest control Department has notified this Department that our liability for Gypsy work for coming year of 1967 will be $3,400.00.

Respectfully submitted,

REPORT OF THE DOG OFFICER

There were a total of 1814 complaints answered and investigations made at the request of the Police Department, Society for the prevention of cruelty to animals, Animal Rescue League of Boston, the School Department, the Town Clerks Office and the citizens of Randolph.

One Hundred and fifty-nine (159) dog bites were reported to the dog officer in 1966, on each bite report we must act according to law and take the following action.

1. Quarantine the dog.
2. Report incident to the State Division of Livestock Disease Control.
3. Report to and work with the cooperation of the Randolph Board of Health.

Disposition of dogs were as follows:

52 dogs were put to sleep (destroyed) as results of accidents.

33 dogs were turned over to the Animal Rescue League of Boston.

22 dogs were sold and the fees turned over to the Town Treasurer.

166 dogs and ten (10) cats were picked up by the dog officer, kept in custody and returned to owners in Randolph and surrounding communities plus the city of Cambridge. Of the dogs picked up 70 were unlicensed and the owners were forced to license the dogs before they were released.

24 Gas bombs as a deterrent against bad and vicious dogs were purchased and distributed to others as a protective measure. Also 2 crate carrying cases for small animals & cats were purchased.

8 Conferences were held with the Board of Selectmen.

3 Conferences were held with the Town Clerk & Staff.

500 Cards were sent out to delinquent dog owners, these cards are sent out at the direction of the County Dog Officer and the Dedham Superior Court. Dog licenses are due and payable on April 1, 1967 and to eliminate a card being sent from the above court; to a person who might have disposed of their dog during the year, it is earnestly requested that you notify the Town Clerk's Office, you no longer have a dog. This is the only way the records can be true and accurate. Please cooperate in this matter.

41 Cases were received to investigate at the request of the Society for the prevention of cruelty to animals and the Pet Placement Supervisor of the Rescue League of Boston. 3 Cases were presented at Quincy Court and, at Dedham Superior Court.

Dog Licenses sold in Randolph in 1966 were as follows:

997 males - This is the highest in the history of Randolph.
134 females
661 spayed females
16 kennels
1808 TOTAL

Though the above figures show an increase of roughly 100 new licenses over the previous year, it must be understood that with the increase in population so to do we have an increase in the number of dogs: and a relentless effort will continue to be extended, so as to have all dog owners comply with the law and purchase dog licenses.

All dogs three months of age and older must be licensed.

In the 1965 report I asked for the cooperation of parents to please see to it that the dogs (family pets) were not allowed to follow the children to school and create dog packs and endanger the lives of the children. I wish at this time to thank the citizens for their cooperation, in the past year and again request their cooperation with the dog officer and the school officials in 1967.

When you see a car at your home with the license plate RRRF, be assured the dog officer has arrived.

To the citizens of Randolph:

In accordance with the provisions of Article III of the By-Laws for the government of the Trustees of the Turner Library, this ninety-first annual report is submitted to show the condition of the Trust- the Library, the building and funds-for the calendar year 1966 and to mention such other matters concerning the library as may be of general interest.

It has been deeply gratifying to the Trustees as I am sure it has been to the Librarian and her Staff to begin to serve the library needs of Randolph residents at the new Turner Library building. After occupying temporary and woefully inadequate quarters ever since the old library building was destroyed by fire on December 6, 1962, the move into this spacious, new building was most welcome. The only disappointment about the "opening" on September 6, 1966 was the fact that furniture for the new building, scheduled for August delivery would be considerably delayed in arriving. However, delivery of these furniture orders and completion of a few other details are expected daily. This should complete the building project.

The Trustees of the Library directly and indirectly have received many favorable comments about the new library building- not only its general appearance inside and outside but also regarding the good quality of the program prepared by Mr. Joseph Wheeler, Consultant, of the plans and specifications drawn up by Walter M. Gaffney Associates, Architects and of the workmanship of the L. C. Blake Construction Company, the General Contractor. Mr. Walter M. Gaffney and Mr. Hugh Blake devoted much personal time to be certain that all aspects of the job were done well and as promptly as possible and the Trustees wish to acknowledge and thank them for their fine cooperation from beginning to end.

Although the last of the bills in connection with the new building's construction, equipment, furnishings and landscaping have not yet been received it appears to the Trustees that the balance of funds available will be sufficient to meet any remaining obligations. A more detailed report of the income and expenses will be made available at a later date.

With this fine new building-provided largely by funds derived from the original donors of the library, supplemented by Federal Funds and the helpful contributions of many civic minded individuals and organizations of the town-the residents of Randolph now have one of the several important fundamentals of good library service.

In addition to an up-to-date building, the Trustees firmly believe there also must be (1) a good collection of books and other materials for use of children, young adults; (2) hours of service that meet the needs of townspeople; and (3) an adequate staff to handle the work involved.

With respect to books, the limited shelf space at the library's temporary quarters effectively discouraged for several years the purchase of more than the most needed volumes. Furthermore, the Trustees have been notified by the State Board of Library Commissioners that in order to qualify for the annual State Grant for public library assistance for 1967 (currently at the rate of 25¢ per capita-based on the 1960 census) towns the size of Randolph, will be expected to devote at least 15% of the library's total expense budget to the purchase of books and magazines. This compares with the standard of 13% in effect this past year. Undoubtedly when this "standard" was established, the State Board of Library Commissioners had in mind public libraries that have been serving their Communities with long-standing collections of books and periodicals. In view of this, the Trustees have felt that the Turner Library's proportion of book expense to total budget should be even greater than the 15% "standard" mentioned earlier in order to begin to "make up" for some of the many books lost in the fire.

Hours of service at Turner Library have been increased, beginning January 3, 1967, from 44 hours to 50 hours per week by extending the closing hour on the first four days of the week to 9:00 pm and on Saturdays to 5:00 pm--as shown at the head of this report. Here also, this "standard" should be met if Turner Library is to qualify for the annual State Grant mentioned earlier.

Finally it clearly is not possible for a library to provide good service to the patrons of its community without having enough people on the Staff-adequately trained and experienced people-to do the job. Libraries everywhere today, however, are having great difficulty in finding qualified people for responsible library assignments. The high rates of pay offered to the newest library school graduates are an indication of this shortage. The Trustees are proud of Turner Library's present staff-both individually and collectively; nevertheless, with the continued growth of the town and with the increasing requirements of library service, the Trustees are aware of the urgent need of a qualified First Assistant Librarian on the staff as well as of an additional General Assistant. Although funds have been budgeted in previous years for the employment of a First Assistant the amount so budgeted has not proved to be attractive to any of the persons interviewed. Therefore, the budget figure for this expense for 1967 has been increased to the point where it should result in the hiring of a desirable candidate and immediate steps are being taken to this end.

This then is the look ahead-the needs and plans of the Turner Library for the coming year: new books in greater numbers, more hours of service to the public, a slightly increased staff to handle the work involved. The Trustees are hopeful that these objectives will meet with the approval of townspeople and that the funds for their accomplishment will be made available.

This past year in many ways has been a most difficult one for all members of the Library Staff and on behalf of the Trustees I would like to take this opportunity in closing to express appreciation to Mrs. Faulkner and to all who have worked with her during 1966 for their splendid efforts and cooperation throughout the year.

It is pleasing to note that the fine spirit of service that has brought a number of favorable comments from townspeople, is fast becoming a tradition at Turner Library.

Appended as a part of this report are separate reports of the Librarian Mrs. Lucia S. Faulkner and the Treasurer of the Trustees of the Library, Mr. John L. Porter.

1966 REPORT TO THE TRUSTEES

"How did 'they' ever get this large a library on such a small lot?" Not once, but literally a hundred times has this question been asked of us by those who watched the excavation for and construction of the new Turner Library. So a 21-gun salute is in order for the library consultant, Mr. Joseph Wheeler, for the architect, Mr. Walter M. Gaffney, and the Walter M. Gaffney Associates, for the Board of Trustees and the members of the building committee, for the L. C. Blake Construction Co., and for the many others who worked so harmoniously together in the conception and realization of the beautiful building at Crawford Square. Particularly from the northern approach does the wide sweep of glass invite attention to the sense of openness, spaciousness, beauty and taste. The impact at night with the library flooded with light has been the consistent theme of visitors and borrowers. Randolph residents are in the happy position of having a splendid building - functionally practical within, but one into which people step and spontaneously breathe, "Oh, it's beautiful, just beautiful!" Neighboring towns have expressed sincere admiration.

Let's go back. Despite the very crowded conditions, activity slowly increased at the temporary quarters. A trickle of gift books continued to come in, and again the Merchant Marine, Morgan Memorial, and Salvation Army were the recipients of those books which were many times the duplicates of titles already in the collection. Mention herein of the very appreciative letters from these organizations is with the purpose of assuring donors that their gifts were not lost in the shuffle, but were of use - here or elsewhere.

After what seemed to us an interminable wait, a tentative moving period was chosen and it was decided to keep the library open for service to the last possible moment, if the staff could do the packing and unpacking of the books. If so, this would also cut the moving costs in half, and professional movers would be needed only for the actual physical move of furniture and cartons of books to the new building. This meant that rather than being able to create a logical plan for a sustained and systematic packing job which could simply be reversed at the new library end, we should have to estimate those sections on which the least call would come and "cartonize" them. It also meant that the staff and organized disorder would live intimately for some time. Well - we had lived through a fire, hadn't we? But the public was patient through it all and moving day eventually came. The library closed two days before the move; the movers were courteous and thoughtful; and eleven days later, service to the public was begun. Opening day - September 6 - saw hundreds of visitors, borrowers and "sit-in" readers; and in addition to the many books returned, one thousand one hundred and ninety-nine books were issued!

Over-committed furniture manufacturers nation-wide were unable to meet many of their contracts on time, so Turner Library was only one of several new libraries to be without new furniture on opening day, or indeed for some time after. So pending furniture arrival and very reluctantly we postponed "open house." The furniture which has been loaned to the library subsequent to the fire three and a half years earlier had to be spread out to the point of lonesomeness, but without these pieces, finally supplemented by some from Boston University (thanks to Mr. Henry Lowd's intercession), we should have had a grim time functioning. A living room chair from one, a desk from another, a card table ensemble, some terrace chairs, etc., helped the make-do furniture picture; and paint, varnish and elbow grease helped in avoiding color clash.

So what all do we have to show for 1966? 1) The building! 2) A circulation of 106,820 books - an increase over the previous year of nine thousand six hundred! 3) An addition of 4,438 volumes to the collection, making a total collection to date of approximately 28,357 books, this figure including gift copies. The present very high cost of books, of course, precludes the possibility of that figure representing the purchasing power of the book budget only. 4) Two thousand nine hundred thirty people registered for library cards, 1,860 of whom were new borrowers. This means that 40.2% of Randolph's population has library cards. 5) We now have a book deposit into which books, accompanied by the borrower's cards, may be dropped during hours when the library is closed- an accommodation long desired by library patrons. 6) A meeting room, accommodating about 100 people, and designed for library programmed meetings, plus occasional meetings of civic groups with programs geared to a library tie-in; and finally for story hours for the children. 7) Some fourth grade classes in the new building for library orientation talks, as well as visits from pre-school groups, to implant the library image early and properly. 8) perhaps more than anything in the operative end of the library to gladden peoples' hearts was the announcement in the papers of the increased library hours, effective January 3, 1967, adding one half hour onto the evening schedules and on the Fall-Winter Schedule lengthening Saturdays to 5:00 P.M., as well as some readjusted service in the Children's Room in the evenings.

Tempering everyone's exuberance in the beautiful new surroundings and glimpses of the various services which can gradually evolve once the library's "shakedown cruise" is over, is the absolute necessity to remember that to have those new books that people want, they have to be bought! To have the extra servicing so desirable, it has to be paid for! To have those additional hours of service that are wanted, the building has to be manned! A library "to be manned" means manned with personnel meeting the minimum standards, at least, of the Massachusetts Library Association - i.e., some individuals with some library science training, and some with library science degrees. And how do we get them? By offering salary figure of sufficient inducement to attract that help to Randolph and away from the other hundreds of library positions OPEN in Massachusetts alone! This requisite, then, is the important ingredient for an all-time record for 1967!

ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTY-FIRST ANNUAL REPORT

REPORT OF THE PERSONNEL BOARD

The Personnel Board is responsible for the administration of the classification and compensation plan for the employees of the town. There are approximately 145 employees who come under this classification. The Board operates as representative of the citizenry of the town in its relationship with its employees; the answer to, "what to do" in a given case, is provided by the Board's view of the collective policy of the town's people.

In order to carry out its function effectively, the Board has followed the policy of fostering a close working relationship with the town employees. We must be aware of the problems in order to recommend practical solutions, not only to the employees but to the citizens of the town who are paying their salaries.

The five man board held its annual reorganization meeting in May, 1966, and elected the following officers: Chairman, David J. McGill; Vice-Chairman, Dr. William D. Leavitt; Clerk, Marjorie E. Conley; James F. Clark and Hyman Finn. The Board met on 18 separate occasions. 64 petitions presented on behalf of town employees were acted upon by the Board.

In addition to its normal personnel functions in 1966, the members of the Board were collectively appointed negotiating agents by the Board of Selectmen specifically assigned to negotiate labor contracts with duly organized groups within the town's labor structure, exclusive of school personnel. The enabling legislation covering collective bargaining for municipal employees was approved by the State Legislature in 1965 and 1966. In accordance with these Acts, three labor groups were subsequently organized by the town's non-school employees, representing: (1) Fire Department (2) Highway and Water Departments (3) Police Department. Prior to the Annual Town Meeting to be held in March 1967, labor contracts will have been negotiated with all three groups. These contracts will also have been approved by the Board of Selectmen and considered by the Finance Committee and by the citizens of the town at a public hearing. The Town Meeting will provide the final decision on the articles concerning the contracts.

As a member of the Mass. Municipal Personnel Boards Association, the Board sent one of its members to the 1966 Annual Conference, which dealt solely with collective bargaining procedures and ramifications. At the end of the year, the Board had completed 11 weeks of active labor negotiations, in addition to many hours spent gathering necessary information and statistics on all aspects of the municipal employment picture.

A note of appreciation must be given to the following: to Town Counsel William Carr for interpretation of numerous problems; to Henry Lowd, Executive Secretary and Town Accountant, for his agreeable assistance and attendance at many of the Board's meetings: to the Board of Selectmen; to Evans Associates, management consultants; to Mass. Municipal Personnel Boards Association for continuous help; to other cities and towns for cooperation on surveys; and last, but not least, to the town department heads.

REPORT OF THE RANDOLPH HOUSING AUTHORITY

To the Honorable Board of Selectmen:

Since our last report was written in November of 1965 for the Annual Town Report, the Randolph Housing Authority has seen the proposed 48-unit and community building low-income Housing Development For the Elderly in Randolph transformed from preliminary application and subsequent plans into actual reality, with the commencement of construction at the proposed Mill and North Street site in late November of 1966. The final application was approved by the Division of Housing in December of 1965, subject to certain conditions being met by our Authority. One of these conditions was that the appropriate zoning change be obtained for the proposed site so that these apartments could be constructed for the elderly citizens of Randolph. In January of 1966, the Randolph Housing Authority went before a Special Town Meeting, requesting that a new zoning classification be established in Randolph, namely, "Business HA", and that the proposed site be re-zoned to this new classification. The reason for this was that the zoning classification of the land was residential and, in order to build apartments, it would have to be re-zoned to business, which the abutters were not in favor of, as they were afraid that if something ever happened to the apartments a business zone would be established there for whatever business the owner might wish to conduct. This new zoning classification and re-zoning of the land to Business HA was approved unanimously by the Special Town Meeting, and now the only purpose for which this site can ever be used is low-income Housing For the Elderly, under the control of the Randolph Housing Authority.

ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTY-FIRST ANNUAL REPORT

This zoning classification was subsequently approved by the Attorney General's Office and, in March, the Housing Authority received the bond issue from the State in the amount of $675,000.00, and was authorized to have the architect proceed to submit preliminary plans and to have an engineering survey conducted upon the land. In July, the land was taken by Eminent Domain and the Authority met frequently, through the Summer, with the architect so that his final plans could be submitted to the State Division of Housing.

In October, the final plans were approved and we were authorized to go to bid and, in early November, when the bids were opened, the low bidder was Concrete Construction Co. of Everett, Inc., who had done other State-Aided Projects For The Elderly in Massachusetts, and whose bid was approximately $45,000.00 under the architect's original estimate.

Construction subsequently began in late November and our Ground-Breaking Ceremony was held on December 8, 1966. At this time, we feel hopeful that this Development For our Elderly Citizens of Randolph will be completed in the early Summer of 1967, and ready for full occupancy in the Fall of 1967.

Although we are pleased with the progress that has been made in behalf of our elderly citizens during the past year, it is with a certain amount of sorrow that we look back and realize that, during the year, there have been changes in the make-up of our Authority, namely, the fact that two of our Chairmen passed away during the past year. In December of 1965, our Chairman, Rev. Walter K. Lyon, passed away suddenly and the Authority operated without a replacement for him until after the Town Election, when His Excellency the Governor, John A. Volpe, appointed Lawrence W. DeCelle to complete the remainder of Rev. Lyon's original 3-year term. In September of 1966, Rector Lyon's successor as Chairman, George N. Welch, passed away and Edward C. Hoeg was the unanimous appointee of the Housing Authority and the Board of Selectmen to succeed him. The Authority deeply misses both men, as they had both been very active in the original Study Committee that prevailed upon the Town Meeting to authorize a Housing Authority and to authorize construction of the low-income Development For The Elderly in Randolph. During the Annual Town Elections in the Spring of 1966, all the original appointees by the Board of Selectmen to the Authority were successful in the town-wide election, with James W. Brennan winning the 5-year term, Henry J. Rota winning the 4-year term, George N. Welch winning the 2-year term, and John J. Coppinger winning the 1-year term.

The Randolph Housing Authority, early in the Spring of 1966, voted to name our first Development For the Elderly in Randolph, the Rev. Walter K. Lyon Memorial Housing Development For The Elderly. This Development will consist of six (6) buildings, with eight (8) units in each building, and a Community and Recreation Building, which will have all the modern recreation and utility facilities for our elderly citizens. The Development is designed to house approximately 96 of our elderly citizens, and, as we write this report, we have received authorization from the State Division of Housing to submit an article for the Warrant of the Town Meeting in March of 1967, asking that an additional project be authorized of 75 more units. As this report is written, we anticipate that by the time our next report is written, this Development will be fully occupied and we will be thinking in terms of planning our second low-income Housing Development For The Elderly in Randolph.

TOWN OF RANDOLPH, MASSACHUSETTS

The Randolph Housing Authority would like to thank all the Town Officials, Departments, and Boards, that have cooperated with and aided them during the past year, but for whose help we certainly could not have made the progress that we have made.

Respectfully submitted,
